Coal Strike View Wins Support

All Parties and Public Will Approve Necessary Steps, Declares Hammond

Asserts Right to Supply of Fuel Transcends Claims of Mine Disputants

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SWAMPSCOTT (Mass.) July 26.—If the coal miners strike, President Coolidge will have the united support of all political parties and of the public generally in taking whatever steps may be necessary to maintain an uninterrupted supply of fuel.

This was the opinion expressed here today by John Hays Hammond, chairman of the Fact Finding Commission created during the coal mine strike of 1923. Mr. Hammond has been at White Court several times recently discussing with President Coolidge the course to be pursued by the administration to prevent a mine tie-up and fuel famine. Mr. Hammond holds that the right of consumers to a continuous supply of fuel is paramount to the rights of operators and miners and that as a last resort the government would be justified in assuming control of the mines in order to maintain uninterrupted production.

INTERPRETS STAND

"The President's position, as I interpret it," said Mr. Hammond, "is that it would be premature to assume this dispute is not going to be settled within the industry. He has advocated repeatedly a policy of the minimum amount of interference on the part of the government with industrial affairs. The public should grant with patience every opportunity to the parties at interest to settle the controversy themselves. If by any chance, however, occasion should arise for President Coolidge to exert his influence in an effort to compose the situation I believe he would rally public support as have few other Presidents. He enjoys public confidence and affection such as has no other chief executive since the days of James Monroe and the "era of good feeling." Should the time come to act the President will find all political parties united behind him on the principle that the public's right to a continuous supply of fuel transcends the private rights of either capital or labor.

CIVIL WAR NAVY HERO IS CALLED

Rear - Amiral Whiting, Cited by Farragut for Valor, Dead in Berkeley

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 26.—Rear-Admiral William Henry Whiting, 82 years of age, who was cited by Admiral Farragut "for gallant conduct in the burning of the blockade runner Ivanhoe under the guns of Fort Morgan July 5, 1864," died suddenly tonight at his home, 1317 Arch street, Berkeley.

Admiral Whiting, who participated in the Battle of Mobile Bay and hauled down the Confederate flag and raised the Stars and Stripes, had retired from the Navy July 8, 1905, after serving as commandant of the naval training station in San Francisco from 1903 to 1905.

The distinguished naval officer was born in New York July 8, 1843, and in 1860 was appointed to the United States Naval Academy from Wisconsin, graduating in 1863.

He rose steadily in rank and served on the Hartford in the West Gulf blockading squadron from 1863 to 1865. Whiting also was at the bombardment and surrender of Fort Morgan August 24, 1864, and later served on the battleships Kearsarge, Frolic and Ticonderoga in the European squadron.

FRIENDS GRIEVE FOR BRYAN

His Honesty, Freedom From Scandal, Faithfulness to Convictions, Recalled as Marks of Greatness

Forgetting his stormy political career, and dwelling on the lovable qualities of the man, prominent Southern Californians yesterday paid tribute from their hearts to the memory of William Jennings Bryan. Men who in the past had differed with him on national problems, members of his party who frankly admitted he had repeatedly split the Democratic ranks, called "the Great Commoner" their friend, and in his death felt a personal loss.

His incorruptible honesty, the fact that scandal had never touched his name in more than a quarter of a century of public life, his willingness to fight to the finish for his convictions, the sincerity of his beliefs, and his tireless championships of the right of the masses were recalled repeatedly by those who had known him closely in political and private life.

Following are a few of the expressions given to The Times last night by men whose relations with Mr. Bryan had been many and varied:

William Gibbs McAdoo, former Secretary of the Treasury: "In the death of Mr. Bryan the country has lost one of its outstanding figures. For a generation he has been one of the most conspicuous of our public men. He was unusually gifted and whether men agreed with him or not, they could not fail to respect his character, his courage, his loyalty to principles and his steadfast support of every moral issue that has arisen during his career. He was an outstanding progressive.

"He sponsored and championed the woman suffrage and prohibition amendments to the Constitution and had them written into the organic law of the land. As Secretary of State he devoted his skill to plans for permanent peace—to which he made a distinct contribution. He despised crooked bosses in the Democratic party and he loathed the unclean and corrupt political machines in both political parties.

"The bosses hated and reviled him in turn but their disapproval was in itself a badge of honor. In the Democratic National Convention in New York last year few will forget the insult to which a ruffian in the gallery subjected Mr. Bryan and none will forget his magnificent defiance. There is an impression among many people, due to consistent misrepresentation of Mr. Bryan by his political foes, that every act of his was dictated by personal interest. But nothing could be more unjust. Mr. Bryan was essentially sincere and devoted to public interests. I can illustrate his sincerity by one thing that he said to me when he resigned as Secretary of State. He asked me to ask as a friend of the President and himself in the conversation that culminated in his resignation. I had pointed out to him that it was a grave mistake to take the course that he had determined upon; that I thought his position untenable; that the country would not accept his view, that I believed it would destroy him politically.

"He replied: 'You are right. I

ANDREWS FACES BUSY WEEK

Prohibition Field Marshal Pressed for Time in Preparation of New Liquor Program

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Assistant Secretary Andrews tomorrow will begin one of the most strenuous weeks of his career as the Treasury's prohibition field marshal. Indications today were that he will be occupied with probably a week long conference with his advisers and prohibition officals from various sections of the country from whom he hopes to gather definite ideas about conditions.

Decision to delay the operation of the reorganized enforcement program until about September 1 as announced yesterday, has given the chief enforcement official more time with which to do the job he had set out to do, but he made known that he had plenty of work cut out to take up all slack time in advance of the effective date of the reorganization.

Convinced that his new program will stand or fall on the ability of the men he chooses to fill the posts of prohibition administrators for the twenty-four districts, Mr. Andrews accepts this phase of his task as of first importance. He is using a fine-toothed comb on the life record of every man who gives promise of being fit for one of the administrative posts and who can be persuaded to join the organization and is asking each of his callers about certain names on the list to get all shades of opinions.

Thus he figures he can find the proper men to handle the different problems of the several districts and will avoid attempting to force a square peg in a round hole.

Mr. Andrews regards the appointment of the administrators as doubly important, since each is to be made to shoulder full responsibility in his jurisdiction and further, because each will be given a free hand to pick his subordinates. There will be no interference from general headquarters in the choice by the administrators of the group heads and field staffs, Mr. Andrews asserted. He desires the question of responsibility for enforcement be carried down the line so when leaks occur, headquarters here can put its finger on those who failed to function.

BRYAN'S LIFE IN POLITICS

Power Broken at Bay City

No Democratic Successor in Sight to Take Place of Great Commoner

Personal Following in All States Still Factor to Be Reckoned on

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, July 26.—The political powers of William Jennings Bryan, although he had the rare distinction of running three times for the Presidency, were waning rapidly of late years. But although his leadership of the Democratic party was broken definitely in the national convention in San Francisco in 1920 when he was defeated in his efforts to have a dry plank included in the platform, he continued to wield an enormous influence in the political thought of many thousands of voters and no party oracle or political spell-binder of anything approaching his caliber appears on the Democratic horizon to succeed him.

Having become a permanent legal resident of Miami, Fla., he was elected from that State as a delegate to the Democratic convention in this city in the summer of 1924. He took a prominent part in the long drawn-out proceedings in Madison Square Garden, but his influence was small when compared with his position at previous conventions of his party.

He was simply a part of the drive for William G. McAdoo, but his advocacy of the nomination of McAdoo had no effect in breaking the deadlock, which continued for two weeks between McAdoo and Gov. Alfred L. Smith of New York. At that convention he was dwarfed by a half a dozen political figures. The bitter contest ended when the

'GREAT COMMONER' SUCCUMBS IN BED AT DAYTON, TENNESSEE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

DAYTON (Tenn.) July 26.—William Jennings Bryan, three times Presidential nominee of the Democratic party, and known the world over for his eloquence, died here this afternoon.

The end came while the great Commoner was asleep and was attributed by physicians to apoplexy. He had retired to his room shortly after eating a large dinner to take a short rest. Mrs. Bryan sent the family chauffeur, Jim McCartney, to wake him about 4:30 and it was learned then that he was dead.

Dr. W. F. Thomason and Dr. A. C. Broyles, who examined the body, expressed the opinion Mr. Bryan had been dead between thirty and forty-five minutes before they arrived.

The death occurred in the residence of Richard Rogers, which had been assigned to the Bryans during their stay here.

Funeral arrangements had not been completed late tonight, but Mrs. Bryan indicated interment would be in Arlington Cemetery. Mr. Bryan, who was a colonel of the Third Nebraska Volunteers during the Spanish-American War, on several occasions, had expressed a desire to be buried in Arlington.

ON EVE OF CRUSADE

Mr. Bryan's death came on the eve of another crusade he had planned to carry before the American people—a battle against modernism. He returned to Dayton this morning after having made addresses yesterday at Jasper and Winchester, Tenn., and after having completed arrangements for the early publication of the speech he was to have made in closing the trial of John T. Scopes, who recently was found guilty of violating Tennessee's antievolution law.

Despite the strenuous program Mr. Bryan had been following as a member of the prosecution staff in the Scopes case, and as leader of the fundamentalists, he appeared in excellent health.

Shortly before Mr. Bryan entered his room to rest he told his wife he had never felt better in his life and was ready to go before the country to wage his fight in behalf of fundamentalism.

About 4:30 o'clock Mrs. Bryan said she felt her husband had slept long enough, so she sent the chauffeur, who also was his personal attendent, to wake him. McCartney shook Mr. Bryan twice before he noticed the latter was not breathing. The physicians and A. B. Andrews, a neighbor, then were summoned hurriedly.

MRS. BRYAN BRAVE

Mrs. Bryan accepted the shock bravely and remained calm.

"I am happy that my husband died without suffering and in peace," she said.

"You know he was a colonel in the Spanish-American War and since it was his wish to rest in Arlington we probably will place him there," she continued. "But no definite decision will be reached until we hear from William Jennings Bryan, Jr."

Sue K. Hicks, who was associated with Mr. Bryan in the recent trial, and Andrews remarked upon Mrs. Bryan's courage, as she took charge of arrangements. "During all the excitement, Mrs. Bryan was the calmest person in the house," Andrews said. "She took complete charge of affairs and showed more nerve than I have ever seen in a woman—and she is an invalid too."

George W. Rappleyea, who instituted charges against Scopes in order that the antievolution law might be tested, was among those who called to express sympathy to Mrs. Bryan. Hundreds of telegrams and long-distance calls of love and sympathy were received at the home.

As for Dayton, the town found it almost impossible to realize that the Commoner was dead. During the morning many of the citizens had seen him at the Southern Methodist Episcopal Church and

FIND TOMB THOUGHT TO BE DAVID'S

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

JERUSALEM, July 26.—Discovery of what it is hoped may prove to be the long sought tomb of David was announced today by Rev. J. Carrow Duncan of the Palestine Exploration Fund.

Rev. Mr. Duncan states that the excavations at Ophel brought to light on the western side a series of underground rock-cut chambers, comprising a large central room with fine smaller chambers, five feet in size, leading into two rooms, each fifteen feet by eight. These again lead into similar narrow chambers each with smaller chambers cut into its walls.

Tool marks on the walls are of the iron age period and not earlier than 1200 B. C. There is a similar series of rock chambers and galleries on the eastern side of Ophel, entered from the face of a rock scarp under the Jebusite east city wall and closed by a curious stone door. It is considered not impossible that this constitutes David's tomb and the probability is that both sets of parts constitute a series of royal tombs. Its series is much abused by later usage, first as an olive press and as store rooms in the Byzantine period, then as cisterns by Arabs.

France to Deal With Britain on Funding of Debt

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PARIS, July 26.—Negotiations to fund the French debt to Great Britain will commence tomorrow. Two French delegates, M. Moreau-Neret, an official of the Finance Ministry, and Thion De La Chaume, a bank director, who is a former official of the Finance Ministry, went to London today and if they are able to reach an agreement Joseph Caillaux is going to London at the end of August to finish the negotiations.

The delegation going to Washington early in September consists of Henry Berenger, chairman of the Senate Finance Commission; Henri Franklin-Bouillon, chairman of the Chamber of Deputies Foreign Affairs Commission, and Joseph Simon, general secretary of the Society Generale, one of the biggest French banks. M. Caillaux will follow later.

It is not known how M. Caillaux plans to find money to pay the interest on these debts.

WIDOW REVEALS ROMANCE

Mrs. Bryan Says Father Agreed to Her Marriage When Commoner Quoted Scriptures

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, July 26.—Of her life's one romance, that which developed the purely sentimental side of her character, Mrs. William Jennings Bryan once wrote charmingly.

"My personal knowledge of Mr. Bryan," she said, "dates from September, 1879. I saw him first in the parlors of the Young Ladies' School which I attended in Jacksonville, Il., He entered the room with several other students, was taller than the rest, and attracted my attention at once. His face was pale and thin; a pair of keen, dark eyes looked out from beneath heavy brows; his nose was prominent—too large to look well, I thought. A broad, thin-lipped mouth and a square chin completed the contour of his face.

"He was neat, though not fastidious, in dress, and stood firmly and with dignity. I noted particularly his hair and his smile, the former, black in color, fine in quality, and parted distressingly straight; the latter expansive and expressive. In later years this smile has been the subject of considerable comment, but the well-rounded cheeks of Mr. Bryan check its onward march, and no one has seen the real breadth of the smile who did not see it in the early days. Upon one occasion a heartless observer was heard to remark 'that man can whisper in his own ear,' but that was a cruel exaggeration."

"Many persons have remarked upon the fondness Mr. Bryan

BRYAN EAGERLY AWAITED ANTIEVOLUTION CRUSADE

had heard him lead in prayer. He appeared in excellent health and his friends expected him to place in his battle against modernism all the vigor and eloquence which marked all his campaigns since the famous "Cross of Gold" speech.

UNUSUAL VIGOR

In his addresses at Jasper and Winchester yesterday, Mr. Bryan spoke with unusual vigor as he was encouraged by the applause of the hundreds who heard him. Last night he returned to Chattanooga and while there completed arrangements for the early publication of the speech which was to have been delivered during the Scopes trial.

Early today he joined A. W. Lesly, Vernon Keith and Miss Bettie Harms at breakfast before leaving for Dayton.

Lesly accompanied him to Dayton and while en route Mr. Bryan talked on various topics of the day and of the appeal to be made by Scopes to the Supreme Court.

In all the history of American politics there are few names which carry that luster of spectacular effort which has become a part of the memory of Williams Jennings Bryan.

His life for almost thirty years was a panorama of national sensations, piled one upon the other. At 36 years of age, he became almost overnight not only the leader of his party but the idol of millions. Three times he carried the party standard as its choice for the highest office of the land; in another Presidential year, 1912, he reaped much of the credit for placing Woodrow Wilson in the White House, and in almost every other national Democratic convention in a generation he was in the very center of every storm that came.

LEADERSHIP RECOGNIZED

As a recognition, many said, of his long leadership, President Wilson made him Secretary of State—a post from which he resigned two years later, under the most sensational of circumstances because he felt the nation was verging toward participation in the European war. World peace always had been his passion in his earlier years, just as in his later days he made the espousal of religion his all-absorbing concern, and turned his talents to an attack on evolution.

Throughout all his active years, his followers clung to his standard in unswerving devotion, for the man and his ideals, while his enemies reviled and hated him, calling him ignorant and misguided in both his economics and his religion. His great power of eloquence, which first brought him to a place of national prominence, remained unimpaired for many years, but toward the last his old-time brilliance on the platform and the stump began to dim perceptibly.

Although he found time for many venturesome excursions into other fields, politics was his forte, and the story of his life work is almost a history of the national political campaigns that began when the Chicago Democratic convention of '96, stampeded out of a deadlock by his "cross of gold" speech, made him its candidate for President.

Bryan went to that convention as editor of the Omaha World-Herald and a former member of the House, but was entirely unknown to any considerable portion of the rank and file of his party. Nevertheless, he took with him an unfaltering faith in his destiny and as the leading candidates—now forgotten—began to muster their strength for the fight, he turned to some of his intimate friends in the press stand and remarked that he himself would be the nominee of the convention.

SETS CONVENTION WILD

None of them believed him, and very few believed that he was speaking seriously. It was but a few hours later that he set the convention wild with his speech for free silver, and that night a group of delegates hired a band and went to serenade him at the old South State street hotel, where he was staying.

He rose from his bed, slipped on a pair of trousers over his night shirt, and in bare feet received his visitors with a warm hand-clasp and a smile that soon was to become famous the world over.

His first campaign against McKinley was epochal for his fiery earnestness, and not until the votes had been counted did he believe it possible that he could be beaten. In 1900, with McKinley again for his opponent, he adopted "Imperialism" for his paramount issue, and for a second time stumped the country in a vain effort to reach the great goal of his ambition.

After this second failure, many of the leaders within his party turned away, and the nomination four years later of Alton B. Parker was a bitter disappointment to him. In that convention he made a spectacular fight against the forces that he declared were handing over the party to Wall street, delivering a speech which was regarded almost universally as the swan song of his career. Yet, in another four years the pendulum had swung back again and he was nominated as the opponent of William Howard Taft.

The part he took in the Baltimore convention of 1912 was of a piece with the spectacular strain that ran through and through his whole career. Rising on the convention floor at a time when his long-time friend, Champ Clark, was within reach of the nomination, he denounced the Clark forces for accepting the support of Tammany and declared Wall street as trying once again to fasten its talons on the Democratic party. The reaction to Wilson, who had been running well behind, was instantaneous, and Bryan was one of the first to be named to the Wilson Cabinet. The breach between Bryan and Clark never was bridged.

OFTEN UNDER ATTACK

As Secretary of State, he came under attack many times; was ridiculed by many both at home and abroad for his policies, but always was loyally supported by his friends; and finally made his exit from the Cabinet rather than sign a note to Germany, prepared by Mr. Wilson himself, on the submarine outrages.

It was after a long talk between the President and the Secretary that the resignation was announced. Summoned to the White House on a bright June morning, Mr. Bryan entered the President's private office unruffled, apparently believing that by throwing his powers of persuasion on the scale he could convince his chief that the note should not be sent. After they had talked for an hour, Mr. Wilson pressed a button on his desk and a negro usher entered to find the President calm and silent, and the Secretary nervous and voluble.

When it was brought, Bryan's hand was so unsteady that he upset a part of it as he raised it to his lips. He demonstrated later in many ways that he had been cut to the quick by his failure to avoid what he believed was a war-like gesture by his country and by his parting from the man he had helped lift up into a greater leadership than he himself had been able to attain. He did not oppose Mr. Wilson's renomination in 1916, but the party candidates of 1920 and 1924 were chosen over his opposition. He went on a vacation trip during most of the campaign of James M. Cox, but he took the stump for John W. Davis in 1924.

BONE-DRY FIGHT

At San Francisco in 1920, however, most of his energies were directed toward the writing of a platform rather than the choice of a candidate. His fight this time was for a bone-dry plank, and he took the Speaker's stand in its espousal. In old-time form, his face shining and his eyes alight, he sent his rounded periods rolling and rollicking through the great convention hall and when the speech was ended the delegates gave him an ovation that lasted for an hour. His intimates said that, until the vote was taken, he firmly believed that once more he had stampeded a national convention; but it was only the tribute of a party for an old and tried friend, for the plank he advocated was lost overwhelmingly.

Even more spectacular was his part in the New York convention of just a year ago. A member of the subcommittee which drafted the platform, he was in the thick of the fight over the League of Nations and the Ku Klux Klan. At the end of one futile all-night session of the subcommittee, when the members had agreed to separate for a few hours' rest, he rose in his place at the committee table and asked his colleagues to remain for a moment while he led in prayer. Then with bowed head he asked Providence for guidance in the dark hour of dissension and bitterness.

Later he took the floor before the convention, on one occasion to defend William G. McAdoo and on another to oppose a plank condemning the Ku Klux Klan by name. But for the first time he had found a Democratic convention he could not quiet. Applause, mingled with hisses and boos, came both from the floor and the gallery. His delivery lacked the fire of other years, and his presence the command that was its wont. Only once or twice was there a flash of the old-time brilliance, as when he took up the challenge of a spectator who applauded his remark that this might be the last convention he would attend.

"Don't applaud," he said; "I may change my mind."

Mr. Bryan's leadership of the Democratic party definitely was broken at the national convention at San Francisco in 1920, when he was defeated in his efforts to have a dry plank included in the platform. Throughout the campaign he remained silent and afterward said it was the first time in forty years that he had made no speeches for a Demcratic presidential candidate. The reason for his action, he said, was that he did not agree with James M. Cox, the party's candidate who was defeated by Warren G. Harding, and that he did not want to debate with the candidate of his own party.

After his defeat on the convention floor relative to the proposed dry plank, Mr. Bryan said: "My heart is in the grave with our cause. I must pause until it comes back to me."

Soon after the election of President Harding, Mr. Bryan suggested that President Wilson resign because the people had voted against the League of Nations, one of the dominant issues of the campaign, and in favor of an association of nations as proposed by Mr. Harding. The former Secretary of State proposed that President Wilson immediately turn over the office to Vice-president Marshall with the understanding that the latter appoint Mr. Harding as Secretary of State at the beginning of the new Congress and then resign so that Mr. Harding immediately would become President and put into effect his association of nations.

CONVENTION DELEGATE

Having become a permanent legal resident of Miami, Fla., Mr. Bryan was elected from that State a delegate to the Democratic national convention at New York in 1924. He took a prominent part in the proceedings, but his influence was greatly curtailed as compared with that which he exerted at previous national conventions of the party. His advocacy of the nomination of William G. McAdoo had no effect in breaking the deadlock which continued for nearly two weeks between Mr. McAdoo and Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York, the contest eventually being ended when the delegates switched to John W. Davis, who was nominated.

Mr. Bryan was a member of the resolutions committee and at one of the sessions when the Ku Klux Klan issue was being discussed he dropped to his knees and urged the other members of the committee to join with him in prayer that they might be guided in the right light. The former Secretary took part in the campaign, but was not as active as he had been in some previous ones. His brother, Charles W. Bryan, then Governor of Nebraska, was the Democratic nominee for Vice-President.

Easing up on his political activities with the 1920 national campaign, Mr. Bryan took a greater interest in the affairs of the Presbyterian Church and devoted more of his time to lecturing. In 1923 he was defeated for moderator of the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church after an exciting contest. He was elected vice-moderator at the general assembly of 1924.

OPPONENT TO DARWINISM

An avowed opponent to the Darwin theory of evolution, Mr. Bryan made many addresses on the subject. Speaking in 1923 before the Legislature of West Virginia, which was considering a bill to prohibit the teaching of the Darwin theory in the schools of that State, Mr. Bryan said:

"School-teachers paid by taxation should not be permitted to teach under the guise of science or philosophy anything that undermines faith in God, impairs belief in the Bible or discredits the Son of God and the Savior of the world. Evolutionists rob the Savior of the glory of the virgin birth, the majesty of His deity and the triumph of His resurrection. They weaken faith in the Bible by discarding the miracles and the supernatural and by eliminating from the Bible all that conflicts with their theories. They render the Book a scrap of paper."

Later in an address in New York Mr. Bryan denounced the Darwin theory as the greatest enemy of religion and declared that in the schools it was undermining Christianity. "I don't object to scientific truth," he said, "for no truth disturbs religion. What we object to is for any scientist to put forth his guess and demand that we substitute it for the word of God. Evolution is an enemy of the Bible and furnishes a respectable excuse for men to deny the Bible." Among his writings on the subject were "The Menace of Darwinism," and "The Bible and Its Enemies."

BRYAN CHILDREN LEAVE TODAY

Mrs. Richard L. Hargreaves, daughter of William Jennings Bryan, and his son, William J. Bryan, Jr., will leave for Dayton early this morning, Mr. Hargreaves, Los Angeles banker, said last night.

"The news of Mr. Bryan's death was a terrible shock to all of us," he added. "It is almost incomprehensible, even though we have known that his health had been poor for several years. I have often wondered how he stood the terrific strain of the active life he led. There is really little I can say. I loved Mr. Bryan as a splendid character throughout the fifteen years that I have been a member of his family."

Long Beach Oil Company Leases Ranch Acreage

The Marine Corporation of Long Beach, which is already an active producing company in several oil fields, has just acquired fifty acres of San Miguel ranch, two miles south of Ventura, from Jack Sifford.

It was reported yesterday that this lease adjoins one which the Standard Oil Company obtained recently, and upon which, it is reported, the Standard plans to drill a test well in the near future.

He played brilliant golf on the outward journey, finishing the nine in even par. 37. He came home in 40 for a total of 77.

TRIBUTES PAID TO COMMONER

Coolidge Expected to Issue Statement Today

Sincere Motives Cited by Newton Baker

"Was Vigorous American," Says Al Smith

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SWAMPSCOTT (Mass.) July 26. President Coolidge was informed of the death of William Jennings Bryan tonight. While no statement was forthcoming tonight, it was said Mr. Coolidge probably would pay tribute tomorrow, either in a statement or a message of condolence to Mrs. Bryan, to the man who was thrice candidate for President.

The President and Mr. Bryan were warm personal friends, and just before the Executive departed from Washington, Mr. Bryan was a luncheon guest at the White House.

DAWES LAUDS SINCERE MOTIVES

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

DENVER, July 26.—Vice-President Dawes, on being informed of the death of William Jennings Bryan, issued the following statement to the press:

"I have been a friend of Mr. Bryan thirty-eight years, since we started as young lawyers in Lincoln, Neb. Throughout all these years of work and strenuous public service there showed resplendent a high personal character.

"In all he did Mr. Bryan was in earnest and in it all he tried to do good.

"Those who knew him best respected most his motives and his sincerity. He never did unworthy or mean things. He may have been mistaken at times as we all are, but he was trying to do the right as he saw it.

"Of his great influence on the public thought of his day, his public services and his transcendent ability as an orator I will leave to others to speak, but I want simply as an old friend and neighbor for many years, to pay my tribute of respect to a good and a great man, whose life has been one of high purpose and helpfulness and whose death brings a sense of personal loss."

LEADER LOST TO COUNTRY, SAYS BAKER

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CLEVELAND, July 26.—"The country has lost its leader in politics and religious movements," Newton D. Baker, former Secretary of War, declared tonight when informed of the death of William Jennings Bryan.

"Mr. Bryan has been the undisputed leader in a great cause in politics and in religious movements for more than a generation," Mr. Baker said. "His death will cause widespread grief both among those who followed him and those who admired his firm stand and the greatness of his talents. I have known Mr. Bryan for thirty years and I am greatly grieved to hear of his sudden death."

Atlee Pomerene, former United States Senator from Ohio, also a mutual friend of Mr. Bryan, said the Commoner had not been in good health for four or five years and had been dieting.

"He will be regarded as one of the greatest political orators of this generation," Mr. Pomerene added. "He had a wonderful following, very largely because of his exceptional ability as an orator. His hold upon the public is shown by the fact that three successive times he was nominated by his party for the Presidency. That was his greatest ambition and like many others, he failed to reach it."

SMITH CALLS HIM VIGOROUS AMERICAN

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

MONMOUTH BEACH (N. J.) July 26.—Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York, who is spending the week-end here, when informed of the death of William Jennings Bryan, said:

"I hear this with a great deal of regret. He was a vigorous American and even those who differed with his ideas had great regard for him."

REFUSED RIDE TO RESTAURANT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHATTANOOGA (Tenn.) July 26.—A. W. Leslie, who accompanied Mr. Bryan to Dayton, today said that the Commoner was feeling exceedingly fine Sunday morning and when he was offered a car to ride from the hotel to a restaurant for breakfast he expressed a preference to walk. He had arisen early and was in the lobby at 6:30. Here he was joined by Mr. Leslie, Vernon Keith and Miss Bettie Harms. The party, before starting for Dayton, went and had breakfast at which Mr. Bryan ate heartily.

On the trip to Dayton, Mr. Bryan talked on various topics of the day and spoke of the appeal to be made to the Supreme Court by the Scopes defense lawyers. At this time he expressed his intention of staying in the case and said he expected to "see it through."

According to Mr. Leslie, Mr. Bryan showed no signs of illness nor did he seem to feel ill in any way. He told Mr. Leslie, however, that he had diabetes. En route to Dayton several pictures of him were taken for which he posed in a cornfield. He said he expected to go to Knoxville and Nashville after which he would come to Chattanooga for a visit to Hon. J. B. Fraser at his home in Glenwood.

Mrs. Bryan accompanied her husband to Winchester Saturday, then returned to Dayton by automobile, while Mr. Bryan followed on the train. Mrs. Bryan did not stop here.

SISTER NOTIFIED OF BROTHER'S DEATH

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

LINCOLN (Neb.) July 26.—Mrs. Francis M. Baird, eldest sister of William Jennings Bryan, received word of her brother's death at her home at College View, a suburb near here. Mrs. Baird does not plan to leave here tonight for Tennessee, she said this evening. She said she was awaiting definite word from Dayton regarding arrangements being made by relatives.

Mrs. Baird is 67 years of age, two years older than William Jennings Bryan.

WILBUR QUOTES PAUL ON HEARING OF DEATH

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN DIEGO, July 26.—When informed of the death of William Jennings Bryan here today, Secretary of the Navy Wilbur expressed his regret, and as his only comment quoted Verses 7 and 8 of the Fourth Chapter of Paul's Second Epistle to Timothy, which Secretary Wilbur said were the last words his own mother said before she died.

His quotation begins with: "I have fought a good fight; I have finished the course," and ended with "for I am now ready to be offered and the time of my departure is at hand.

DAVIS PRAISES HIS COURAGE AND SINCERITY

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, July 26.—John W. Davis former Ambassador to the Court of St. James and Democratic candidate for President last year, when informed at his Long Island summer home of the death of William Jennings Bryan, said:

"I am sure that Mr. Bryan went as he would have wished to go, fighting for the convictions that were nearest to his heart. In this sense his death is in keeping with his life. Not even those who most disagreed with him ever questioned his courage and the deep sincerity of his convictions, whether religious or political.

"So long as he lived he spoke the sentiment of millions of his countrymen and influenced the thought of others to an extent that can hardly be measured. As one who counted himself a personal friend, I am deeply grieved by his passing and regard it as a great loss to the entire country."

WAS MAN OF GREAT COURAGE, SAYS DARROW

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

ELKMONT (Tenn.) July 26.—"I am pained to hear of the death of Hon. William Jennings Bryan," Clarence Darrow, Chicago attorney and cross-examiner of the Commoner in the recent trial of John T. Scopes at Dayton, Tenn., last Monday, declared this evening when informed of the demise of the noted American.

"I have known Mr. Bryan since 1896 and supported him twice for the Presidency. He was a man of strong convictions and always espoused his cause with ability and courage." Mr. Darrow continued. "I differed with him on many questions, but always respected his sincerity and devotion. I am very sorry for his family and for his friends who loved him."

SCOPES TRIAL THREATS TOLD

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHATTANOOGA (Tenn.) July 26.—That many threats were made against William Jennings Bryan's life during the Dayton trial was revealed last night by Capt. Marion Perkins, who headed the squad of Chattanooga officers who policed the Rhea county town. These threats were ignored by Mr. Bryan, the police captain said. Capt. Perkins further stated that he was asked to investigate them, but they were in such numbers that it would have been impracticable. Not only did Mr. Bryan receive threats against his life, but others attempted to frighten him away from the trial by saying that they would blow up his home, according to Capt. Perkins. Other forms of vengeance were threatened, according to the police captain.

BRYAN'S WIDOW TELLS ROMANCE

shows for quoting Scripture. This habit is one of long standing, as the following circumstance shows. The time came when it seemed proper for him to have a little conversation with my father, and this was something of an ordeal, as father was a reserved man. In his dilemma Mr. Bryan sought refuge in the Scriptures and began: 'Mr. Baird, I have been reading Proverbs a good deal lately, and find that Solomon says: "Whoso findeth a wife findeth a good thing and obtaineth favor of the Lord."'

SEES WAY THROUGH

"Father, being something of a Bible scholar himself, replied: 'Yes, I believe Solomon did say that, but Paul suggests that while "he that marrieth doeth well, he that marrieth not doeth better."'

"This was disheartening, but the young man saw his way through.

"'Solomon would be the best authority upon this point,' rejoined Mr. Bryan, 'because Paul was never married, while Solomon had a number of wives.'

PASADENA TO VOTE ON WIDER COLORADO

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, July 26.—Whether or not Colorado street will be widened between Broadway and Orange Grove avenue at a cost of $2,375,000, which has been discussed for many years by city officials, will be left to the people to decide. The Board of City Directors has called a special election for September 15.

Colorado street, Pasadena's principal east-and-west thoroughfare, measures eight different widths in five blocks. It has been proposed and planned to make the much-used street a uniform width of ninety-five feet. To do this it will be necessary to shave off the fronts of several high business buildings. It will be the most drastic improvement made in Pasadena in many years.

Only last week property owners voted $700,000 in bonds to widen Green street between the same points to a uniform width of seventy feet. The Colorado-street widening project is to be done under the Municipal Improvement District Act of 1915. Of the proposed bond issue, $100,000 is for general expenses and the remainder for the acquiring of property, cutting back of buildings and reconstructing them.

BOY DROWNS IN POOL

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MIAMI (Ariz.) July 26.—Lloyd Wilkins, 7 years of age, son of E. G. Wilkins, was found dead in the bottom of the Y.M.C.A. pool by Mexican boys, who were diving during a late afternoon period. The boy is believed to have drowned, unnoticed, when about forty boys were in the pool.

delegates switched to John W. Davis.

PRAYED FOR GUIDANCE

Bryan was a member of the resolutions committee. At one of the sessions when the Ku Klux Klan issue was being hotly debated—with feeling strong for denouncing the Klan by name and political caution urging a much less radical resolution—he dropped to his knees and urged the other members of the committee to join with him in prayer that they might be guided in the right light.

Although he had not supported Davis, he took part in the pre-election campaign for him. He was far less active, however, than he had been in previous campaigns. His brother, Charles W. Bryan, then Governor of Nebraska, was the Democratic nominee for Vice-President.

During the five years since the San Francisco convention, Mr. Bryan had steadily eased up in his political activities, taking a corresponding greater interest in the affairs of the Presbyterian Church and devoting more time to lecturing and just prior to the 1924 convention, his part in political affairs was—as it has been since the last election—merely cursory.

LAUDED BY HARDING

Always a "good loser" in politics, Mr. Bryan's readiness to give and take in good temper, in politics and otherwise, enabled him to maintain good personal relations with his opponents for the most part, at least until recent years. His trip around the world was like a triumphant tour. He was on excellent terms with President Taft who had defeated him. President Harding publicly spoke of him as a "lovable character." Mild critics in voicing disagreement with him conceded his sincerity while deploring his narrowness. While his habit was to declare himself unalterably right in all of his causes and to be merciless toward the other side, he showed facility in adjusting himself to changes in political circumstances and the public regarded him generally, in the last two campaigns, at least, as an engaging figure rather than as a leader to be implicitly followed.

His passing, within five weeks of that of Robert Marion La Follette, is seen as writing the closing chapter of one of the most picturesque political movements of the century—the insurgency of the Middle West. But while the movement as they understood and interpreted it is ended, yet they planted seed which is likely to blossom again in new and possibly more vital form.

FOLLOWING DWINDLES

A constant butt of ridicule in his latter years, Bryan came away from the last Democratic convention more discredited than ever before. His following had dwindled to the lowest ebb of his career, in the opinion of party leaders. Not that he had lost all his cohorts, but they were no longer feared as a potent group—at least not in Southern States. But his was still a large personal following in every State in the Union.

The prince of peace, Democratic leaders felt, was stronger in the national convention than anywhere else. While he could not dominate a majority, he was able to defeat proposed planks for platforms, or defeat a candidate in a close contest. In recent campaigns he devoted much of his time to preventing the "wet" element of the party from influencing the committee on platform and resolutions. The Prohibitionists depended on him to compel the adoption of a dry platform, and in the 1924 convention, particularly, he was very active in opposition to every move of anti-Prohibitionists. Who in future is to lead the "dry" fight in Democratic councils is not apparent in the hour of the Commoner's passing.

Mr. Hammond says if there should be a strike it would not be a serious one and believes the public can exert a powerful influence on the Atlantic City negotiations to avert a strike.

TURNING ON LIGHTS TO BE CELEBRATED

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

INGLEWOOD, July 26.—Fairview Heights is planning a celebration to mark the turning on of the juice in the huge Inglewood-Fairview Heights electric sign which is to be installed early in the coming week at the intersection of Hyde Park and West Boulevards, the gateway into Inglewood from Los Angeles. The tentative date for the celebration is next Friday evening, when Mayor Charles M. Miller is expected to press the button that will light up the huge sign that will extend across the intersection; the Inglewood Municipal Band will play and there will be brief felicitory talks by city and Chamber of Commerce officials as well as officers of the Fairview Heights Commercial Club, which defrayed the cost of the $500 sign, according to Col. J. R. Hinman, the club secretary.

FRIENDS GRIEVE FOR STATESMAN

think it may destroy me politically, but my conscience tells me that I am right and I prefer to be destroyed rather than violate my conscience.' This was the keynote of Mr. Bryan's character. It was reflected in his last great fight on the issue of fundamentalism. Ridicule, misrepresentation, destruction—none could deter where he believed that he was right. And he gave his life for his convictions.

"In so brief a statement, hurriedly made, I cannot do justice to this great man. I am grieved by his death. I admired him as a man and loved him as a friend. A big, brave, honest, eloquent American—a Chirstian gentleman and statesman—has gone. Many tears will be shed for William Jennings Bryan. The Democratic party will miss him and none will be so ungenerous as not to do him honor."

Will Hays, leader of the motion-picture industry of the United States and former Postmaster-General:

"The death of Mr. Bryan is a great shock to me. His passing is a national loss. Mr. Bryan had a life of tremendous service. I mourn him deeply as a friend, and I grieve with the countless thousands who have known him and, knowing him, loved him."

Mattison B. Jones of Glendale, former Democratic candidate for United States Senator:

"Mr. Bryan's death has overwhelmed me. I feel this sad news very, very keenly and deeply.

"In governmental matters even the enemies of Mr. Bryan always accredited him with sincerity, though they may have differed greatly with him on the problems of the hour. I believe this to have been true ever since he entered public life more than thirty years ago. He firmly believed in the people of his country. It is to be doubted if the masses of the people of our country have ever had a warmer friend than Mr. Bryan. While he may have had, and doubtless did have, personal ambition, it was of a noble character—a desire to serve the greatest number in his days. In matters of government he was generally ahead of his time, and therefore a real leader of men.

"In his belief in the ultimate triumph of the right, in both secular and religious matters, he was one of our great outstanding men, and a worthy example to men everywhere. His faith in God and immortality was as strong and clear as his knowledge of the sunshine of the day. He fell battling for what he believed to be the great truths of the Christian religion, and the Church has lost the strongest religious layman in the nation."

John P. Carter, Collector of Internal Revenue here during the Wilson administration:

"Mr. Bryan's death is a distinct loss to the nation. While he may have thrown many bombshells into the ranks of his own party in the passing of the years, not one of us who are Democrats has failed to recognize William Jennings Bryan as a grim old fighter, a gallant old warrior, honest and incorruptible. My Life Was Saved With Coso Volcanic Iron Wa[illegible]
Says Mrs. T. M. La[illegible]

Who Suffered for Years With Acid Stomach, Gas and Torpid Liver

For years I suffered severely with acid stomach, gas and a sluggish liver. Two years ago the condition became chronic and I was so nauseated that I could scarcely retain food. I was treated by many physicians, including stomach specialists. The condition grew worse and last January I was almost in a helpless condition. Dizzy and despondent, I was walking down Hill Street and my little boy attracted my attention to the colored boiling springs in the Coso Hot Springs exhibit, and with him I entered the store, merely through curiosity, where we had a sample of the water. Upon another occasion I had a drink of this water and found that I was almost immediately relieved of nausea and even the first few drinks benefited me sufficiently to inspire my confidence. I purchased a case of sixteen bottles and have since continued its use until I am in better health than I have been for years. I consider my recovery remarkable as I had failed with all other so-called remedies. Observing my rapid recovery many of my friends and neighbors were induced to use Coso Water and they, too, have received the most remarkable results.

I will gladly give the benefit of my experience to anyone suffering in the same way for I really feel that Coso Volcanic Iron Water has actually saved my life.

HELD IN CHILD TRIO DEATH

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SOMERSET (Ky.) July 26.—A woman registered as Mrs. Blanch Warren, 24 years of age, has been brought here from Louisville under an indictment returned in the Pulaski County Circuit Court charging her with the murder of her three small children. She has consistently denied any guilt.

The children were burned to death when the Warren home was destroyed by fire last February. They were asleep when the blaze began, it is said. Mrs. Warren had disappeared from her home here immediately afterward and her capture is laid to an unusual occurrence. She reported to the Louisville police that she had been attacked by three negroes. The report got back to her home town and her arrest followed. Mrs. Warren was arrested at 705 Magazine street, Louisville, where she was employed. She had lived in Louisville since soon after the fire which cost the lives of her children.

The Warrens' home was on the Crab Orchard pike, fifteen miles from here. Testimony before the grand jury here last May showed that one morning last February, just after the huband, Henry Warren, had left home to transact some business at Danville, Ky., Mrs. Warren left the house to milk some cows.

The grand jury was told that she had hardly left when flames burst from the interior of the home. Her three children, the eldest of whom was about 6 years of age, were asleep in their beds, according to the testimony. Mrs. Warren, 200 yards away, did not rescue the little ones, it is asserted.

The indictment charges that Mrs. Warren set fire to the building and then left the community. Her husband after the tragedy came to Somerset where he has lived since. Mrs. Warren's whereabouts had been unknown. Mrs. Warren, at Louisville, then got into the limelight by making a report to the police that she was attacked. The news story published at the time of the asserted attack gave Mrs. Warren's address. Sheriff C. I. Ross, of this city sent the warrant to Louisville with the information that the woman might be found at the address given.

Detectives went to the address given and arrested Mrs. Warren, who was at once lodged in jail. She declared her home had been burned accidentally and laid the accusations against her at the door of a "jealous-hearted man." She refused to see reporters.

ELEPHANT HERD NEARLY EXTINCT

Fund of $50,000 Sought for Their Preservation

South African Area Once Filled With Game

Situation Draws Attention of Prince of Wales

BY G. WARD PRICE

[Copyright, 1925, in United States by North American Newspaper Alliance. Great Britain, London Daily Mail. South America, United Press]

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PORT ELIZABETH (South Africa) July 26.—During the Prince of Wales's visit here, his attention was called to the "last of the South African elephants" through the issuance of a public appeal for $50,000 to preserve these remaining forty animals, all that remain of the vast herds which once roamed the plains of this fertile land.

For a whole month we traveled constantly to and fro about Cape Colony and the Orange Free State. No tree or visible animal life relieves the monotony of these lonely plains, yet within the memory of men still living they were the most richly stocked game area in the world. The huge herds of antelope and zebra which roamed the veldt until the middle of the last century have vanished.

Curiously enough, it is one of the oldest settled parts of the Union, where the Prince spent several days, that the most striking relic of the country's former abundance of wild life is to be found. Along the coast, between Mossel Bay and Port Elizabeth, there still stretches a narrow strip of dense forest, and within its diminishing limits linger two small herds of wild elephants.

FINAL MASSACRE

One herd, stray survival consisting of half a dozen animals, roams close to Knysna, a place that the Prince visited by motor car. The noises of civilization, echoing through the woods which are their last sanctuary, have much reduced their spirit.

Farther east, inland from Port Elizabeth, there exists in the Addo Forest a herd of forty elephants of great size. There is no water in the Addo Forest, and it is the custom of the herd to make a nightly journey across five miles of open country to the Sundays River.

Fruit farmers who came to settle there resented the damage to their fences done by the passage of the huge animals through the darkness on their way to water. So in 1919 they persuaded the Union government to employ a professional big-game hunter to massacre the herd. He shot 100 out of their strength of 140, and the Addo bush is still dotted with the great bones of the slaughtered beasts.

It now appears likely that the fruit farmers will complete their destruction by ambuscade and trap. Continual government grants of land for farming purposes have diminished the area of the Addo Forest from 600,000 acres to a mere 8000 within whose matted thickets the forty doomed elephants, the last in Africa south of the Limpopo, await extinction.

SADDENED HERD

Col. Deneys Reitz has made a public appeal that these picturesque survivors of the days when South Africa was a care-free paradise for wild animals should be saved. He proposes that $50,000 should be spent in buying for them a corridor of land by which they may reach the river without trespassing on privately owned property.

"They have learned," he says, "by grim experience the exact extent of their dubious sanctuary, and they know to a yard where runs the invisible boundary through the bush of their reserve. Watch their movements during their nightly sortie to drink at the river, and it is clear that the journey is to them one of recurrent terror.

"They keep to the densest part of the bush by day, and at night they slink down furtively to drink at a gulp, after which they rush back to cover."

TAKE MAN FOR DEATH BOMBING

Bible Institute Choir Member Charged With Murder of Five

John Manoogan, aged 36 years, a tailor and a member of the choir at the Bible Institute, was arrested here last night on a charge of suspicion of murder in connection with the mysterious blast which wrecked the farm home of H. D. Schroeder, near Reedly, Cal., the 16th inst., killing the rancher and four of his children.

Detective Lieutenants Wilde and McGowan, who arrested Manoogan, said he had been a former suitor of one of the Schroeder girls, who at one time lived at the woman's department of the Bible Institute here. Parents of the girl made her return home when they learned of her acquaintance with Manoogan, the detectives said.

Manoogan was not in Los Angeles the day of the explosion, the officers said, and has expressed his opinion of the disaster to friends since, saying he felt sorry for the girl, but "that it was good enough for the old man."

The destruction caused by the blast was completed by fire, which made the five bodies unrecognizable. The other victims were:

Officials investigating the blast have been unable to discover that the Schroeders had any known enemies, but have been proceeding on the theory that the explosion and fire were of criminal intent. The bodies of the Schroeder's found afterwards, indicated the explosion occurred while all were asleep.

Mrs. Schroeder escaped death because she had gone to Hillsborough, Kan., a week before on account of the death of her father. She was expected back in a few days. Another son, Edward Schroeder, 17, was undergoing treatment at a Fresno hospital. They are all that are left of the family.

At the police station last night Manoogan said he knew nothing of the explosion and declared he was in Los Angeles on that day.

Coolidge Dam to be Started Early in 1926

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PHOENIX, July 26.—According to C. H. Southworth, engineer in charge of preliminary work at the Coolidge dam site below San Carlos, construction of the dam will begin not later than next spring and will be finished within three years thereafter. Much work will have to be done before the first excavation is made, including road building, camp construction and making provision for a power plant, as well as running elaborate surveys for new roads around the great reservoir, taking the place of the present State highway and of a new high line to be used by the Southern Pacific Bowie-Globe branch.

Much remains to be done also on the distribution systems from the Florence and Sacaton diversion dams, including canals on the Pima reservation and on a large area occupied by white farmers between Florence and Casa Grande.

KIRK'S EX-WIFE FOUND IN NORTH

Death Threat Against Former Spouse Told

Duel Slaying and Suicide Believed Explained

Woman Held Cause of Desert Feud

PORTLAND (Or.) July 26.—Mrs. Bertha Kirk, aged 54 years, of Portland, a practical nurse, thinks she is the ex-wife of Henry Kirk killed in a sensational manner last week in Imperial Valley in a duel which was followed by the suicide of John Truden.

Every detail of the story of the crime and the events leading up to it, even to a motive, heretofore a mystery element, fit in with Mrs. Kirk's belief that the slain Kirk may have been her husband from whom she was divorced in Spokane ten years ago.

The weak link in the story is the published report that Kirk's body was buried by his father and that the family was well known in San Francisco and the bay cities.

"If Kirk had a father living," said Mrs. Kirk, "Kirk was not my ex-husband.

"My husband's father, a Methodist minister, died twelve years ago at Collinswood, Ont., Can."

The description of Kirk sent to the Associated Press at Imperial, Cal., by Mrs. Kirk after she had read the duel story in the Portland newspapers, tallied with that of the dead man, according to officers in the south, who found the only discrepancy in the circumstance that the slain man had red hair, while Mrs. Kirk described her ex-husband's haid as "light gray."

Mrs. Kirk said tonight, however, that she had learned from her nephew, who had seen Kirk a year or so ago in Spokane, that Kirk apparently had colored his hair slightly with a reddish tinge and Mrs. Kirk said she believed it possible that Kirk might have continued his attempts to belie his grayness.

A possible motive for the crime, Mrs. Kirk said, was the fact that her husband about six years ago married a woman who had divorced her husband under false pretenses.

Mrs. Kirk said she did not know the name of the woman her ex-husband married.

WENT ARMED

"But at that time," she said, "I remember that the papers had a good deal to say about the case and emphasized that the injured husband had threatened to kill the man who took his wife away from him if it was the last act of his life."

Mrs. Kirk said the woman in the case was a telephone switchboard operator at Snohomish, Wash.

"She had given folks there to understand," said Mrs. Kirk, "that her husband had deserted her but she knew all the time that he was in California taking care of his father's ranch.

"When her husband came back and learned that his wife had divorced him he was frantic and when it was known later that she had married Kirk with whom she had been keeping company, the husband, according to the stories printed at the time, went armed for quite a while looking for Kirk.

"The wife, within a year after she had married Kirk, died in Spokane. Kirk was still there the last I heard of him though I have never seen him since we were divorced because I was always afraid of him myself."

Mrs. Kirk said that she got her divorce on grounds of non-support.

KIRK HIGH STRUNG

"Kirk was a high-strung man," said Mrs. Kirk. "He was a graduate of McGill University and followed bookkeeping for a living though he wouldn't work unless he could get something in his line that just suited him. He was very temperamental."

Mrs. Kirk said that after the divorce she went to Vancouver, B. C., and later returned to Washington for a time. She came to Portland, she said, about four years ago and has lived here continuously since that time.

Mrs. Kirk said she had never been in California and did not know that Kirk had gone down there and had not been interested in him except to satisfy herself as to whether or not the man killed in the Imperial Valley was really her ex-husband.

Mrs. Kirk has two children, the custody of whom was given her when she got her divorce. Mrs. Kirk said she and Kirk were married in Minneapolis.

DETROIT, July 26.—Following a plea made by humane officers, Magistrate W. E. Gundy of Windsor Police Court ordered a horse, 22 years of age, to be put to death to save it from the abuses of man.

PRESIDENT LAUDS FILM PROGRESS

Letter to Hays Stresses Desirability of Worthy Motion Pictures

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SWAMPSCOTT (Mass.) July 26. "The progress made by the motion-picture industry, both in education and entertainment, is an outstanding achievement of the opening years of this century," President Coolidge said in a letter to Will H. Hays, made public here today.

The President's letter follows:

"My attention has been called to the fact that you are taking the twenty-ninth anniversary of the moving-picture industry as an occasion to inaugurate a greater movie season campaign. Such a movement to emphasize the desirability of worthy motion pictures will be of real public value.

"The progress that has been made in both education and entertainment in this tremendous industry is an outstanding achievement of the opening years of this century. I congratulate you and wish you a continuation of your success."

The President and Mrs. Coolidge spent a quiet Sunday at White Court, except for a motor trip to Salem to attend the services at a Congregationalist church. They were accompanied by their son John.

MEXICAN RELIC IN TEXAS SCHOOL

Texas University Has Volume of Historical Value

Book Tells Cortez Conquest in Detail

Work Never Properly Rendered Into English

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MEXICO CITY, July 26.—What is described as one of the most valuable books in the world and of special value to Mexico is now owned by the University of Texas, according to report received at the Ministry of Foreign Relations here from the Mexican consular agent in the Texas capital.

It is described as a small soiled volume of fifteen pages and describes the conquest of Mexico made by Herman Cortez, the Spanish generalissimo, in the year 1520. The book formed part of the library of Genaro Garcia, noted Mexican lawyer, and was sold by his heirs to the Texas University several years ago shortly after his death.

The university paid 60,000 pesos or $30,000 for the library and the sale is subject to periodical attacks on the part of Mexican newspapers and educators from time to time, it being maintained that many of the volumes contained in the collection are of special interest to Mexico and should not have been allowed to leave the country, as in many cases duplicates do not exist.

The book mentioned is described as written in old Spanish and is illustrated with heiroglyphics. It has never been properly translated into English, although several free translations have been made by librarians at the University of Texas. The book is in the nature of a diary describing "many rare and unique adventures of the conquerors."

The newspapers here suggest that efforts be made through diplomatic channels by the Mexican government to recover possession of the book.

SAVES LIFE OF HUSBAND BUT MAY DIE

Woman Shields Mate in Attack by Former Lover and Is Stabbed

Katerina Mara, of 153 South Reo street, was a girlhood sweetheart of Frederico Garcia, down in Mexico years ago, so last night when Garcia came to her house hungry and asked for something to eat she fed him.

Katerina and her husband, Toribio, told Garcia of the child they were expecting shortly, of the plans they had of returning to Mexico when the child grew up. Katerina drew rosy pictures of their home in her native land, of the grandparents who were eagerly anticipating the new arrival.

Frederico had been drinking—it developed later—and he urged Toribio to come with him to get a drink or so. Toribio refused, telling his wife's friend that he was soon to become a father and could not drink. Frederico grew angry and brandished a long knife.

Katerina stepped between her husband and childhood friend and attempted to quiet them. Frederico slashed at Toribio but the knife plunged into Katerina's abdomen when she attempted to protect her husband.

Toribio then subdued Frederico and with his wife started to walk to the police station. Katerina collapsed at the Santa Fe Depot after walking half a mile with a deep knife wound in her abdomen. Late last night she was under care of Police Surgeon Stewart at the Receiving Hospital and is not expected to live. Detective Lieutenants Wilde and Jacks arrested Frederico and charged him with assault with a deadly weapon.

TEXAS MASONS WILL REVISE BURIAL RITES

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) July 26. After being in use for fifty-seven years the burial service of the Masonic fraternity of Texas is to be revised. The revision will affect only the grand jurisdiction of Texas, the grand lodge of which adopted the service now in use in 1868.

Criticism of the present service has been heard during the past several years, it is said, and finally the grand master, Guinn Williams, decided to appoint a committee of three to revise it. The committee comprises Nat M. Washer of San Antonio, Dr. A. A. Ross of Lockhart, Tex., and Gus A. Brandt of Houston, all of whom are Past Grand Masters of the Grand Lodge of Texas.

As it now stands the service is entirely a talk to Masons, drawing their attention to a lesson in life. It fails to take into consideration the bereavement of the relatives of the deceased.

The new service form will be presented to the Grand Lodge for its action when it meets in Waco, Tex., next December.

IMMIGRATION ACT SCORED

Nippon Press Says No Pains Should Be Spared to Have Law's "Stigma" Removed

BY ALFRED E. PIERES

[SPECIAL FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE]

TOKIO, July 1.—Several of the metropolitan and provincial papers today devote a great deal of their editorial space to discussion of the immigration bill. All agree that Japan should spare no pains to have the "stigma" removed. The only difference is that the tone of the better class of paper is temperate and the arguments are conducted in a spirit of reasonableness, while the jingo organs, as usual, use extremely intemperate language and exaggerated similes.

"It's just one year ago today," says the Asahi, a Liberal daily of Tokio, "that the immigration bill, with the Japanese exclusion clause, was enforced. The subjects of the Japanese Empire, with the exception of those engaged in religious work, merchants, professors, students, tourists and a few others, are absolutely forbidden to land in that country, while, as regards those persons whom the American law permits to land, the formalities involved are very complicated. The landing of the wives of merchants forms a particularly difficult subject of discussion.

"As a whole," continues the Asahi, "the American authorities on immigration have been careful of our mutual relations, have been sane in their judgment and have been impartial in the treatment of our nationals. The exercise of their commonsense was unerring, so that pending questions connected with the landing of our nationals have all been satisfactorily adjusted. We can never be satisfied with the provisions of the American immigration law, but to be fair to the American authorities, we must admit that they have been unusually impartial and sensible in the discharge of duties.

"It must be noticed, however, that Albert Johnson, of the House of Representatives, and others are devising a new scheme for enacting a new law for excluding Japanese, Chinese and Indians. Should it succeed, it would be as rigorous and as merciless as the one that applies to the Chinese now. Let us hope it will prove to be a failure.

"We know the Americans wish us well, and we wish them well. But, it is impossible for us to forget the immigration hurt and, so long as this lasts, so long will it be utterly impossible for us to be proper friends, for friendship is based on mutual respect."

The comments of the jingo organs are best illustrated by the editorial in today's Yorozu.

"The United States is an international despotic demon," writes this editor. "After the Great War, Japan was recognized as one of the 'Big Five,' but this honor has been unjustly and humiliatingly mutilated by the insolent United States."

The paper then begins to think that the national spirit of the Japanese people is deteriorating.

"Japan has gone through remarkable changes in the world of thought," it says, "but what is deplorable is the steady deterioration of her national spirit. They are so silent that it seems as though the Japanese have entirely forgotten the disgrace and the humiliation inflicted upon them.

"The tone employed by American newspapers and magazines in discussing Japanese-American relations is such that we cannot but be apprehensive as regards the future of our Empire. Our people must be awake and read what all these portents mean."

PETTING PARTY BANDIT ELUSIVE

Denver Police Force Baffled by "Love Pirate"

Four "Couples" on Guard Fail to Nab Offender

DENVER, July 26.—Denver's "petting party bandit," whose hold-up activities over a period of several weeks did more to break up roadside petting parties than all the welfare workers in Colorado, is too wary to fall for a combination of powder puffs and pistols.

Members of the police department are willing to admit that after-haunting for three weeks various trysting places of those who come to pet and to be petted, and the job of decoying the mysterious "love pirate" has been abandoned temporarily.

After several worshipers at the shrine of the goddess of love and reported one Sunday night that a man had appeared suddenly at their parked cars and commanded them to surrender all of their valuables, four pairs of officers were dispatched to the petting-parking grounds on the outskirts of the city in the hope that the bandit would appear at some of their machines.

ALL READY FOR HIM

In each instance there was a man in plain clothes, and another disguised as a woman. Each pair would drive to some lovers' rendezvous and park for the evening, prepared to "knock off" the bandit in case of his appearance. But there was no such luck.

If the officers parked at Umsteenth street and Moonlight Boulevard, Mr. Bandit's activities were in some other part of the county.

If they went next night to the scene of the previous evening's hold-up, the petting party pirate operated at Umsteenth and Moonlight. It was a game of fox and geese.

And so, after three weeks had slipped by without a trace of the bandit, who apparently has moved on to more fertile fields to conquer, officers detailed to that particular duty revealed what they had been doing for several weeks past.

FOUR "COUPLES" ON GUARD

From central headquarters went Patrolman Walter Heath, whose nomme de puff about the station has come to be Alice Bluegown, and Leonard Hadley. From the North Denver substation Sergt. Dave Sullivan's "feminine" companion was Patrolman William Clark.

East Denver furnished Patrolman John O'Donnell as the woman and Patrolman Joe Duffy as "her" escort, while from Capitol Hill there was Patrolman Chauncey Fowler, "woman," and Rudolph Hermann as the he-man.

Considerable merriment has been caused at police station over the efforts of the female impersonators to attract the attention of the "love bandit," and i is doubtful if those who played the parts of the women on the "inside" petting parties ever will be able to live down their records along that line.

HEART DILATION CAUSE OF DEATH

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHATTANOOGA (Tenn.) July 26.—William Jennings Bryan died as the result of acute dilation of the heart, in the opinion of Dr. Raymond Wallace, Chattanooga physician and surgeon, who was consulted by Mr. Bryan in Dayton during the Scopes trial, and who made an examination of the Commoner here Friday.

DRIFT CUTS LARGE BODY OF RICH ORE

Find in Verde Central Promises to Make Mine Paying Property

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

JEROME (Ariz.) July 26.—The last report from the Verde Central 1105 drift is of seventy-five feet of ore body, sampling from 8 to 10 per cent copper across the full face. Some of the chalcopyrite runs much higher. The drift will be run to the end of the ore and then it will be cross-cut, with expectation that its width will average about fifty feet.

It is reported that consideration is being given the question of reduction works for the Verde Central ores, now considered developed in ample quantity to call the property a real mine.

If water could be developed, a mill for the lower-grade ores could be placed near the shaft, but the United Verde and United Verde Extension have found it necessary to go down to the Verde River Valley to secure enough water for even the smelting processes, as neither has a mill.

There is speculation also whether the Verde Central may not enter into some agreement with the older companies, for tapping its ore at great depth, through extension of the United Verde or Extension tunnel level workings.

In the United Verde open cut, preparations are being made for firing a blast of nine carloads of dynamite, expected to loosen up 750,000 tons of ground.

Mr. Anker, one of the best-known merchants of the Southwest, began business here forty-three years ago. He is survived by a number of brothers and relatives.

BURGLARS CAPTURED BY FORMER SOLDIER

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, July 26.—Yates Fetterman, 2015 Burch avenue, former soldier and now a watchman for the American District Telegraph Service, engaged in a single-handed battle with four burglars whom he found tonight in the storeroom of J. Rosenberg, Inc., wholesale jewelers, at 205 West Madison street. He shot two of the four, knocked a third unconscious with the butt of his revolver and forced the fourth to cover, where he was captured by police a short time later.

"Do you believe that history repeats itself?" asked the anxious waiter.

"I certainly do," replied the customer, rising from the table after his meal.

"Well, a gentleman who was here yesterday gave me a shilling tip," said the waiter, looking sideways.

"Oh well," said the patron, buttoning up his coat to leave, "perhaps he will be in again today." [Weekly Edinburgh Scotsman.

PRICES FIRMER ON FALL TREND

Active Markets Indicate Doldrums Over

Stocks in General Reach Higher Level

Week's Fluctuations Cover Wide Range

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, July 26.—Firmer prices in many directions and more active markets generally, evident during the past week, would seem to indicate that the doldrums of the summer have passed and that the markets, as a whole, are pointing toward the fall. There has been no appreciable change in market sentiment during the past fortnight. Fluctuations of stocks, and commodities as well, have been over a remarkably wide range. Nevertheless, the net result of the week's trading was to leave most of them at higher levels than prevailed at the end of the preceding week. Such a result is to be anticipated in a midsummer market. A great deal of "backing and filling" is always to be looked for at this season. The outstanding fact, however, is that prices are firm; that there is better inquiry for goods of all sorts; and that price concessions from the sellers' standpoint, have been practically eliminated.

The most stable commodities in the markets at the present time may be enumerated as rubber, cotton, copper, hides and textiles.

Peculiar conditions prevail in each of these industries. The strength in rubber, for instance, is attributed to the manner in which exports have been "doled out" from the principal plantations controlled by Great Britain. Cotton has been under the influence, during the past week, of a remarkable reversal in government statistics.

Last week's report of the Department of Agriculture placed the ultimate 1925-26 crop at 13,588,- bales and placed the condition at 70.4 per cent. Last year's crop, a particularly large one, will doubtless not be exceeded by the one now growing. As a matter of fact, one must go back to the tremendous crop of 1916, when more than 16,000,000 bales were produced, to equal the record of last year. Despite increased acreage, there are many adverse conditions to be taken into consideration in the cotton situation, all leading to the belief that the year's outturn will hardly be as large as last year. Meanwhile our exports of cotton are some 2,400,000 bales ahead of last season and our domestic consumption about 500,000 bales greater.

Current fluctuations in the money market are hardly of a nature to be construed as marking any very considerable change in the situation. There were days during the week in which the money rate ran up sharply.

However, in each instance, the open market rate for money returned to its previous level. It was evident at the end of the week that money was a little firmer, due mainly to the recall of funds from interior institutions which have been heavy lenders in this center.

Oklahoma's Oil Inspection Fees Show Heavy Gain

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

OKLAHOMA CITY (Okla.) July 26.—Over seventeen and a half million gallons of gasoline sold in Oklahoma in June was reported in inspection returns made to the gasoline inspection department of the State oil and gas conservation bureau. The figures are the largest in the history of the department and exceed those of May by 3,000,000 gallons and those of June a year ago by over 5,000,000 gallons. The tax on June sales for road purposes was over $529,000.

The number of gallons of kerosene inspected in June was the largest of record also. The figures were 3,286,631 gallons, compared with 2,232,988 gallons in May. Department officials said the increase probably was due largely to the summer revival in the poultry industry and increased use of gasoline-driven tractors.

INCOME TAX HITS MINERS

Net income tax returns of $9100 each for the year, 1923, have been filed by two employees of the Sopper-Mitchell Coal Company of Morgantown, W. Va. Both men are coal cutters.

Another miner employed at the same plant filed a return of $6500 with an apology for its size, stating he did not have steady employment. Another man reported $2700, claiming $7300 exemption for his wife and twelve children.—[Coal Age.

FEARED MOTHER WOULD WORRY

Man Goes Home in Spite of Burns Suffered in Accident

JERSEY CITY (N. J.) July 26.—Against the advice of his physicians, but determined to allay the fears of his sick mother as to his condition, Sylvester Hartye, Lackawanna fireman, who was severely burned about the face and neck and whose back was badly strained when he was blown to the back of his engine cab by a backdraft from the engine firebox, left Christ Hospital, Jersey City, and went to his home at Monroe Corners.

Hartye gave as his reasons the fact that his "mother would worry" if he was in a hospital. "She's sick, you know," he continued, "and it might make her worse to worry about me." He expects to return for treatment after assuring her of his safety.

RICH GOLD VEIN STRUCK AT KINGMAN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

KINGMAN (Ariz.) July 26.—The main tunnel of the United Republic, at 1200 feet of depth, is reported to have run into a large vein that samples above $100 in gold, with a pay streak that assays up to $400. Samples of the ore have been sent to Los Angeles for exhibition. Oatman miners state belief that the strike is one of the most important ever made in the south end of their district. Drifting now is being pushed along the vein.

The Silver Mountain Mining Company, a Nevada corporation, is starting development of property at Cerbat, with Robert Clegg in charge. Capital is being furnished in Los Angeles.

Sulphideore noted on old dumps of the Gold Bullion mine, now operated by the Wishon Exploration Company, has been found in two veins that had been drifted upon about forty years ago, when the ore proved too refractory for profit. These sulphides carry copper, zinc and lead and samples give value above $90 a ton. In the same locality gold-silver assays run above $60.

ADDITION TO OIL PLANT IS UNDER WAY

General Petroleum Will Enlarge Cherry Heights Pipeline Station

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONG BEACH, July 26.—The General Petroleum Corporation has started work on a 60,000-barrel tank to be used in connection with a huge compressor which is also being built at the company's pipeline station in Cherry Heights. Forty workmen are engaged on these jobs.

General Petroleum is rigging up to begin drilling its No. 6 well on the K. and H. lease, where it already has five producing wells. The new well will be located across the street north of the company's Black and Drake lease, which has been a remarkable producing property.

The Richfield Oil Company, which has been doubling the size of its refinery at Hynes, is installing the cross-tracking process in connection with its many improvements there. Two six-inch pipelines are being laid by the company from the Hynes plant to Santa Fe avenue, a distance of five miles. These will connect with a Long Beach Harbor loading station which the company expects to build.

MAN SWALLOWS FALSE TEETH

Delicate Operation Found Necessary For Removal

WHITE PLAINS (N. Y.) July 26. — A delicate operation was performed at the White Plains Hospital on Emil Hack of 404 Union avenue, Mount Vernon, to remove his false teeth, which he had swallowed during the afternoon while at work. The teenth were recovered and Hack is recovering.

Hack was rushed to the hospital by fellow-employees and an X-ray was taken to determine the location of the teeth. When ordinary methods failed to dislodge the plate, Hack left the hospital for Island Beach, near Greenwich, to obtain the services of Dr. Walter E. Lowthian, a White Plains physician, with whom he immediately returned to the hospital.

For more than an hour the surgeon attempted to remove the plate, and at 9 a.m. was successful. Dr. Lowthian said the accident would have proved fatal but for the use of an instrument developed by a Philadelphia physician.

Three Persons Burn to Death in Plane Fire

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

DETROIT, July 26.—A man, a young married woman and a 10-year-old girl were burned to death this afternoon when the airplane in which they had just taken off from Packard Field caught fire after a forced landing. The dead are Milton Stein, 24 years of age; Mrs. Violet Fleming, 20, and Evelyn Ejrezoj, 10, all of Detroit.

The plane, piloted by Stein, descended at Packard Field for gasoline. The amount taken on, according to attaches, is believed to have been too great a weight for the engine and the machine, which was stated to be of obsolete type, was unable to carry it.

COOLING PARLIAMENT

Cold Drinks and Cool Air Served Members in Unstinted Quantities

The House of Commons meets heat waves with air drawn from the River Thames and cooled by water spray; about eight terrace teas a day, with strawberries and dainty green cress sandwiches in the open air; juicy wedges of melon on cantaloupe on cracked ice with sugar or powdered ginger in the dining rooms; chilled "cups" of various minglings in the lounges, and tiny jets of cold water continually shooting across the open windows of the debating chamber.

Many thousands of pounds have been spent on the air of the House of Commons. Lord Randolph Churchill once induced the house to adjourn in the middle of a debate owing to the vitiated condition of the air. It is the claim now that the atmosphere of the House of Commons can be entirely changed in six minutes.

Along the 680 feet of the river frontage there are thirty-five openings through which fresh air is drawn into the palace of Westminster. Part of the floor of the debating chamber is composed of a grid, and the supplies of air, chilled or warmed, screened from fog or other London enemies, is sent up into the chamber from below. There are men down there who study the constantly changing population of the House, and if there arise to speak one of the few men who draw a big assembly of M. P.s to hear him, the vigilant air steward below turns the valves and sends up additional supplies of oxygen.

Then there are all sorts of individual likes and dislikes about temperature, and the air steward can send up warmer or colder air where required.

Those two superb towers at either end of the great Gothic mass of Westminster are not merely magnificent London landmarks. They act as channels for drawing away the vitiated air. At the base of the clock tower there used to burn a great furnace. This caused a draft and forced the used air aloft. Most of this work is now done by electric fans.

The terrace along the river front is on the east side and, therefore, is in the full blaze of the morning sun. Long before tea-time, however, it is in the shadow of the great building and on extra hot days it has been cooled by copious streams of cold water from hose pipes.

On hot days, when M. P.s are giving strawberry teas to friends and "supporters" up in London, the terrace is a pleasant part of the M. P.s' workshop.—[Continental Edition of London Mail.

PATRIOTIC AMERICAN

The pledge of the American flag that is used in most of our schools is attributed to James P. Upham, a Boston publisher, who in 1888 suggested its use in the schools. The idea was adopted by the National Education Association, which persuaded Congress to urge it to the attention of President Harrison, who, by proclamation of July 21, 1892, naming October 12 as a holiday in commemoration of the four hundredth anniversary of the landing of Columbus in the new world, suggested the pledge to the flag be recited by the pupils and the flag raised over every schoolhouse.—[Exchange.

ANCIENT PICTURE FOUND

Corporal's Ribs Broken Thrice in Two Months

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) July 26. For the third time in less than two months, Corp. George Wiseheart of the Fort Sam Houston military police, has suffered broken ribs in a variety of accidents.

While answering an emergency call in a government car the latter part of May, Wiseheart was pinned beneath the machine, which collided with another car at a street intersection. Two of his ribs were broken and he was taken to the station hospital.

The injury scarcely had healed, when one of the knitting ribs again was struck while Wiseheart was officiating at a raid on a "necking party" during the early morning hours in the Salado Creek bottoms. One of the prisoners kicked him in the side, displacing his rib.

In a course of breaking up a disturbance last week during a dance at the Hostess House in old Camp Travis, Wiseheart again suffered injury to his side. In arresting two privates Wiseheart was again kicked in the side.

PESSIMISTIC OVER FALL FISHING RUN

CANADIAN INSPECTOR SAYS PURSE SEINE USE MAY CURTAIL IT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VANCOUVER (B. C.) July 26. Maj. J. A. Motherwell, inspector of fisheries, made his first report on conditions in the industry in Northern British Columbia and was very pessimistic about the sockeye run.

Smith's Inlet is the only district in the entire North where any salmon have been running this season and these waters have been so crowded with fish that the boats could not take care of the run. All other districts have failed to show any returns worth mentioning.

The inspector expressed much concern about the large number of purse seines operating in northern waters this year, fearing that the fall varieties of fish will be curtailed by seine fishing for sockeyes.

Gen. De Rivero Leaves Madrid for War Front

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

MADRID, July 26.—Gen. Primo De Rivero, president of the military directorate, left here last night for Algeciras and Tetuan. Before his departure he told the newspaper men that the first part of the plan agreed upon by Spain and France in connection with the warfare against the Moroccan rebels would be put into immediate execution.

He said that Spain would make a military effort in combination with the French which would prove most effective. It was his belief that within two months the Moroccan problem would be solved.

BASILICAS

The name "Basilica" was given in ancient Rome to buildings used as meeting places for business men, and as courts of justice. A basilica consisted of a long central hall or nave, with aisles, the aisles being separated from the nave by pillars supporting the roof. At the end of the nave, opposite the entrance, was a raised platform, or dais, with seats for the judges. To give additional space there was sometimes added at this farther end, a semicircular structure called an apse. After the introduction of Christianity, basilicas were very generally converted into churches, and thus it is that the form of the modern cathedral is derived from the ancient Roman basilica.—[Kansas City Star.

They also recommended that the street be paved from curb to curb, which is seventy feet.

PLATICAS DE LOS LUNES

DEL DEPARTAMENTO ESPANOL DE "THE TIMES"

Por el Profesor R. Guerrero

Número 348

Para dar por terminado mi breve estudio sobre la elipsis de la preposición, y por creer que todo cuanto a dicha elipsis se refiera pueda interesar al lector de Santa Bárbara, que acerca de ese punto me consultó, transcribo a continuación dos pertinentes párrafos de la Gramática de Bello:

Es digna de notar la elipsis de la preposición antes del relativo, cuando la misma u otra de un valor análogo precede al antecedente: "En el lugar que fue fundada Roma, no se veían más que colinas desiertas, y dispersas cabañas de pastores": EN EL LUGAR EN QUE; "Al tiempo que salía la escuadra, el aspecto del cielo anunciaba una tempestad horrorosa": AL TIEMPO EN QUE; "Espadas largas que se esgrimían a dos manos, al modo que se manejan nuestros montantes" (Solís): AL MODO EN QUE; "A medida que nos alejamos de un objeto, se disminuye su magnitud a la vista": A LA MEDIDA EN QUE. Esta elipsis, con todo, no tiene cabida sino cuando el término del complemento es de significado muy general, y el complemento mismo es de uso frecuente, como "en el lugar", "al tiempo", "al modo", "a la manera", "a condición", "a medida", "a proporción", "en el grado". En virtud de esta elipsis, el complemento y el relativo forman frases adverbiales relativas, que acarrean proposiciones subordinadas.

Y sucede también que se calla la preposición no sólo antes del relativo, sino antes del antecedente: "Todas las veces que yo fui a verle, me dijeron que no estaba en casa": TODAS LAS VECES QUE por EN TODAS LAS VECESENQUE, es expresión que se adverbializa por la doble elipsis de la preposición, equivaliendo a "siempre que".

Si el lector de Santa Bárbara a quien me he venido refiriendo, y a quien de modo más especial van dirigidas las observaciones consignadas en estas últimas Plática sobre la repetición de las partículas prepositivas, tuviere aún dudas en dicha materia, ruégole se sirva indicármelas, para procurar desvanecérselas; si, por el contrario, hubiere quedado satisfecho con el estudio que a la ligera he hecho en obsequio suyo, he de merecerle me lo haga saber por medio de una tarjeta postal.

Un lector de lengua española, de Los Angeles, me ha escrito para decirme que extraña haya hecho yo uso, en la Sección Española de "The Times", del verbo "aterrizar" y del sustantivo "aterrizaje", siendo así que ni uno ni otro están autorizados por la Academia Española.

Sóbrale razón a mi lector para hacer el reparo que dejo anotado, y debo decirle que la única razón que he tenido para emplear esos neologismos, es que a cada paso topamos con ellos en los periódicos españoles e hispanoamericanos, y los oímos en la conversación de la gente de habla castellana. Es ya tal el uso que se hace de estos términos que, en mi sentir, va a tener que abrírseles la puerta del diccionario oficial.

Con igual sobra de razón puede mi lector censurarme el empleo de los vocablos "entrenar" y "entrenamiento", de que con frecuencia echo mano para traducir las palabras inglesas "to train" y "training". Pero, si así lo hiciera, pediríale yo que me diera los equivalentes exactos de esos términos en español. El señor de Toro Gisbert, que nunca ha andado flojo en vapular a los galiparlistas, dice lo siguiente en sus "Enmiendas al Diccionario de la Academia": "Está muy bien burlarse del galicismo 'entrenado', que emplean los repórters de velódromo; pero empeñarse en traducir el francés 'entrainé' por 'amaestrado' es una simpleza."

Sigue la racha (de barbarismos): "Utilizó un aeroplano, y después de haber efectuado un vuelo feliz, hizo un ATERRIZAGE involuntario".

Y usted una infeliz pirueta. Primero: porque debió decir que el aeronauta hizo un descenso involuntario, que aterró contra su deseo, que descendió involuntariamente, que tomó tierra, que se vino a tierra, que abatió, que cayó. Segundo: porque, aun cuando el diario francés, de donde sin duda procede la noticia, diga "un atterrissage" o "attérissage", que de ambos modos puede escribirse, todavía es mejor "aterrage" o "attérage"; pero impropias todas ellas para el caso, por ser voces de la marina y significar, no la caída de un cuerpo, sino la recalada de un barco, la acción de varvar o atracarse a tierra. Tercero: que la voz francesa adecuada al caso es "atterrer" o "attérer", y en forma refleja, "s'atterrer" tanto por "aterrar", derribar, humillar, abatir, cuanto en el sentido de "aterrar", aterrorizar, causar terror, espantar; según igualmente ocurre con nuestro verbo "aterrar", si bien nosotros lo conjugamos con regularidad en la acepción de producir espanto, que es la segunda, y en la primera, en la de echar por tierra, con la irregularidad de hacerle tomar una "i" antes de la "e" radical, como por ejemplo en este verso: "Los más grandes obstáculos atierra". Y cuarto: que dada para usted la necesidad de escribir "aterrizage", debió hacerlo con "j".

El escritor argentino, Ricardo Monner Saus, dice lo siguiente en un artículo que publicó la revista "Hispania" de Madrid:

Séale permitido a un Juan de Afuera, y desde lejano país, echar su cuarto a espadas en asuntos lingüísticos, ya que la simpática revista HISPANIA nos ha enterado de que por esas queridas tierras se emplea el verbo "arterrizar", y aun el menos simpático de "amarizar".

En no largo, pero tal vez pesadito estudio, publicado en 1921, demostramos con citas antiguas y modernas que no hay razón valedera ni motivo que legitime el empleo de "aterrizar", cuando en buen castellano tenemos "aterrar", en su acepción de "llegar a tierra". Mas para evitar que el vulgo confundiera este significado con el de "causar terror", proponíamos, documentándolo, que se dijera "atierrar". Probamos también entonces que Múgica, Huidobro, Julio Casares y Rafael Pérez Barreiro abominan de las palabras "aterrizar" y "aterrizaje", y nos parece que los cuatro conocen algo nuestro idioma.

En cuanto a "amarizar", un ilustre chileno, el P. Raimundo Morales, respondió entre otros, al llamamiento que hizo un diario de Santiago, LA UNION, para que los entendidos "inventaran" un verbo que expresara exacta y castizamente el acto de bajar al agua un hidroplano.

Después de rechazar "apontar" e "icarear" o "icarizar", indicados por algunos entendidos, y aun el "amarizar", también propuesto, por no ser accesible al pueblo, y evocarles a los eruditos el recuerdo de "amarus", cosa amarga, que el hidroplano no toca si cae en un río—que podría ser el de la Plata—, propone "aondar", sin hache, para distinguirlo de "ahondar" con ella. Para terminar, agrega, con lógica aceptable a nuestro parecer, las siguientes palabras: Como "afondar" es irse a fondo, usado como intransitivo, así "aondar", como intransitivo, también puede ser irse a las ondas, al agua. Este verbo tiene las dos condiciones requeridas: el "a" indica el movimiento descendente, y "onda" (del latín "unda"), el agua. Nadie ignora que en poesía, y aun en prosa, se dice "onda" u "ondas" en igual de "agua".

Becoming blind in adult life, a Lancashire man who had previously worked as a school caretaker, has by concentration and perseverance developed a sense of touch so keen that he readily distinguishes the colors of dyed materials used for rug making, says the London Daily Mail.

M. Briestley, a minister of health inspector, addressing at Cambridge the Eastern Counties Association for the Blind recently, said he had tested the man. In every instance the man distinguished the colors quite accurately by sense of touch alone. He had also accurately followed a lead pencil line on a piece of canvas and worked by it.

System Among Birds

Warblers, kinglets, chickadees, nuthatches and creepers while working through the branches in quest of tiny insect prey, keep up an insistent lisping so that they need apply their sharp eyes only to the problem of catching game. Their ears tell them just where their nearest neighbor is located. In this way much confusion is avoided. A bird does not crowd upon his neighbor; he picks fresh territory to hunt and all the while he can keep in touch with his fellows.

Only in the Willows

A characteristic distinguishing the willow family from practically all others is that both the pollen-bearing and the seed-producing flowers are arranged in drooping tassels, says "Tree Habits" from the American Nature Association. Numerous other trees have their pollen-bearing flowers arranged in this fashion, but in no other family are the seed-producing flowers also grouped in this distinctive way.—[Exchange.

ROTTED TIMBER IN DOKKIE CRASH

Cause of Collapse of Grand Stand Decided

Last of Injured Persons at Hospital Sent Home

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

MONROVIA, July 26.—A decay flaw in an 8x10 plank was blamed this morning by local Knights of Pythias, after inspecting the jumbled mass of lumber on Point Lookout which last night was part of a temporary amphitheater and collapsed with 500 men who were witnessing the semiannual ceremonial of El Borak Temple, Los Angeles, Dramatic Order of the Knights of Khorassan.

The timber in question was the main support of the center of the sixty-foot section of bleachers which fell. Eye witnesses stated that the section started to sink in the middle first, pulling down the seats on each side. Thirty feet at the north end of the same side did not collapse. Two men, who stayed at the Monrovia Hospital until this afternoon and who were seated at the center of the section, stated that there was no warning cracking, but that the seats merely started to sink slowly, giving a sensation much like a descending elevator, and they suddenly found themselves mixed up in a struggling mass of arms, legs and tangled lumber.

Workmen were busy at daylight this morning tearing down the remainder of the three-sided grandstand.

Of the thirty-one men who were treated at the hospital only two remained all night. They were James Hoenig, 1162 North Coronado street, and A. C. Brotherson, 127 South Griffin street, both of Los Angeles, who were believed to have suffered fractured ribs. They were removed to their homes in Los Angeles this afternoon.

Several local men who were given temporary treatment were found to have suffered more serious injuries than thought. X-ray examination this morning revealed that Herbert Ingham, 526 East Lemon avenue, had several bones broken in his right foot. Dr. F. F. Frederick, well-known local chiropractor, was painfully cut and mashed about the face, legs and feet.

"It certainly was a disastrous ending for the biggest and most spectacular Dokkie event ever attempted in Southern California," declared William Feeler, Chancellor Commander of the host lodge here. "But we can thank God no one was killed. That such a thing could happen without fatal injuries is nothing short of a miracle."

The ceremonial had not been in progress more than thirty minutes when the crash came. Frank Tyner of Los Angeles, master of ceremonies, announced that an executive session would be held on August 5, and that the ceremonial would be resumed at the next regular meeting of the Temple on Saturday, August 15, at the Knights of Pythias Castle Hall, 230 South Spring street, Los Angeles.

Oxnard Sugar Plants Ready for Beet Crops

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

OXNARD, July 26.—Manager Rooney of the Oxnard factory of the American Sugar Beet Company, has returned from his annual business trip to Denver and Rockyford plants of the company and is now directing his attention to the opening of the 1925 sugar campaign here. Plowing and hauling of beets from local fields will start on August 3 and slicing will start on August 8, when the factory run will officially open. The campaign is expected to run about seventy-five days this year. An increase of 25 per cent in tonnage over last year is anticipated by the sugar factory. Much more land was planted than in 1924. Beets look fine and were damaged very little, if at all, during the recent hot spell.

PLANS FOR WIDENING SAN FERNANDO ROAD

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

SAN FERNANDO, July 26.—A meeting to be sponsored by the San Fernando Chamber of Commerce will be conducted on the 28th inst. for the purpose of discussing plans for the widening and paving of San Fernando Road in San Fernando Valley. Members from all the chambers of commerce in the valley have been invited to attend, and it is probable that Councilman Randall of the First District will be principal speaker. It is planned to reach a decision that will cause work to start on the road within a very short time. San Fernando Road, through San Fernando Valley, is one of the most traveled highways in the Southland. Narrowness of the road at certain sections is a menace to traffic, various engineers have pointed out.

DELAY IN LANKERSHIM OVER LIGHT TRANSFER

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

LANKERSHIM, July 26.—Not until after November 2 will Lankershim users of light and power be served by the municipality. The State Railroad Commission has set that date for the hearing of the application of the city to acquire the lines of the Edison Company. It is asserted that the reason for the delay is the inability of the commission's engineers to finish surveys and make appraisal of the property. The delay is no inconvenience to Lankershim consumers, as the Edison Company will continue the service that it has given before and snce annexation of this section to Los Angeles.

RECALL INSTIGATOR GONE

Huntington Beach Resting Easy Since Removal of Agitator to Long Beach

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 26.—The defeat of recall petitions which have been directed at Richard Drew and James Macklin was being predicted here today with the withdrawal from this city of Amos Huston, leader of the recall forces.

Huston, for the past several months, has been active in circulating recall petitions and presented the petitions to City Clerk W. R. Wright. He has also been instrumental in bringing court actions against the city officials for failing to act on the recall petitions.

With the removal of Huston and his family from this city, it is believed that the recall disturbance will lag from lack of a leader. Huston, with his family, has moved to Long Beach to make his home.

The petitions asking for the recall of James Macklin and Richard Drew are now in the hands of City Clerk W. R. Wright. The petition directed against Macklin would affect H. T. Dunning, who was recently appointed to succeed Macklin following his resignation. The two petitions have been before the Trustees for several months.

The City Trustees are acting on the advice of City Attorney L. W. Blodget in not acting on the documents. Blodget advised the Board that the City Clerk had failed to certify positively to the petitions, and that the certificate attached by the Clerk was based on "information and belief." The City Clerk, on the other hand, declares that it is impossible for him to certify positively to the petitions.

The matter will remain standing as it is unless some definite step is taken by the recall advocates. The Trustees do not meet again until August 3. Court actions brought by the recallers to compel the Trustees to act on the petitions have failed.

Traffic Law Violators Are in Majority

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, July 26.—Violators of city traffic ordinances, gamblers, vagrants and drunkards are held largely responsible for the 4871 arrests made by the police department in the past fiscal year, according to figures appearing in a report from Chief of Police Dupes. In the report silent figures tell the tale of one of the greatest menaces to life that has arisen in modern times, the careless autoist. Nearly 3000 arrests were made during the year of drivers disobeying the city traffic ordinances and 909 arrests were made of violators of the California Vehicle Act.

One hundred and ninety-eight cases of drunkenness were handled by the police this year in which alcoholic concoctions ranging from suspicious moonshine to hair tonic and canned heat served the purpose of offering to their partakers a short-lived state of inebriation.

"Bakersfield's floating population" of vagrants, as checked by the police in arrests made, numbered 128 in strength. All were passed through the police department to the Police Court, where the majority were given floating sentences of 180 days in the County Jail—suspended.

Fines collected totaled $20,788, of which $17,363 was paid by prohibition-law violators.

SCHOOL HEAD FOR BURBANK CHOSEN

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

BURBANK, July 26.—Two prominent Southern California educators, F. Stillwell Moore and Leonard F. Collins, will head the Burbank High and grammar schools, respectively, the coming year, their contracts having been announced by the school board. Both principals have served the local schools for several years, during which time four new buildings have been completed, having been made necessary by an increased enrollment of several hundred per cent.

New buildings in South and West Burbank are now under construction and will be completed by the opening date of the schools in September. These buildings were vigorously demanded by the residents of these districts to take care of the school needs of grammar grades, and they will be under the supervision of Mr. Collins.

ADD LIFE GUARDS AT HUNTINGTON BEACH

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 26. Two additional life guards are on daily duty here. One was made necessary recently when hot weather brought so many people to the beach that more were in swimming at Seventeenth and Twenty-third streets than were at the bath-house.

The second additional guard was added yesterday, when blood poison set in a cut sustained by Fred Ott, head guard, the 4th inst. Ott had a bad gash in the great toe of his left foot while rescuing the body of one of two girls who met death in the surf here the 4th inst.

Several additional guards have also been employed for special Sunday duty. Delbert "Bud" Higgins, and Arthur Bergman are the new guards. Both are local men. Ott, despite his injuries, is on duty daily.

OVERDRAWS AT BANK TELLS IT TO JUDGE

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

HUNTINGTON PARK, July 26. H. M. Carsten, residing in the Florence district, was made acquainted with the fact that it is contrary to the banking laws to overdraw one's account. He was charged with having issued two checks on the West Adams State Bank, and was brought before Judge Edward Miller here, where he pleaded guilty. He was given a six months' suspended sentence and released on one years' probation.

FIG AND CARROT IN DIET COMBINE

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

SAN FERANADO, July 26. In an effort to use all its agricultural and horticultural resources, San Fernando Valley now is planning to start a new health-food plant, in which figs and carrots are to be the main ingredients.

W. R. Wrest is the owner of the new health-food patent, figs and carrots being regarded as the best of dietary foods.

It is planned to open a factory on a site east of Lankershim and south of San Fernando, if investigations now being made end with good result.

L. H. Boyston, prominent valley business man, is looking into the sources of supply. Carrots, he finds, can be obtained in wholesale quantities in the valley. He is now surveying the fig output with the Chatsworth and Clymar fig gardens as a basis for calculations.

Menace of Pine Bark Beetle to be Combatted

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

REDLANDS, July 26.—The County Forestry Board here has made a survey of the San Bernardino Moutains, according to George S. Hinckley, city engineer, and has found the Pine Bark beetle doing so much damage that John P. Coy, county horticultural commissioner, has been appointed to bring the danger before the State Forestry Department.

From the data secured in the survey Mr. Coy plans to mail to the State Forestry Department in Sacramento a detailed report asking that the State department make a careful survey in the beetle infected areas and then remove the trees and thus eliminate the pest.

Eight or ten forest tracts in the San Bernardino Mountains are infected by the beetle. The tracts vary in extent from a quarter of an acre to three acres. There are tracts infected scattered all over the mountain range, Skyline, Arrowhead, Crestline, Barton, Flats, Swarthout and Wrightwood.

The beetle kills the tree in which it lives by residing in the bark and taking the tree's nourishment for itself and brood. When the brood reaches maturity it spreads in all directions and contaminates other trees.

It is believed that it constitutes a grave menace to all the forests of the south. The prescribed manner for destruction of the trees is by burning.

PEACH HARVEST IN FULL SWING

Ontario District Canneries Increase Crews

Steady Employment for 2000 Persons Assured

Weekly Pay Roll There Will Approximate $30,000

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

ONTARIO, July 26.—With preliminary runs completed, Ontario district canneries are in readiness to start in earnest tomorrow on the harvest and packing of the peach crop, it was announced today. A survey of the situation indicates that about 2000 persons will be assured steady employment throughout the major portion of the summer and weekly pay rolls will total approximately $30,000, it is said.

The Ontario plant of the California Co-operative Canneries at Campus avenue and State street, the largest institution of its kind in the State, will give employment at the start to 500 persons, which number is expected to be increased to 700 at the peak of the season.

This plant's pay roll will run approximately $15,000 a week, according to W. D. Cary, manager.

The plant of the Cutler-Lobingier Packing Company on East Main street is expected to start with between 350 and 375 employees and a pay roll of between $6000 and $7000.

Although the peach crop this season is reported to be only 65 per cent of normal, the run of the Cutler-Lobingier plant will be three times as great as that of last year, according to Paul H. Parrish, superintendent.

The runs of the Golden State Cannery in the Cucamonga district and of the Stearns Cannery in the Wineville section to the east, both of which are expected to get well under way this week, will raise the total number employed in fruit packing hereabouts to 2000 and the total weekly pay roll to approximately $30,000, it is said.

With the coming of the freestone peaches in about two weeks, the co-operative cannery expects to establish a dry yard in connection with its plant, where 300 or 400 additional persons will be given employment. Large armies of men also will be engaged in picking the fruit in local orchards.

Navy Inspection is Completed at San Diego Port

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, July 26.—Curtis D. Wilbur, Secretary of the Navy, and members of the Congressional Naval Affairs Committee have completed their inspection of the shore establishments at San Diego and will leave tomorrow morning for the east coast on the transport Henderson.

Today the visitors spent their time in formal visits to different parts of the city and county. A trip to the back country also was arranged for those who wished to visit the mountains.

The inspection trip, it is believed, will bring great benefit to San Diego as an important naval base of the Pacific. A number of representatives made favorable comments on the various improvements and additions planned at the naval shore establishments here and it is expected that when the time comes for official action in providing the money for the contemplated work San Diego will get what it needs.

ASSESSED VALUE OF BAKERSFIELD HIGH

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, July 26.—Bakersfield's total assessed valuation for both east and west sides, exclusive of operative properties such as railroads, stands today at $28,758,210. This figure, which was given out by City Assessor Vance Van Riper, is $1,376,030 higher than last fiscal year's assessment of $27,383,180.

TO HAVE NIGHT PATROL

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

LANKERSHIM, July 26.—Demands of Lankershim merchants for a private patrol system, met answer today when Charles E. Woodworth received from the Los Angeles Police Commission a permit to operate a night patrol. Twenty merchants state they will take advantage of the new service. Woodworth is father of A. H. Woodworth, member of the Van Nuys police force.

DUOS LEAD IN NAMES FOR GIRLS

Betty Seems to be Favored by Mothers for Daughters' Combination Cognomen

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

REDLANDS, July 26.—The ideas of mothers about names for their daughters have changed wonderfully in the past few years according to the observations made by S. U. Graham, deputy city clerk, who receives all the birth records for the city.

Euphonious combinations are now the thing, says Graham and the Betty duos lead all the rest. There are Betty Janes, and Betty Anns, Betty Lees, and Betty a dozen other combinations. Other names that are showing great increases are Marilyn, Maxine, Gwendoline, Barbara, Roberta and Jean. Of this group Barbara is the leader.

In the records of twenty-five years ago double names were not very common. Mary Jane, Ruby May, Minnie Priscilla, were somewhat frequent then but it wasn't often that mother wanted daughter to be known by both names. Mary, Dorothy, Helen, Jane, those were the names then, with a fair sprinkling of Minnie, Elsie, Katie and so on.

Mary is still a popular name, although usually daughter changes it to Marie of Marye or something like that. Usually it is associated with some other name now.

Names for boys do not show much change in style except there are not many Bible names as there used to be.

Cameron Rites at Hanford by Brother Elks

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

HANFORD, July 26.—The body of Duncan Roderick Cameron, retired business man and a former Mayor of Hanford, who passed away suddenly at the dinner table of his daughter, Mrs. Harry T. Hinman, in San Francisco Saturday night, is to be brought to this city for burial.

Deceased was a native of Williamstown, Ont., aged 72 years, and in early manhood was engaged with his father in building many of the light houses that dot the St. Lawrence River between Cornwell and the Bay of Fundy. Later Mr. Cameron moved to British Columbia and engaged in engineering and lumbering. Subsequently he became assistant auditor of the Denver and Rio Grande Railroad Company at Denver.

He came to Hanford in 1888. Here he engaged in the real estate business and in merchandising. Mr. Cameron served as member of the Board of Education, City Trustee and Mayor. His wife died some years ago. The deceased is survived by two sons, Frank M. Cameron of the staff of the Hanford Morning Journal, and Walter W. Cameron, a business man of Hanford, and one daughter, Minerva Cameron of San Francisco.

Mr. Cameron was a life member of Hanford Lodge of Elks, which will conduct the graveside service at Hanford Cemetery Tuesday. The officiating clergyman is to be Rev. F. Augustus Martyr of the Church of the Savior, Episcopal.

San Diego Hotel Bell Boy Liquor Plot Uncovered

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, July 26.—An alleged bell-boy liquor conspiracy, said to have been in operation in four large hotels of San Diego, was uncovered last night when Phil Pollock, 22 years of age, at the San Diego Hotel, and Richard Kirk, 35, alleged to be a liquor wholesaler, were arrested after officers had made a carefully planned raid and seized a large quantity of gin.

Kirk was arrested after he is alleged to have delivered a case of gin at the hotel, and Pollock was arrested in the hotel. While the officers were searching Pollock's room, where the liquor was found, bell boys from three other hotels called by telephone asking for deliveries of booze. Although Kirk and Pollock were booked on charges of violating the Volstead Act, they probably will face conspiracy charges with a penitentiary sentence if convicted, according to the arresting officers.

IRATE CITIZEN THREATENS

Pasadena Taxpayer Objects to Reassessment Made by City Directors on New Street

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, July 26.—After the Board of City Directors had readjusted the assessments on property owners for the opening of Oakland avenue several times and had finally reached what they believed was a peaceable settlement for the great project, another and greater obstacle sprang up. This latter obstacle to the improvement was in the form of a protest from Harry H. Godber, owner of the Godber building.

Mr. Godber in a highly irate frame of mind, appeared before the board and accused the members of treating him unfairly, in one breath, and in another, threatened them with an injunction suit. It appeared that Mr. Godber was one of the citizens and property owners who did not favor the board's readjustment of the much protested assessment district.

"My assessment was unwarranted and I feel that I am forced to serve an injunction against the city. I will instruct my attorney to serve the injunction at once and will endeavor to stop action on this project until my assessment is readjusted," Mr. Godber said.

Mr. Godber was but one of many citizens who protested against the high assessment of opening Oakland avenue between Colorado and Walnut streets. Charles H. Prisk, editor and publisher of the Pasadena Star-News, was one of the first to protest the assessment. Mr. Prisk's new building will be on a corner when the avenue is opened. Other property owners appearing at the meeting told the directors that although they felt that they were not getting what they were entitled to they would accept the reassessments.

The principal act of the board protested by Mr. Godber was that in the reassessment all the property owners' payments were reduced while his was left at a high figure.

STREET PAVING PUSHED

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 26.—The City Trustees of this city have carried on one of the largest paving programs ever carried out by a city of this size, was the declaration by City Engineer E. M. Billings, who announced that during the past two years more than $500,000 has been expended for paving.

Statistics announced by Billings were startling. It was revealed that during the past two years a total of 2,172,500 square feet of paving material five inches thick has been laid here at a cost of $626,100.

Eleven streets have been paved, two are under construction, and bids will soon be called for on another street. The longest of the paved streets is Ocean avenue. Ocean avenue is more than five miles in length, and for more than three miles is eighty feet in width. The narrowest street to be paved here is forty feet and many of the streets are fifty feet wide.

Before the start of the paving program two years ago, there were 1,448,000 square feet of pavement in town. The paving laid before the campaign started was only four inches thick and cost the city a total sum of $303,000, according to Billings.

Among the streets which have been paved are Ocean avenue, Fifth Fifteenth, Sixteenth, Fourteenth, Seventh and Tenth streets; Orange, Walnut, Palm and California avenues have been paved. Walnut avenue from Eleventh to Seventeenth street; and Twelfth street from Ocean avenue to Orange avenue are now under construction. Trustees will soon ask for bids on Olive avenue from First to Twenty-third streets.

Ornamental street lights, which are intended to make this city known as one of the best-lighted towns on the Coast, are being installed on all streets. A total of 420 high-powered electric lights have been installed in the city since the start of the paving program. Of this amount ninety-one are along Ocean avenue. More than 150 gas lights and numerous other electric lights also light up the city.

Valley Citizens Want Bus Line to Run on Loop

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

RESEDA, July 26.—Following a meeting of the executive committee of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of San Fernando Valley, a committee was appointed to call upon Pacific Electric officials and urge that company to conduct a bus line to serve the western end of the valley. It is contended that there is sufficient patronage for the Pacific Electric to operate a bus line to run with hourly service from Reseda avenue and Ventura Boulevard, through Runnymede, Reseda, Zelzah, Owensmouth and Girard. Such a line would travel over a large loop territory and should find sufficient patrons to make the line pay, its promoters aver. At present, the only transportation service in this part of the valley is furnished by the Pacific Electric trolley line that runs between Van Nuys and Owensmouth. Runnymede and Zelzah are isolated points.

Second Attempt at Suicide Over Love Spat Fails

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, July 26.—William C. Rade, 25 years of age, will recover from a self-inflicted bullet wound in his chest and arm, it was reported tonight at the Pasadena Hospital, where the man was taken after he tried to kill himself upon the doorstep of his sweetheart, Ellen Dale, 726 Sunset avenue. The suicide attempt was the second one by Rade, caused by lovers' quarrels with the young woman.

DROP OF ORANGES IN JULY THIS YEAR

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

REDLANDS, July 26.—The June drop on oranges, which turned out to be a July drop this year, is over, and it was not bad, according to the growers. The trees have as much fruit on them as they should mature and the outlook for a good crop is excellent.

The hot weather has not worried the growers, for it is the general belief now that the hot weather is the best of the growing weather for the fruit. The oranges now are of large size, the navels being nearly the size of golf balls in some districts.

There is every reason to believe that the prices the coming season will be good. The crop is not a bumper one, indications are that it will mature early now, and be ready for the market at the time the market can best receive it.

The fumigations and spraying, which are carried on during the months of July and August to kill the scale pest, which does so much damage to the orange trees, are now well under way. There are several companies working here.

COMMERCE CHAMBER TO CLOSE AFFAIRS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

HANFORD, July 26.—A special meeting of the membership of the Kings County Chamber of Commerce has been called by President E. L. Sedelmeier for Wednesday evening at 7:30 to consider the disposal of the assets and the disbanding of the organization, in view of the action of the Supervisors in refusing to approve the budget and appropriate $12,000 annually for the support of the county promotion and publicity organization.

FLIVVER AND MULE FIGHT

Jinny Sends Lizzie to Garage But Breaks Leg in Doing It and Is Shot

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

HANFORD, July 26.—A mule running at large contested the right of way on the Guernsey Highway with a flivver occupied by Edward McClellan and James McClellan of Hanford and Cecil McClellan of San Francisco, lads who were returning from a swim in an irrigation ditch. The mule sent the flivver to a garage for repairs but a broken leg caused the mule, belonging to William Clark, to be shot. The boys were not seriously hurt.

Street-Paving Bids Are to be Opened Monday

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

ALHAMBRA, July 26.—For the second time in the past few months, bids will be opened tomorrow night for the paving of Main street from Fremont avenue to the east city limits at the meeting of the City Commission. The bids will be referred to the city engineering department for a check and selection of a contractor for the important improvement will be made at the meeting a week later.

About thirty bids, the greatest number ever to have been submitted for a public improvement here, are expected. Contractors in large numbers have been showing an interest in the improvement, according to Assistant City Engineer Otto N. Rugen, and the city expects to get a good price for the work.

Once before bids were opened and the contract was awarded for the paving of Main street, but the improvement was halted because of faulty proceedings.

At their meeting tomorrow the Commissioners expect to approve the sale of $310,000 bonds voted last month for an addition to the City Jail and for improvements in the water and sewer departments. Bids will probably be asked on the three issues on August 10, according to City Clerk R. Bruce Wallace.

RAIL SHIPPING FROM BURBANK INCREASES

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

BURBANK, July 26.—Southern Pacific local agent J. B. Davis of this city, reports that business for his company shows decided improvement this year, as compared with the same period in 1924. He attributes this to the fact that Libby, McNiel & Libby operated on a small scale in 1924 while this year they are running to capacity. The McKeon Canning Company also has expanded their plant, which admits of almost double their former capacity. Both of these plants going at full run means extremely heavy car-lot shipments of raw material and finished products, and boosts the business of the railway company, as well as the bank clearings.

The combined employee list of the two plants is between 600 and 700 men and women, and the wage distributed among local business men is stimulating all lines of commercial activity.

BURBANK PROVIDED ADDED ELECTRICITY

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

BURBANK, July 26.—This city was without light and power for two hours yesterday, while Public Utility Superintendent William E. French was cutting in the three new 1000-kilowatt transformers recently completed by the Southern California Edison Company, at a cost in excess of $34,000.

The new equipment, combined with that already in service, gives the city a total capacity of 4200 kilowatts, which is sufficient to take care of the needs of several thousands in added population, and at the rate the city is growing it will soon be needed.

In 1920 the city had 643 electric meters, while today there are approximately 3300, and in this increase is reflected the necessity for the transformers which the service department was forced to install.

SEBASTIAN COW HIGH IN KERN COUNTY, TEST

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, July 26.—Again one of J. L. Sebastian's famous cows leads the list of all animals registered in the Kern County Cow-testing Association for milk and butter-fat production. This animal, Alpha, of Sebastian's Wasco hard, gave 2388 pounds of milk last month and 76.4 pounds of butter fat. Sophia, owned by Ransburger of Wasco, was second among the great cows, giving 1581 pounds of milk and 74.3 pounds of butter fat.

Why the One-Profit★ Coach Excels

—it is engineered and built complete by one organization—Studebaker. It is a perfectly coordinated, harmonious unit. This means better performance, greater comfort and increased mileage at an accepted coach price

AN AUTOMOBILE, like any other highly specialized machine, runs more smoothly—lasts longer—gives greater satisfaction—when its thousands of elements are carefully coordinated into one harmonious unit.

Obviously, a better car can be produced when all vital parts are designed, engineered and manufactured by one organization.

The Studebaker car is built on this "one-profit" principle. Not only all the engines, but also all the bodies and all the axles, gear sets, differentials, springs, clutches, steering gears, gray iron castings and drop forgings, are manufactured in Studebaker plants. This is not true of any other automobile in the fine car field.

The Studebaker, therefore, being built as a unit—functions as a unit—with all of the advantages of unit over assembled construction.

"Coach" in name—
Coupe in quality

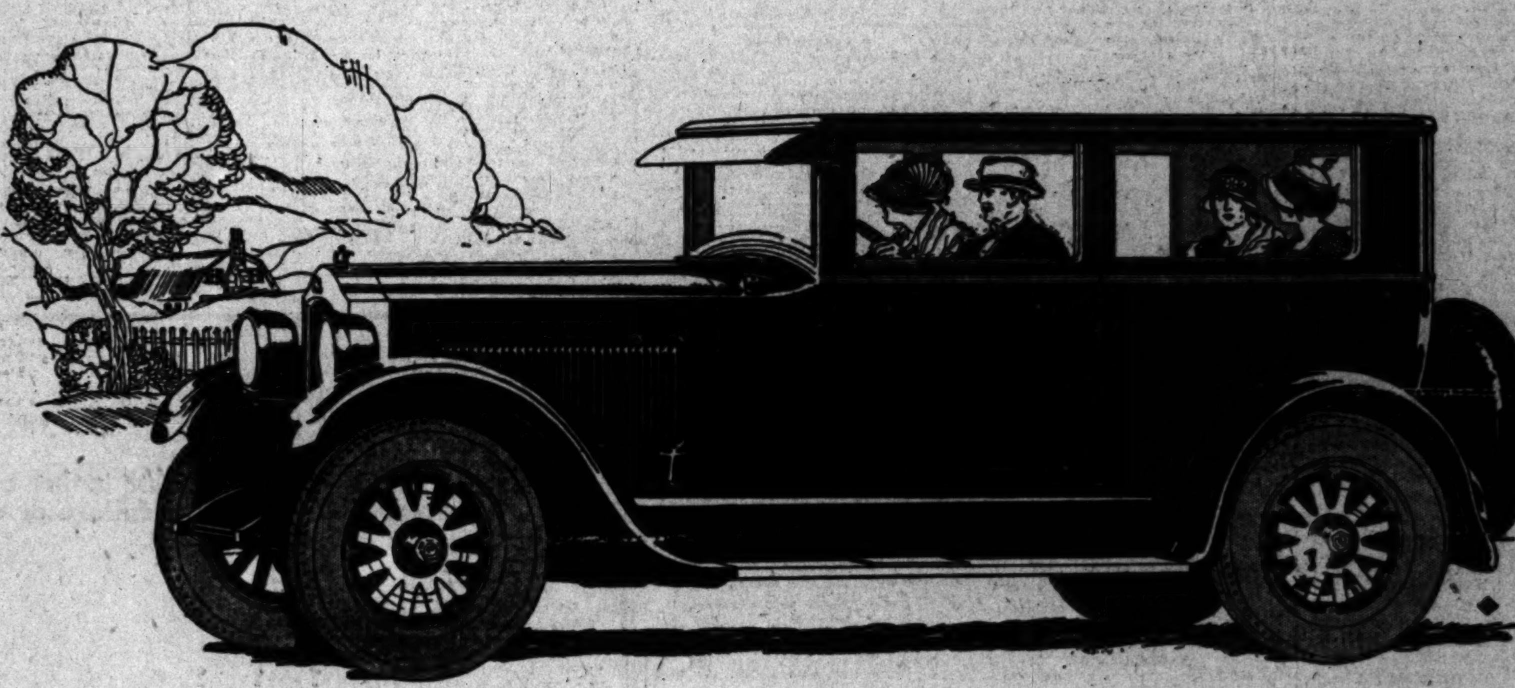
The Studebaker Special Six Coach is an outstanding example of the finer quality made possible by this "one-profit" principle of motor car manufacture.

This automobile is really a fine 5-passenger coupe, but is called a "coach" because it carries the lowest price at which an enclosed car has ever been sold on the famous Studebaker Special Six chassis.

Here is a Coach in which nothing has been stinted or skimped. It is called a "coach" because it is inexpensive, but it is not cheap.

In this Coach fine grades of upholstery are used. You'll find the same quality of workmanship and materials in all hidden places that you see out in the open. The finest northern ash and hard maple are concealed in the body. One piece of steel looks like another, but some grades are tougher—more enduring. Studebaker pays premiums to get the best.

Many of the superiorities of this Coach are invisible—and therefore all the more important. But here are some you can easily see and check against competing cars: gasoline gauge on the dash, 8-day clock, automatic windshield cleaner, rear view mirror, door pockets, rear window curtains, ash receiver, trunk rack, ornamental pull-cord, cowl ventilator, stop light, dome light, tire carrier locked by the same key that locks door, and the splendid coincidental lock to ignition and steering wheel. Lights are operated from a switch on the steering wheel which is left free for this convenience by the elimination of the spark lever. In all Studebakers the spark is automatically controlled by the speed of the motor.



Your Studebaker dealer will sell you any car in his stock (new or used) on a fair and liberal budget payment plan.

This Special Six Coach is lacquered in two styles—beautiful Studebaker blue or a rich duotone, Wyandotte green-gray above and Ponca green gray below.

★By a "one-profit car" we mean a motor car that, in its vital parts, is manufactured by one organization—thus cutting out the extra profits and overheads which arise when vital parts are bought from others. There are only two cars that can be thus classified, because —of all the makes of passenger cars built in the United States, only 42 build all their own motors—and one of the 42 is Studebaker.

—of the 42 which claim to make their own motors, many merely machine and assemble the parts made by others. Only 14 of the 42 make the iron castings, stampings and forgings which go into their motors—and one of the 14 is Studebaker

—only 5 make all their own bodies—and one of the 5 is Studebaker

—only 3 make all their own springs, steering gear, differentials, gear sets and clutches—and one of the 3 is Studebaker

—only 2 make all their own motors, bodies, clutches, springs, axles, gear sets, differentials, steering gear, gray iron castings and drop forgings. One of these 2 is Studebaker and the other is Ford.

Studebaker has achieved one-profit manufacture without expensive financing, mergers, holding companies, or other agencies which create overhead. Studebaker has no bonded debt and no bank loans. The tremendous plants which permit such efficient manufacture of fine cars are the result of 73 years of sound, conservative business. The 14,000 stockholders who own this corporation have been content with reasonable returns. Earnings, 50% of which have been retained for plant development, built the solid foundation of one hundred million dollars now concentrated on the production of one-profit cars such as this Special Six Coach.

In its insistence upon comfort, this car is typically Studebaker. There is comfort in the extra heavy cushions—in the big springs—in the full balloon tires for which steering gear, fenders, etc., have been specially designed—in the ease with which passengers may enter or leave the rear of the car—in the extra large windows and windshield.

You can buy all this style because this is the only "one-profit" coach on the market today. Instead of piling profit on profit, as is the practice with many manufacturers, Studebaker eliminates extra profits of outside parts suppliers and passes on the savings to purchasers. Being an independent concern, free of all combines or financial entanglements, Studebaker purchasing agents are unrestricted in their search for quality and value.

Buy now—no need to delay
—no "yearly models"

You may buy this Coach today—or on any day of the year—with the assurance that there will be no "annual announcement" to make it artificially a "last year's model."

For Studebaker has discontinued the custom of presenting a new line of cars every year. Instead, Studebakers will be kept up to date all of the time.

Go see this dependable "one-profit" Studebaker Coach today. Call upon any of the dealers listed below for a demonstration. You owe it to yourself to find out how this Studebaker Special Six Coach has completely changed all standards of value in the coach field. Do it at once—and learn how much quality automobile your money will buy.

NEW CARIBBEAN SERVICE LOOMS

Plans to Go Into Effect Immediately

Move Meets With Favor in Local Circles

Coffee Association Will Support Line

A new direct passenger and freight service to Los Angeles and San Francisco from the Caribbean ports of Colombia, Puerto Colombia and Cartagena is to be inaugurated immediately by the Panama Mail Steamship Company, it was announced yesterday by Clay Hutchinson, Southern California general agent, following the arrival of the Panama Mail liner Colombia from New York and Havana.

The new service, Mr. Hutchinson said, will be inaugurated with the departure from New York on August 19 of the liner Ecuador, from Puerto Colombia on August 25, and from Cartagena August 27. She will arrive at Los Angeles Harbor September 13 and at San Francisco September 15.

The object of the direct service, it was announced, is primarily for the handling of green coffee to Los Angeles and San Francisco. A great portion of the Colombian green coffee that has heretofore been going to New Orleans will now be distributed throughout the country by way of the two California ports, Panama Mail officials said. Support of the Green Coffee Association of the United States has been promised for the new service.

The new service, which is viewed with favor in local shipping circles, follows the action of the Panama Mail in bringing its four Central American liners, City of Panama, City of San Francisco, San Juan and Corinto, into Los Angeles Harbor on both northbound and southbound voyages.

PICTURE COMPANY TO BRING CLIPPER HERE

San Pedro, the sleepy port she visited half a century ago when on her maiden voyage around Cape Horn as a crack California clipper, is to be the scene of the end of days for the old, full-rigged ship Indiana. She is due from San Francisco in early August to be used off this port in the filming of a marine picture now in production by Frank Lloyd.

The Indiana, which has been used for years in the salmon fleet of the Alaska Packers' Association, was built by Edward Sewall at Bath, Me., in 1876, and is one of the few Bath-built ships still on the sea. A few months ago she was sold to a San Francisco junk firm and was slated for scrapping until leased by the film concern. The schooner Sequoia and three other old windjammers are also to be used in the production.

The motorship Vaquero, which has been utilized this summer in transporting Southland fishermen to the banks off the Channel Islands, will return today to her old trade of ferryboat for the herds of cattle and sheep on Santa Rosa, Santa Cruz and San Miguel islands. She will sail today for Santa Rosa Island and there will load a cargo of sheep to be transferred to new ranges on San Miguel Island, after which she will bring a load of cattle to the mainland markets. Representatives of the Vail Company, the Vaquero's owners, declare the recent heavy rains in the Santa Barbara Channel have brought excellent grazing out on the various island slopes.

The Standard Oil tanker Col. E. L. Drake has been allocated to service in the transport of gasoline from the El Segundo refineries to Los Angeles Harbor for foreign export, it was announced yesterday. She relieves the motorship E. T. Harper, which has been transferred to the Australian service.

Edwin T. Nichols, master of the Shipowners' Association of Los Angeles Harbor, announced late yesterday that the lease for the first floor of the Di Carlo Building at San Pedro, which will be the future headquarters of the Marine Service Bureau, is expected to be signed today.

The new lease will provide larger and adequate quarters for the association, which has been stationed in the one-story building at First street near Harbor Boulevard since its organization three years ago.

Nichols foresees but little immediate effect from the huge merger just announced by the Banning Company, the Associated Terminals and the Union Terminal Warehouse Company. More than 1500 longshoremen are daily assigned to work by the Marine Service Bureau, the only organization of its kind at the harbor.

The London Corporation, a Furness Line freighter in the semimonthly refrigerator service to this port, is due to dock here early today from San Francisco. She is stopping to complete loading a cargo of fresh and canned fruits which she will deliver to London, Manchester and Liverpool.

The huge freighter is scheduled to put to sea tonight or early tomorrow to Europe with a capacity cargo of perishable merchandise.

Another foamite truck with which to fight oil fires both at refineries and at the docks has already been purchased and will be installed in the new wing now being constructed on the fire station at Fries avenue, Los Angeles Harbor, Battalion Chief J. C. Baly, senior officer in charge of the fire department at the port, announced yesterday.

The truck cost $14,000, while the wing and equipment for the truck cost $1650. The foamite truck will be stationed midway btewteen the two oil docks on Mormon Island and the Watson Refining Junction, the two points most exposed to oil fires.

The other foamite truck assigned to the harbor district is located with Fire Company No. 36, in the City Hall at San Pedro.

Successful readjustment of railroad freight rates to Los Angeles Harbor, and the stopping of discriminatory charges against local shippers, C. J. Colden, former president of the Board of Harbor Commissioners and now Councilmanic representative from the harbor district, stated yesterday depends entirely upon the completion of the Belt Line Railroad at the harbor.

The Belt Line Railroad, a municipal project, Colden points out, is designed to give all railroads with lines to the harbor district equal docking facilities at cheap but uniform rates, thus not discriminating against any portion of the port.

Under the present freight rates, San Francisco merchants can ship products to Arizona, Nevada and other points much closer to Los Angeles at approximately the same cost as local concerns.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 26.—With many of the largest liners on the Pacific scheduled to arrive or depart from this port, an exceptionally busy time is expected in San Francisco shipping circles during the present week.

Coming from New York the Panama Mail liner Columbia will lead the procession of arriving ships. It is carrying a good-sized passenger list.

The Oceanic Steamship Company steamer Sierra will sail for Australia by way of Honolulu, Tahiti, Pago Pago and Suva Monday with many passengers and a heavy cargo.

Three arrivals are scheduled for Tuesday. The first vessel to arrive will be the T. K. K. liner Shinyo Maru, coming with freight and passengers from the Far East. It will be followed by the Matson liner Matsonia and the coastwise liner Emma Alexander of the Pacific Steamship Company.

Two Dollar Line liners will arrive on Wednesday. The President Van Buren is coming from Marseilles via the Panama Canal and the President Cleveland from Manila.

Williams Steamship Company has announced that, effective with the steamer Willhilo's sailing the Williams Line will resume fortnightly stops at San Francisco and Oakland on eastbound runs. The Willhilo is due at San Francisco in August. The first Atlantic stop in the line's eastbound service will be Norfolk, effective early next month.

SEATTLE, July 26.—Three Alaska vessels with capacity passenger lists, including a number of delegations to the conclave of the Knights Templar, are due here tomorrow. The ships are the Yukon and Alameda of the Alaska Steamship Company fleet, and the Admiral Rogers of the Pacific Steamship Company line.

The vessels are also bringing heavy cargoes of fish and fish products.

PORTLAND (Or.) July 26.—Three shipments of lumber were made from St. Helens by vessels for the week ended Saturday, and the total was the highest for a number of weeks. Several steamers are due at St. Helens this week and the shipments will amount to several million feet.

The steamer David C. Meyer departed from St. Helens for Los Angeles and San Diego after taking on 350,000 feet of lumber to complete the 1,700,000-foot cargo, most of which was loaded at Portland mills.

Between 30,000 and 50,000 tons of zinc ore concentrates will be shipped to Europe from Anaconda, Mont., by way of Portland within the next few months, it was announced by Harry Brown, Pacific Coast manager of the Dyson Shipping Company.

The initial shipment of this ore will go out on the French Line steamer Arizona during the coming week.

TACOMA, July 26.—Exceptional quiet prevailed along the Tacoma waterfront Sunday, few vessels either arriving or departing at local docks. But two ships docked during the day, the Isis and the Glymont.

The Isis, a German motorship, docked this morning and will load about 2500 tons of copper for delivery in Germany. She will be in port several days.

The Glymont, with miscellaneous freight from California, berthed early this morning and sailed at noon on her return trip to Los Angeles.

Delay caused by the blowing out of two tubes in the boiler will make the Wapama, McCormick Line steam schooner, a week late in arriving in San Francisco, this trip, according to officers of the boat. The vessel was expected to get away last night, but now will not shift to Seattle until tomorrow evening. The vessel carries several hundred thousand feet of lumber from local mills.

SLATEN BICYCLE CHAMP

Captures Seventeen Out of Possible Twenty Points in Races Against Thirty-six Rivals

The most thrilling bicycle races so far this season in Southern California were witnessed yesterday by a large crowd of local cycle fans in the Mead trophy events for the amateur championship of the south. Lynn Slaten, the city's most promising pedaler, exceeded the most sanguine hopes by taking 17 out of a possible 20 points against thirty-six of the best riders in all the southland towns.

Those who have been following his training closely conceded him second place at best, but he flashed across the line first in three events, after battling his way through the preliminary heats. Chester Dysart, the Santa Ana wonder, cinched second honors by capturing the five-mile open, and fourth in the quarter and two-mile races. Edward Adams, his teammate from the orange town, took third by brilliant riding.

These races, while they have no bearing on the qualifications of riders in the State title events August 9th, nevertheless give the south strong hopes of vanquishing the aces from San Jose and San Francisco.

Rider	¼ mile	1 mile	2 miles	5 miles	Total
Lynn Slaten	5	5	5	2	17
Chester Dysart	1	..	1	5	7
Parker Adams	..	3	..	..	3

SUDS UPSET IN DOUBLE-HEADER

Fourteenth Victory Turned in by Clyde Barfoot

Wee Ludolph Holds Indians in Sundown Struggle

BY ROBERT E. RAY

Some 8000 fans journeyed out to Washington Park yesterday where Essick's Vernon Tigers staged a little surprise party for Red Killefer's Seattle Indians, who left last night for the great northwest. And it was a real surprise party, but to say that the Indians were surprised would be putting it mildly—they were astounded.

Clyde Barfoot

The nature of the surprise was that the Tigers took both games of a double-header from the Suds by scores of 5 to 3 and 2 to 1. The second game was shortened to eight innings to allow the Indians to catch a train for Seattle.

Clyde Barfoot took charge of the party in the first game, turning in his fourteenth victory of the season, while Wee Ludolph was the master of ceremonies in the twilight tilt. It was a great party for the home-folks.

[illegible] if did [illegible] a bad [illegible] in the [illegible] of the [illegible], the Indians. However, as the saying goes, you can't have parties and not expect your mouth to taste like the bottom of a parrot's cage the next morning.

As a result of the Tigers' double barreled victory, the series ended all tied up like a pretzel with cramps, each club having won four games.

A HUMDINGER

The sundown struggle was what is technically known as a humdinger, being in doubt until the last Seattle man was retired in the ninth and the last hot dog was sold. The Indians had filled the bases off Ludolph with only one out, one run needed to tie and

RABBIT PUNCHES

BY PAUL LOWRY

The "rasslin" war takes on new ramifications every day. Los Angeles, already broken out with eye gougers of various descriptions, is to be the battleground of the "trusts" and the "antitrusts." They are rapidly assembling their forces and within a fortnight the city will be cluttered up with every thick-necked athlete in the country who lays claim to wrestling ability of trust and antitrust degree.

Who belongs to the trust, and who belongs to the antis doesn't really make a great deal of difference, so long as you understand the lines drawn between the two forces. In Los Angeles the trust is commanded by Gen. Kenneth Dix, a lofty young fellow with red hair. The antis are bossed by Gen. Lou Daro, a squat person with a deep chest which slipped.

Both sides are trusts in every sense of the word. Each denies knowledge of any trust. But Gen. Daro won't speak to Gen. Dix and Gen. Dix looks daggers at Gen. Daro. Daro has the world's champion, Joe Stecher, and the Zbyszko brothers as his aces. Dix has Wayne Munn, Strangler Lewis and Toots Mondt.

But both Daro and Dix are merely pawns. The real powers are Billy Sandow, long-time manager of Strangler Lewis, for the trust, and Jack Curley for the antis.

Curley has been on the scene for over a month lining things up with the Olympic Auditorium, with whom Daro is associated. Everything was quiet until last week when Max Bauman, brother-in-law of Sandow, busted into town.

Then the fur began to fly. Dix, who hadn't been heard from for months, popped out of an empty sky and announced a show for Vernon, on the 30th inst., which beats Daro's best time at the new Olympic Auditorium by ten days. Of course, Daro has three shows to go on which he staged at the Armory, but his efforts there only seem to have stimulated an interest which Dix will take advantage of next Thursday night at Doyle's.

Dix scored again when Sandow wired Saturday offering

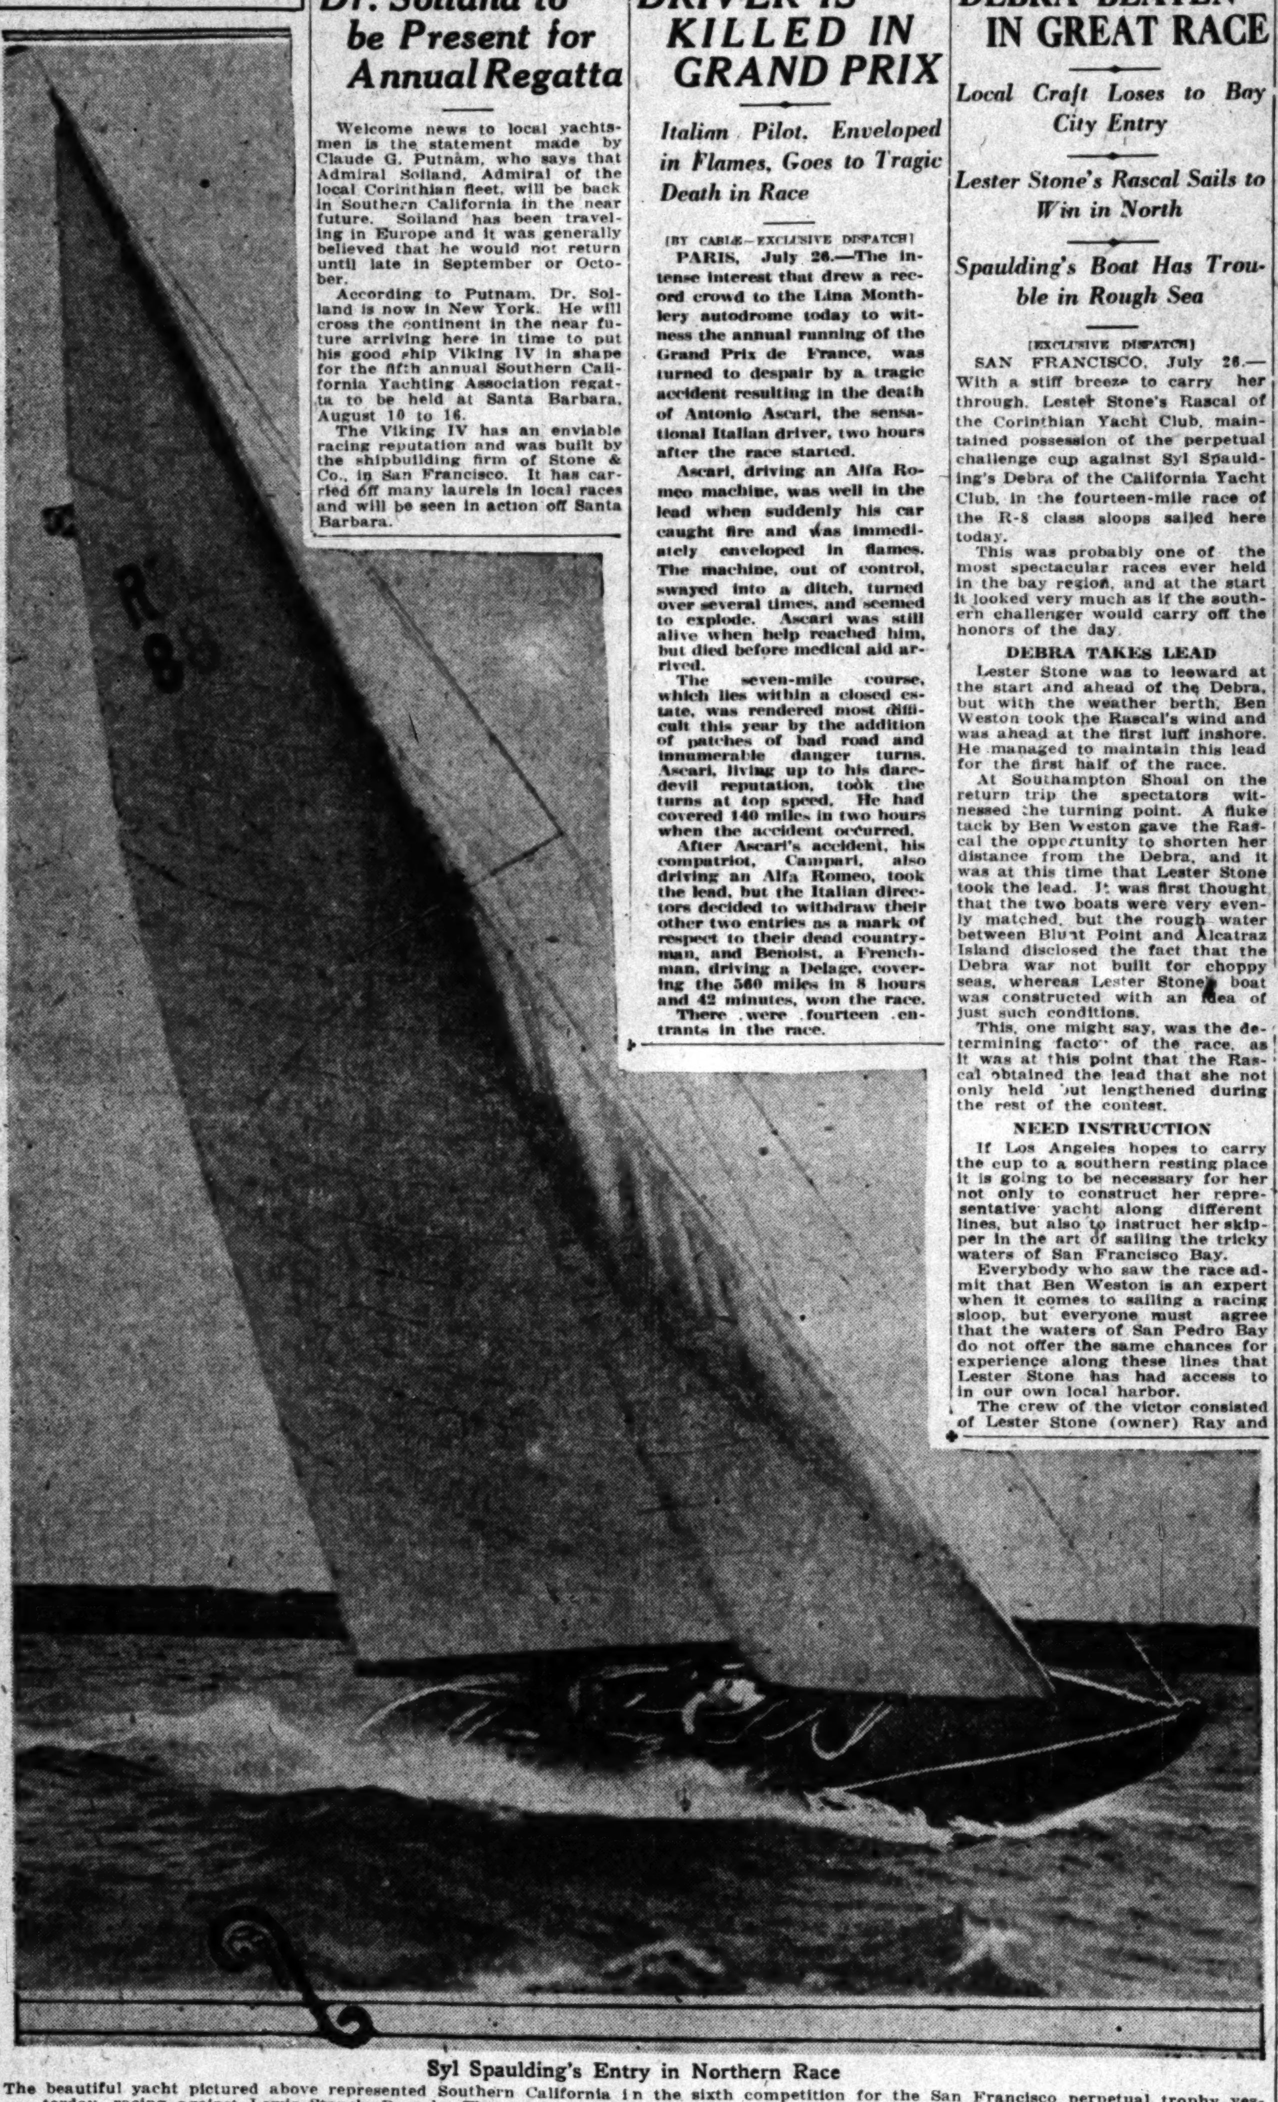
THE DEBRA



Syl Spaulding's Entry in Northern Race

The beautiful yacht pictured above represented Southern California in the sixth competition for the San Francisco perpetual trophy yesterday, racing against Lewis Stone's Rascal. The southern boats have never won the trophy but great hopes of victory yesterday were held in the Debra and its skipper, Commodore Weston, by local yachtsmen. The Rascal was too good however and trimmed the local entry in a thrilling race.

Dr. Soiland to be Present for Annual Regatta

Welcome news to local yachtsmen is the statement made by Claude G. Putnam, who says that Admiral Soiland, Admiral of the local Corinthian fleet, will be back in Southern California in the near future. Soiland has been traveling in Europe and it was generally believed that he would not return until late in September or October.

According to Putnam, Dr. Soiland is now in New York. He will cross the continent in the near future arriving here in time to put his good ship Viking IV in shape for the fifth annual Southern California Yachting Association regatta to be held at Santa Barbara, August 10 to 16.

The Viking IV has an enviable racing reputation and was built by the shipbuilding firm of Stone & Co., in San Francisco. It has carried off many laurels in local races and will be seen in action off Santa Barbara.

DRIVER IS KILLED IN GRAND PRIX

Italian Pilot, Enveloped in Flames, Goes to Tragic Death in Race

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PARIS, July 26.—The intense interest that drew a record crowd to the Lina Monthlery autodrome today to witness the annual running of the Grand Prix de France, was turned to despair by a tragic accident resulting in the death of Antonio Ascari, the sensational Italian driver, two hours after the race started.

Ascari, driving an Alfa Romeo machine, was well in the lead when suddenly his car caught fire and was immediately enveloped in flames. The machine, out of control, swayed into a ditch, turned over several times, and seemed to explode. Ascari was still alive when help reached him, but died before medical aid arrived.

The seven-mile course, which lies within a closed estate, was rendered most difficult this year by the addition of patches of bad road and innumerable danger turns. Ascari, living up to his daredevil reputation, took the turns at top speed. He had covered 140 miles in two hours when the accident occurred.

After Ascari's accident, his compatriot, Campari, also driving an Alfa Romeo, took the lead, but the Italian directors decided to withdraw their other two entries as a mark of respect to their dead countryman, and Benoist, a Frenchman, driving a Delage, covering the 560 miles in 8 hours and 42 minutes, won the race.

There were fourteen entrants in the race.

DEBRA BEATEN IN GREAT RACE

Local Craft Loses to Bay City Entry

Lester Stone's Rascal Sails to Win in North

Spaulding's Boat Has Trouble in Rough Sea

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 26.—With a stiff breeze to carry her through, Lester Stone's Rascal of the Corinthian Yacht Club, maintained possession of the perpetual challenge cup against Syl Spaulding's Debra of the California Yacht Club, in the fourteen-mile race of the R-8 class sloops sailed here today.

This was probably one of the most spectacular races ever held in the bay region, and at the start it looked very much as if the southern challenger would carry off the honors of the day.

DEBRA TAKES LEAD

Lester Stone was to leeward at the start and ahead of the Debra, but with the weather berth, Ben Weston took the Rascal's wind and was ahead at the first luff inshore. He managed to maintain this lead for the first half of the race.

At Southampton Shoal on the return trip the spectators witnessed the turning point. A fluke tack by Ben Weston gave the Rascal the opportunity to shorten her distance from the Debra, and it was at this time that Lester Stone took the lead. It was first thought that the two boats were very evenly matched, but the rough water between Blunt Point and Alcatraz Island disclosed the fact that the Debra was not built for choppy seas, whereas Lester Stone's boat was constructed with an idea of just such conditions.

This, one might say, was the determining factor of the race, as it was at this point that the Rascal obtained the lead that she not only held but lengthened during the rest of the contest.

NEED INSTRUCTION

If Los Angeles hopes to carry the cup to a southern resting place it is going to be necessary for her not only to construct her representative yacht along different lines, but also to instruct her skipper in the art of sailing the tricky waters of San Francisco Bay.

Everybody who saw the race admit that Ben Weston is an expert when it comes to sailing a racing sloop, but everyone must agree that the waters of San Pedro Bay do not offer the same chances for experience along these lines that Lester Stone has had access to in our own local harbor.

The crew of the victor consisted of Lester Stone (owner) Ray and Lee Kilbourne and Charlie Rice. The crew of the Debra was composed of Ben Weston, Syl Spaulding (owner,) H. N. Logan, Pat Dorsey and Capt. Bill Merry.

E. H. Volkman and W. R. Herlitz upheld the well-known hospitality of the Corinthian Yacht Club by postponing a cruise to the Stockton regions so that they might offer the services of their power boat Etta to the press of San Francisco.

CHAMP RISES TO GREAT HEIGHTS TO WIN MATCH

Starts Out Like a Whirlwind and Smashes Through to Victory; 6-4, 6-3, 9-7 is Score

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SKOKIE COUNTRY CLUB, GLENCOE (Ill.) July 26.—William Tilden II rising to rue championship heights proved himself the superman of tennis today when he defeated his ancient rival "Little Bill" Johnston of San Francisco for the Illinois State net title in a thrilling battle of back hands—6-4, 6-3, 9-7—before a colorful gallery of 7500, by far the largest crowd ever assembled at a tennis match in Chicago.

Bill Tilden

Tilden was Tilden of old. That, in short, tells the whole story. He covered the court with remarkable speed, making smashing returns of shots that only he could possibly have reached. Never has such tennis been displayed in Chicago and no one could have stood before it. "Little Bill" played craftily and steadily, but from the outset he was doomed to defeat. The champion removed his sweater before the start of play, something he has not done in a long time.

It was evident he was out to smash through to victory in jig time. Johnston won the first two games driving his forehand with tremendous power each shot seeming harder than the one before. Tilden then changed his tactics driving at the Coast star's backhand continually and from then on it was entirely a batle otf backhands.

Tilden broke through for five games in a row, scoring many of his points on cross-court backhand shots which went for placements. "Little Bill" rallied to take the next two games, but the Philadelphian won his own service for the set, 6-4.

TAKES FIRST TWO

The second set opened as though it would be a duplication of the first with Johnston taking the first two games. One of his points was gained on a short chop that fell for a placement just beyond the

VAN LANDINGHAM VICTOR

Pilots Star-Boat 298 to Victory Over Rivals in Fast Race at Newport Harbor

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEWPORT HARBOR, July 26.—C. E. Van Landingham surprised the season's leaders in today's Star-class races for Newport Harbor Yacht Club trophies when he sailed across the finish line, midst the applause of the rocking-chair flee,t ahead of Vincet Jardine and Ralph Noble.

Van Landingham's Star, 298, was sailed by Walter Lawrence, who put his boat across the starting line just as the gun sounded and picked up an early lead which he maintained throughout the race. Vincent Jardine, sailing Estrallita, No. 299, came in second a few seconds ahead of his rival Ralph Noble, who sailed 112, which is better known as the Pollux. The Plum brothers, Preston and Edward, sailed a nice race for two junior skippers, placing fourth, close behind Ralph Noble. C. W. Bradbury, sailing 296, Dr. Soiland's Star, took fifth and Ben Cope's 326 came in sixth.

Today's race is one series of Sunday Star events being held by the Newport Club. Points are awarded with each race toward a number of valuable club trophies presented at the close of the season. A brisk breeze favored the skippers on their two-lap course of nearly seven miles.

SENIOR POLOISTS WIN

Hollywood Heights Polo and Hunt Club Regulars Ride to 8-to-5 Victory Over Juniors

By dint of furious riding and excellent teamwork, the junior squad of the Hollywood Heights Polo and Hunt Club yesterday defeated the senior squad 8-5 on the home field in one of the fastest games yet staged there.

Dr. Robert Buck, number three on the junior squad, and Warren Jennings, number two, were the outstanding stars of the game although Don Bunch, playing number one position, made a number of very difficult plays.

Earl Barger starred for the seniors with a number of very difficult shots. Frank Foster, leader of the seniors, was somewhat off his game, due probably to the fact that he took a hard tumble during the first chukker; however, he is one of the best exhibitions of hard riding that has been seen since the club was opened.

The line-up follows:

Seniors.		Juniors.
Frank Foster (1)	1	Don Bunch (3)
Earl Barger (2)	2	Warren Jennings (1)
L. S. Gillham (2)	Back	Dr. R. Buck (4)

Figures show that in 1923 there were 2260 persons killed and 678,000 injured in traffic accidents, an increase of 80 per cent in the last seven years. Motor traffic caused about 85 per cent of these accidents.

SCUTTLE CUBS

CHICAGO, July 26.—Pittsburgh gained a full game over New York today when they defeated Chicago, 6 to 4, while the Giants were shut out by Brooklyn. Vic Aldridge, former Cub pitcher, let his former mates down with seven scattered hits, but two of these blows were homers and accounted for all the locals' runs. Adams uncorked the first four-bagger by driving the first pitched ball into the bleachers. Freigau drove out a homer with two men on in the fifth. Aside from these two blows, Aldridge was almost invincible. Score:

To offset the glamour of this publicity Gen. Daro has moved Joe Stecher from Long Beach to Santa Monica.

In addition he is planning to coax some Coast League club into using Stecher at first base in one of the regular ball games. Stecher once played ball for Sacramento — held down first base for about two days—and Gen. Daro, carnationless but fighting grimly, believes Joe cavorting gaily on the diamond will bring some dollars through the turnstiles August 10.

One of the best suggestions for a real conflict that we have heard is a match between Dix and Daro. Dix was a demon athlete of the Y.M.C.A. once and Daro attended bar at the "Zernverein," he admits. Daro was a strong man in the circus. Dix was anchor man on the parallel bars.

At catchweights this match ought to fill either Doyle's or the new Olympic Auditorium.

Solly Harris comes to bat with a book of clippings in which he who runs may read that Eddie Huffman decisively defeated Capt. Bob Roper in the Northwest, notwithstanding reports to the contrary by the letter-writing captain.

The versions of the affair which we read gave five of the six rounds to Huffman, then light heavyweight champion of the Navy. That ought to settle all argument.

Our old friend John de Palma, brother of the illustrious Ralph, writes from Liverpool that he is having a fine time in "Hingland," but he will be glad to get back to dear old Los Angeles.

At any other pursuit it would have taken Fidel a long time to get enough money in the kick to propose marriage to a classmate.

MRS. COCHRANE WINS TOURNEY

Mrs. A. Adamson and Morgan Cop Foursome With 79

Richards and Wray Reach Finals at Hollywood

BY W. C. WISE

Mrs. Welker Cochrane and Mark Daniels won low gross honors with a well played 86 in the special two-ball mixed foursome event at Brentwood yesterday. Mrs. A. R. Adamson and Tom Morgan came home with a 79 net to cop the other trophy in the foursome play.

Both Mrs. Cochrane and Mark Daniels played championship golf and low net prize fell to the beautiful long game of Tom Morgan and Mrs. Adamson. Morgan has been away for several weeks and is just getting back on his game. When right, Tom travels fast—and he is getting "righter" every minute.

C. C. McBurnett finished 1 up to win the Class A Sunday sweepstakes play and D. D. Bevis and J. V. Westervelt were even to tie for second honors. C. E. Robinson, even, won Class B trophy, Dr. C. S. Dickenson was second, 1 down, and C. E. Baker, third, 2 down.

RICHARDS WINS AT HOLLYWOOD

W. H. Richards, Hollywood president, shot through R. A. Speicher for a 4-and-3 win yesterday and will meet D. F. Wray, who defeated H. E. Blythe, 5 and 4, in the President's Cup finals Sunday. Richards has one leg on the perpetual trophy and can be depended upon to fight through for a second win in the tourney.

G. A. Druin defeated J. J. Riddell, 1 up, nineteen holes, and C. B. Shorts defeated O. L. Baumback (default) in the second flight. Paul Reed defeated C. S. Balaan, 3 and 2; C. F. Kemp defeated C. L. Christie, 1 up, twenty holes in the third flight. In the fourth flight, R. F. Waldo defeated W. O. Maxwell, 1 up, twenty holes, and J. C. T. Moore defeated C. P. Noon, 1 up.

TARRANT WINS MEDAL

Jack Tarrant toured the Hollywood course in 68, two under par, to win the regular Saturday and Sunday medal play sweepstakes yesterday. Jack was rising par through to the thirteenth, where a birdie left him 1 down, and again on the seventeenth, the Texas wildcat sunk a beautiful put for another birdie and negotiated the home green in even figures for the best score that has been turned in at Bill Amor's club for some time.

Jack Kemp was out in 34 and had a fine chance to collect, but slipped up coming home to finish with a 74 for second prize. W. H. Richards and H. W. Baker tangled with 80s. Jack Kemp, W. S. Goodrich, W. W. Kopp and D. F. Wray tied for low net with 69s.

MEYERBERG IS HILLCREST STAR

E. J. Meyerberg, father of the fast-traveling Eddie, Chet Berkowitz and Ralph Wolff tied for first prize in the special blind bogey event at Hillcrest yesterday. Ernie Martin, former professional at Montecito, and his son David, 17-year-old youth who copped championship honors in the popular California invitational several weeks ago, finished all even in a fast foursome with E. J. Meyerberg and Ed Gayer, Hillcrest Pro, yesterday. Gayer is still traveling at ton speed and had a 70 and a 72 yesterday—the first time he has shot more than 71 over his home course for several weeks.

PROFESSIONALS AT BILTMORE

Jack Malley, president, and the Board of Directors of the Southern California Professional Golfers' Association, together with E. B. Tufts, president of the S.C.G.A., will meet with a committee from the Junior Chamber of Commerce in the Biltmore Hotel at 10:30 this morning. The Commerce Committee will make a tentative offer to finance and manage the feature $10,000 Los Angeles Open Tourney next January.

A regular meeting of the Pro association will be held in the Biltmore at 8 o'clock tonight.

MRS. WEBBER IS LOS ANGELES WINNER

Mrs. George W. Webber and Carl J. Gordon shot an 88-10-78 to win the two-ball mixed foursome tourney at the Los Angeles club yesterday.

E. K. Brown defeated R. J. O. Culver, 6 and 5.
F. H. Crawford defeated J. V. Baldwin, 4 and 3.
E. A. Hawkins, Jr., defeated C. C. Conaty, 3 and 2.
Gordon C. Williams won from A. B. McGaffey by default.
J. A. H. Kerr defeated J. Frank Gore, 7 and 6.

RING MAY FAVOR AGGRESSOR IN COLIMA-HUFFMAN BRAWL

Maier Ball Park—looking like a young New York Polo Grounds—is all trigged up for the Bert Colima-Eddie Huffman ten-round battle tomorrow night. With the ring pitched in the vicinity of the pitcher's box, it is an omen of what may happen to either one of the fighters.

It is to be a pitchers' battle—judged from the records of both the Mexican and sailor. The ring is sixteen feet square inside the ropes. It is the same size as the indoor layout. In fact the ropes used outside are the inside hempstrings. But the platform is new. With a wide ledge it gives the ring an appearance of smallness.

Which fighter will the small ring favor? When Dempsey and Gibbons fought at Shelby, Mont., there was some argument over the size of the ring. Gibbons—with his speed—wanted a twenty-two-foot ring. The aggressive Dempsey would have preferred one only half that big. The Shelby ring was an eighteen-footer.

There are two ways to look at the size of the ring as regards its percentage to the fighters. Boxing men often disagree on this point. A fighter with a lot of footwork hasn't as much room to step around in a small ring as in a larger one. The big man—who takes his time in shifting about—can corner his faster opponent and do his stuff to advantage.

Colima is smaller than Huffman. He is also faster afoot. The way this writer looks at the matter is this—the aggressor has the percentage in a small ring. Just who will be the aggressor Tuesday night is a second guess. If Colima fights Huffman like he did Kid Mexico he will be the aggressor. If the Mexican starts off like he did against Mickey Walker Huffman will be forcing the fight.

If the big sailor with his extra twelve pounds in weight takes the bit in his teeth from the start and wins the earlier rounds he won't have to worry from then on.

It is doubtful if Colima, who will be weighing seven to eight pounds over his natural poundage, has his usual speed. Huffman at 175 is fighting at practically his natural heft and will have all his speed.

The supporting card furnishes plenty to enthuse over. Jack Roper is liable to come out of this show in what they call the real money—meaning main-event money. He is boxing Earl Blue, the slugging Swiss, who trained Gibbons for his fight with Gene Tunney. Blue has been working with George Godfrey in preparation for the Roper fight. It is a six-rounder.

Billy Petrolle and Jimmy Hackley clash in the other six. Both these boys have been winners in recent fights. They rate as the two best 130-pounders on the Coast.

Frankie Grandetta — the movie colony favorite—will draw a lot of picture folks into the park. Grandetta is starting off against a rather rough customer in Billy Bonillas. Bonillas licked Young Nationalista to a queen's taste July 4 at Pismo Beach.

SIKI IN STABBING FRAY

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, July 26.—Battling Siki, Senegales conqueror of Georges Carpentier, lost the verdict in another nonprofessional bout early today. The black fighter was found bleeding freely from a deep knife wound on the left side of his face, in the heart of "Hell's Kitchen," at Forty-first and Ninth avenue.

Hurried to the French Hospital Siki's cut was found to be relatively trivial. He should be out of the hospital within a few days. Detective Porter of the West Thirtieth-street police station, who found the boxer on the sidewalk, arrested Joseph Hanahan. The prisoner who started to run when Porter called to him, denied knowledge of the stabbing.

Later in Jefferson Market court, Hanahan was held in $10,000 bail for examination tomorrow on a charge of felonious assault. Police believe Siki may have fought with members of one of the street cliques that infest Hell's Kitchen. Hanahan is suspected of gang activities.

Siki, whose name is Louis Fall, and who now lives at 361 West Forty-second street, has been in numerous altercations of a private nature since he came to New York following his defeat of the French light-heavyweight two years ago. He was last heard from when his pet monkey escaped in the Union Square subway station recently, and was shot by police.

Seraphs Drop Two Contests to Salt Lake

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SALT LAKE CITY, July 26.—By winning both games, the Bees made it seven of the nine games played with the Angels in the series closing today. The Bees battered Payne for five runs in the fifth inning of the first game and treated Glazner to a six-run rally in the fourth inning of the second game. Kallio pitched a fine game in the opener, the run scored by the Angels being unearned. Kallio has now pitched 18 innings in succession without allowing an earned run. Pitcher Hulvey was struck on the hand in the second game and had to retire. The Bees made four home runs in the first game and one in the second. Coumbe hit two homers, a triple and two singles. "Well, why did you come here?" demanded the other.

In the afternoon game Boehler was found for six runs in the first three innings and gave way to Earl Kunz, who blanked the Beavers for the last six innings. Rube Yarrison, pitching his first start of the week, let the Oaks down with four scattered hits. Score:

"TOOTS" MONDT ARRIVES TODAY

Heavyweight Grappler Here for Big Match

Meets Eustace at Vernon Thursday Night

Wrestlers to Work Out Daily at Manhattan Gym

With the arrival of Joe "Toots" Mondt in the city this morning, all the men on Kenneth Dix's wrestling card at Doyle's Vernon arena Thursday night will be on the ground. Arrangements have been made for them to do their daily training at Dempsey's Manhattan gymnasium on South Spring street, and ticket sales are expected to register a big house for the opening.

Toots Mondt

Alan Eustace, who makes his home in Wakefield, Kan., arrived yesterday morning in splendid shape and bragging about a hole in one he shot at the Wakefield Country Club last week. Eustace is an enthusiastic golfer and is quite elated over the facts that he shot his ace on Monday, the 13th inst., on the thirteenth hole. Any superstition he had concerning bad luck on No. 13 has been erased since that shot—a midiron click on a 127-yard hole in the face of a prairie wind.

Mondt will be here today and will immediately get into ring togs. Arrangements have been made for the grapplers to work at different hours at Dempsey's gymnasium so that neither of the main-event matmen will be in the gym at the same time. Richard Schikat, European champion, and Pat McGill, giant Nebraskan, will also do their daily dozen at the Manhattan.

A great deal of interest is centered in the appearance of Richard Schikat, big German, who held the Graeco-Roman championship of Europe. Schikat will have his work cut out for him to pin Herman Stroh in the one hour allotted to him because the local oil driller is one of the toughest and strongest heavyweights in the western country.

Hans Bauer, another local heavy, will also give Pat McGill some trouble, even though Pat is considered quite some punkins among the heavies. His task will be to pin Bauer in thirty minutes.

The ticket sale is on at the downtown box office of the Vernon Athletic Club, 736 South Spring street. Reservations may be made by calling TUcker 8737. Popular prices will prevail.

Seals Win and Lose to Ryan's Hired Athletes

SACRAMENTO, July 26.—The Seals and Senators split a double-header, today, the Solons taking the first game, 5 to 4, and the Seals the second, 10 to 8, in a weird contest, to split even in the eight-game series.

McLaughlin's error in the seventh started the Seals on their rally that cinched the ball game for them. French was spiked by Agnew early in the game and was forced to leave the field. Scores:

NEW YORK, July 26.—The Washington Senators, in their last appearance of the season here, defeated the Yankees today in both games of a double-header, 7 to 4, and 4 to 3, the second game going eleven innings. McNeeley's single scored Peckinpaugh with the winning run in the last game.

Third Baseman Dugan of New York was carried off the field in the tenth inning when his injured knee came out of place. Coveleskie extended his winning streak to thirteen straight in the first game, although he was relieved for a pinch hitter in the ninth inning. The first defeat for the Yankees marked the fourteenth time this season they have failed to extend a two-game winning streak. Scores:

BROWNS BUMPED

ST. LOUIS, July 26.—Another defeat at the hands of Cleveland, 11 to 6, marked the close today of the Browns' long home stand. The locals won 17 games and lost 10 since returning here June 29, and Cleveland was the only visiting team to take a series. The contest was a parade of pitchers. Joe Bush was batted out of the box in the second and Karr, Cleveland's starter, took the air in the sixth. Score:

DETROIT, July 26.—Three Tiger pitchers could not stop a White Sox assault and Chicago beat Detroit, 8 to 6, today, thereby winning the series. An opening inning rampage by the Tigers drove Faber from the hill before two men could be retired, but Thurston held Detroit scoreless the remainder of the way, except in the third and ninth, when two safe hits in a row counted a runner. TILDEN BRINGING GREAT PLAYERS

Secretary Wynn Mace Plans Big Tennis Event

[illegible], Brugnon, Chapin May Show Here

[illegible] Matches on in Few Months

[illegible] of the greatest invitational [illegible] tournaments the West has [illegible] is being planned by [illegible] Wynn Mace of the Southern California Tennis Association [illegible] Los Angeles some time in October. Mace stated that he had [illegible] tentative arrangements to [illegible] some of the greatest tennis [illegible] in the world to this city [illegible] a tourney that will vie with [illegible] Davis Cup matches or the [illegible] Games tournaments.

[illegible] T. Tilden, national [illegible] champion, has promised to [illegible] Tilden will bring with him [illegible] protege, Sandy Weiner, [illegible] Brugnon, of France, and [illegible] Patterson, Australian Davis [illegible] player. Alfred Chapin, [illegible] star, may also enter. Efforts are being made to bring [illegible] Wills and some of the star [illegible] women.

[illegible] possibility of seeing a [illegible] between Tilden and Bill [illegible], is the best drawing card [illegible] tournament. Johnston, being a Californian, will enter the [illegible] is almost certain to cleave [illegible] through to the finals, there [illegible] the champion in a match [illegible] would be the biggest thing [illegible] Angeles has ever staged.

[illegible] Snodgrass, high up in [illegible] of the nation, is [illegible] to return from an invasion of the East by that time [illegible] would undoubtedly complicate matters. Snodgrass made Tilden extend himself to the limit of [illegible] ability in a singles [illegible] at St. Louis recently, and [illegible] more familiar courts, [illegible] beat him.

[illegible] of the annual [illegible] California championships [illegible] out and the entries will [illegible] into Wynn Mace's hands [illegible] The C. C. tourney is scheduled [illegible] August 3 to 16. Nine [illegible] men's and women's singles, [illegible] and women's doubles, mixed [illegible] junior girls' and boys' [illegible] and junior doubles are on [illegible] list.

[illegible] interest is in the tournament this year because of the fact [illegible] many of last year's champions are absent and will not defend their titles. A grand [illegible] and plenty of hot tennis [illegible] expected before the new kings [illegible] crowned as such.

GARDINI DUE HERE SOON FOR MATCH

Italian Grappler to Arrive This Week for Go With Stecher

Renato Gardini, the Italian grappling king, will soon be in Los Angeles again. Gardini wired Lou Daro, local promoter, yesterday stating that he will leave his home in Boston within the next two days, arriving in time to put in some good training days before his big effort here on August 10. The Italian grappler meets Joe Stecher at the Olympic Auditorium.

Gardini, in his last appearance here, thumped Daro Koloff, Bulgarian champ. He then hurried back to Boston, his wife having presented him with twin baby girls. It was a great event in the Gardini household and naturally Renato made a quick trip to Beantown.

Stanislaus Zbyszko is to meet Don Andres Castanos in the semi-wind-up, while Daro is endeavoring to get opponents for Jim Londos and Jim Browning, two young men who also put a big kick in whatever show they grace with their presence.

Jack Spar and Trambitas Mix at Wilmington

Still another high-class lightweight card is being offered at Wilmington. Jack Spar, the Lomita oil driller, and Alex Trambitas will provide the top bout of three eight-rounders the Wilmington Athletic Club are putting on Wednesday evening next. There are two other eight-rounders on the card, which is rounded off with a six-round mill.

In Spar, Trambitas is hooking up with a fast boxer, one who will never let up working around an opponent and one who generally manages to tie up his man in a knot. Paul De Hate and Allie Nelson, the pair of lightweights who slugged through an eight-round draw at Compton recently, are in the next spot of honor.

Hank Gatton is fighting another Santa Ana citizen in the person of Jack Inman. The fight rightly belongs to an alley some place in Santa Ana. Toby Montoya and Young Alexander, another pair of battling fools, open the evening's proceedings.

TILDEN WINS GREAT MATCH

Johnston scored two straight placements in the fourth game, but Tilden rallied to take a game after it had gone to deuce, placing the set at 2-all. Each won a game and the big Bill let for four in a row and the set, 6-3. The champion's back-hand and volleying was superb and he took the final point on a back-hand drive which sped for a placement to the utmost corner of the base line.

Johnston won the first game of the final set, but Tilden came back for four in a row, each point being decided after a prolonged rally. "Little Bill" was netting frequently, and at one time Tilden won eight successive points. The Californian then reversed the story and won four games to lead, 5 to 4. Tilden evened the count and then took the eleventh game by passing Johnston at the net.

"Little Bill" was not beaten, however, and won a love game on his own service. Each then took a game to square the set at 7-all. The fifteenth game fell to Tilden and he needed but one more to win the match.

CROWDED WITH THRILLS

The sixteenth and final game was crowded with enough thrills to satisfy the most exacting, the lead shifting from one man to the other until the score reached deuce. Johnston gained the advantage when Tilden drove one out, but the champion evened the count with a beautiful placement. Tilden annexed another point and was but one point from the title. He shot a terrific drive, which just cleared the net and seemed a certain placement.

But "Little Bill" in a dying effort made a remarkable stop volley, the ball falling just beyond the net for a placement. But that was all for the game little Californian. He netted on the next point and then overdrove the base line and Tilden was again the Illinois State champion, and in permanent possession of the Skokie bowl.

The champion was never better. He stated after the match it was the finest game he had ever played in Illinois and one of the best of his career. It was a fitting climax to Illinois' greatest tournament.

Tilden's drive carried so much speed the linesmen had difficulty in calling the outs.

The strictly California duel for the Illinois women's title resulted in victory for Miss Charlotte Hosmer, who won over Helen Jacobs, the 16-year-old Coast girl, in three sets crowded with tense moments, 6-4, 1-6, 7-5.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

DENVER (Colo.) July 26.—The Hollywood baseball team won a sensational victory over the Johnstown baseball team today in the Rocky Mountain baseball tournament here when they came from behind in the last two innings and scored 8 runs winning the game by a score of 8 to 7.

The score in the seventh was 7 to 0 against the Movie City lads, and they uncorked a rally that had the 8000 baseball fans standing on their feet the last two innings. From the very start it was evident that the Colorado baseball fans were pulling for Hollywood, and when Jack Emerson sent a screaming liner to right for two bases scoring Stradley with the winning run in the ninth, they gave the boys from Hollywood a hand that still rings in their ears.

Ole Johnson, former Hollywood High School pitcher just barely 19 years of age, pitched a marvelous game, only two of the seven runs scored by Johnstown were earned, and he also came through twice in the last two innings with two blows that started both rallys. Johnny Cryan, Jack Emerson, Gopher Stradley and Fancett all hit the ball hard, getting two blows apiece.

ANNOUNCE YACHT PLANS

Newport Harbor Club to Take Part in Big Regatta at Santa Barbara on August 10

With a well-established reputation for staging the unusual successfully, Newport Harbor Yacht Club yesterday announced its unique plans for participation in the fifth annual Southern California Yachting Association regatta at Santa Barbara, August 10 to 16.

According to Commodore William C. Warmington's announcement the club has hired the 156-foot Diesel yacht Vaquero for the entire regatta week. Laden with 140 members of the Newport Harbor club the Vaquero is scheduled to leave Newport at 6 o'clock Sunday evening, August 9. On its trip north it will act as convoy and mother ship for cruisers and other club craft and while at Santa Barbara it will be Newport officers' headquarters.

WORKED LAST YEAR

A similar plan was worked out last year and proved so successful that it was repeated this season. The flagship will tow the club Stars and carry the Newport Snow Birds north for the regatta races.

Commodore Warmington announced that seven Newport Stars will race at Santa Barbara, including Ralph Noble's 112, Vincent Jardine's 299, Admiral Soiland's 296, C. E. Van Landingham's 298, W. R. Hervey, Jr.'s, 114, Ben Cope's 326 and Plum Brothers' 154. Noble and Jardine recently won the right to represent the Newport club in the interclub championships.

Six Snow Birds will be carried north by the Vaquero. Tom Webster's 1, Ed Warmington's 3, Lacey Hall's 4, Hildur Richardson's 2, Harrison Beim's 5 and Sidney Maxfield's 7 are regatta entries.

OTHERS TO GO

Accompanying the flagship Vaquero on its trip north will be several cruisers owned by Newport members. Those who will take their cruisers to the regatta are Commodore William C. Warmington, Billedick; Vice-Commodore Joseph A. Beek, Carrollie; Rear-Commodore B. H. Cassa, Mystic C; A. P. Pratt, Pow Wow; Admiral of the Staff Soiland, Viking IV; Port Captain William C. Evans, Viking III; Fleet Captain George E. Vibert, Ardath; Claude G. Putnam and Frank Smith, Mildura; Ralph Chandler, Albacore; Charles Reynolds, Lady Gwendolyn; C. N. Rogers, Sea Bee; Reginald Denny, Barbarene, and the Conchita.

At least 200 of the Newport membership of 350 are expecting to attend the regatta.

which six Stars competed was an announcement by Commodore William C. Warmington that the club would continue building up its fleet during the winter season. By the end of the year he hopes to have over ten in the fleet roster and by next summer's racing season at least fifteen fleet Stars should be ready to compete for the club championships.

Felix Farwell's Mariposa led Theodore Beinecke's Theo, by several minutes in the Bay sloop race. The Theo has less sail area than the Mariposa, which has been a consistent first-place winner.

In the Snow Bird one-lap race Tom Webster captured first-place honors, sailing his No. 1 Lacey Hall's. Blue Bird was second. Five of these small craft were in today's race which is stimulating interest among Newport Harbor juniors to no small extent.

MORE RACES

Next Saturday and Sunday will find the local yacht club the rendezvous for members of all other Southern California clubs. The first heat of the Inter-Club Star championships will be held Saturday with the second and final heats scheduled Sunday.

Bay sloops—Won by the Mariposa, Felix Farwell. Time 1h. 15m. 40s. Theo, Theo Beinecke, second; Bowery Girl, Ben Ames, Jr., third. Loo EE, Ingall Carpenter, fourth.

The BBB, piloted by H. M. Worcester, defeated the Don B III, with Bill Hervey at the helm. This was a contested race from last year. Worcester's victory gives him the City of Newport Cup, a beautiful trophy. The race was run over the lower bay course.

In the free-for-all event, with fifteen boats entered, the Gray Goose won. Other boats finished in the following order: Stacomb, Don B III, Miss Chief and The Floris. In the draw for the cup the owner of the Floris won.

In the Marion boat races, seven craft entered, the Gray Goose was again victor, Stacomb, Miss Chief, Felix, Don B III, BBB and Sand Piper finishing in the order given.

These three events were staged under the supervision of the Southland Sailing Club and drew a large crowd.

RYDER IS MEDALIST IN WESTWARD HO PLAY

H. Ryder won low gross with a snappy 64 in the President's Cup tournament that drew 125 entrants at Westward Ho yesterday. There were five nineteen-hole matches and two twenty-hole matches in the first round of comparative play.

TIGERS COP TWO GAMES

two to win. Red Lucas, who relieved Nick Dumovich on the mound for the Suds, had opened the game with a single and Lane followed with a safe clout off Ludolph's shins. Lucas turned his ankle sliding into second and had to retire, Cutshaw running for him. Brady sacrificed and then Ludolph purposely passed Brazill, filling the bases. The strategy worked, Eldred fouling to Schang and Herman grounding to McDowell to end the hectic frame.

The Tigers, after filling the sacks with none out and failing to score in the first inning, took the lead in the fifth, when Dumovich grew wild, walked two and hit one, and Warner followed with a hit, driving in a run.

Seattle punched Ludolph for its only run in the seventh, which Herman opened with a triple to right center. McCabe beat out a hit to McDowell, but Herman held first. Emmer's sacrifice fly to center brought Herman home and put McCabe on second. Red Baldwin then lined into a double play, ending the inning and the Suds' chances.

SUD PAIR OUTHURLED

In the curtain-raiser, Barfoot showing why he is wanted by the Cincinnati Reds, outpitched Slug Stryker and Buck Ramsey, late of the Angels.

Both sides hit the ball rather freely, but Barfoot was more effective in the pinches.

The Indians got off in front in the first when, after two were out, Brazill walked and scored on Brick Eldred's double to left center. The Suds added another to their string in the third when Brady and Brazill singled and then pulled a double steal, the former scoring.

Vernon got a run back in the home half of the third. Singles by Oliver and Barfoot, followed by Emmer's wild throw in trying to complete a double play, allowed Oliver to cross the plate.

The Tigers tied the score in the fourth. Blakesley walked and scored from first when Griffin doubled to left center and Emmer mussed up the throw-in.

Blakesley started the Bengals off on another rally in the sixth, clouting a triple to deep center over Lane's head. Jim stayed on third while Griffin grounded out, but counted on Whitney's hit over second. Singles by Finn and Oliver worked Whitney around the paths with another run.

GRIFFIN HOMES

Ramsey took the mound for the Suds in the seventh and was touched for the final Vernon marker in the eighth when Griffin hit the ball over the left-field wall for a homer.

The visitors got their first two men up on base in the seventh when Daly doubled and Lucas, batting for Stryker, walked. Lane tried to sacrifice, but Barfoot picked up the bunt and threw to Warner, forcing Daly. Brady lofted to Wolfer for the second out, while Brazill forced Lane to end the scare.

Seattle's final marker arrived in the ninth when Daly singled and Ramsey doubled for a starter. Barfoot, however, worked hard and got rid of Lane on a short fly to center. Red Baldwin, batting for Brady, grounded to Finn, but Daly counted on the out. Barfoot found Brazill up in the pinch again, but got rid of him on a pop fly to Whitney, ending the game. Scores:

THREE GOOD OIL WELLS IN EDDY

Are Among Best of Recent Completions

Production of Each Set at 600 Barrels

Many Scouts Reported on Watch in Area

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ARTESIA (N. M.) July 26.—Three of the six producers recently completed in the proven area of the Eddy county field rank as among the best wells in the field. These are the No. 18 of Flynn, Welch & Yates, the No. 6 and the No. 2 of Snowdon, McSweeney & McNutt.

Although none of the wells have been cleaned out since shooting they all are making better than 600 barrels a day initial flow, with the No. 18 showing nearly 400 barrels in the first twelve hours. This well, located on the west line of the northeast quarter of Section 28, 18-28, in one head of twenty-five minutes put 300 barrels in the tank.

The Snowdon, McSweeney & McNutt producer, after drilling through a sandy lime from 2028 to 2050 feet, found pure sand down to 2080 feet. Shot with 160 quarts of glycerin it started flowing immediately. The Maljamar well, which offsets it on the south, was given a shot of ninety quarts at about the same level. Other producers are the No. 17 and No. 19 of the Flynn interests and the Twin Lakes No. 5.

Sections 28 and 21 are now expected to be drilled up as quickly as possible, because the big production appears to be in that area. Many scouts are closely watching the production of the new producers.

After manifesting all the symptoms of being dry, the No. 1 well of Shaw & Rathke is now standing with close to 1000 feet of fluid in the hole. This is due to a shot of 800 quarts of glycerin which shattered 145 feet of the sandy lime formation.

Another pipe line, it is reported, will be built to the field, to supply a small refinery which is soon to be erected. Work on the 500-barrel refinery of the New Mexico Pipe Line Company, it is said, will be started soon.

Arlington Gold Property Tests Show High Value

Metallurgical tests now being made by the Arlington Corporation at its property near Victorville in San Bernardino county, are resulting in a high value recovery, and it is reported that the company will arrange to add cyanide treatment equipment to its present milling facilities.

The Arlington is being prepared for extensive gold production by R. K. Voorhies and Algerwon Del Mar of Los Angeles, and it is stated the company's property has already been developed by several thousand feet of tunneling and underground workings which, the management says, have exposed large tonnages of low-grade gold ore of commercial quality.

Of the company's holdings, five of the principal claims have been patented, while the requisite annual assessment work has been done on others of the group. Surface and other equipment has been constructed and installed sufficient for all present requirements, aside from the cyanide unit, which should soon go into commission.

BUYS GOLD TRACT

Cooley Butler of Los Angeles Takes Over Nevada County Acreage

The Woods Mineral Tract, containing about seventy acres, and surrounded by gold mines with a big dividend-paying record, has recently been purchased by Cooley Butler of Los Angeles.

Because this tract has been in litigation and estate settlement for many years, it is practically undeveloped, yet it is almost within the city limits of Grass Valley in Nevada county, one of the greatest gold-producing camps of California.

This newly acquired ground adjoins on the north the North Star mine, which has paid over $5,500,000 in dividends; and the Alta Hill on the south, carries the extensions of these ledges, some of which have been developed to a depth of 7000 feet.

Mr. Butler says he is perfecting plans and arrangements for the equipment and development of the new ground.

MEXICO OIL EXPORT FIGURES REPORTED

BY JACK STARR-HUNT

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MEXICO CITY, July 26.—During the first five months of the present year, 52,453,510 barrels of oil were exported from the Mexican oil fields, according to reliable figures received here from Tampico. This gives an approximate average of 10,490,700 barrels a month. The total amount shipped is considerably less than the amount exported during the corresponding period of last year. The largest shipper was the Huasteca Petroleum Company, with 17,022,419 barrels; the Transcontinental followed with 14,437,169 barrels.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

GAS FLOWS FROM WATER WELL

Rancher Near Oxnard Gets Small Producer in Back Yard

At Camarillo, not far from Oxnard, W. F. Linnett has a well filled with real fire water. The well is situated on the John Camarillo ranch, which Mr. Linnett is operating.

Not long ago Mr. Linnett observed small bubbles rising to the surface of the water, like bubbles in a glass of carbonated water.

He rigged up a pipe with a funnel at the bottom of it and placed it over the top of the well to gather the gas bubbles.

When he lighted a match and touched it to the top of the pipe, there was a sudden flash, and then the gas blazed up brightly.

DRILL TAX IN MEXICO INCREASED

New Levy to Take Care of Added Expenses for Government Bureau

By JACK STARR HUNT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MEXICO CITY, July 26.—An additional tax of $50 has been imposed by the government for the drilling of oil wells, in accordance with a decree recently signed by President Calles.

The tax was levied to provide for the increased expenses which have accrued to the government for the maintenance of the petroleum bureau of the Department of Industry, Commerce and Labor at Tampico and other points in the Atlantic seaboard fields.

When first proposed, the additional tax was to have been paid upon the filing of the application for drilling permit, but in view of the fact that in many instances companies apply for a batch of permits covering certain districts so as to be prepared to drill in case of necessity, by the petition of the Association of Producers of Petroleum in Mexico it was agreed that this tax would only be levied upon actual drilling operations and that thirty days will be given for its payment following the spudding in of the well.

Due to the increase, not only in oil production, but also in exports during May, revenue derived by the Federal government from the petroleum industry totaled but 4,399,172.96 pesos. Of this amount, 3,193,931.36 pesos was for production taxes with 1,205,241.60 pesos covering taxes on oil shipped out of the country.

Hill Named to Mines Bureau Division of Oil

H. H. Hill, chief petroleum engineer, has been placed in charge of the petroleum division of the Bureau of Mines, Department of Commerce, and will have supervision of all petroleum investigations conducted by the bureau both in the Washington (D. C.) office and at the various field stations and offices.

Mr. Hill has served as assistant chief petroleum engineer for the past two years, and previous to his service was supervisor of oil and gas operations on leased public lands and superintendent of the petroleum experiment station at Bartlesville, Okla.

S. P. Kinney, assistant metallurgical chemist, with headquarters at Pittsburgh, Pa., has been designated as supervising metallurgist of the Bureau of Mines. Mr. Kinney will have technical supervision of the bureau's ferrous metallurgical work both at the Pittsburgh station and at the other experiment or field stations where such work is conducted.

DRY CONCENTRATOR

New Machine Will be of Value to Small Operators

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TUCSON (Ariz.) July 26.—The dry process concentrator invented by James F. Reilly is to be manufactured in Tucson by a new corporation, the Dry Concentrating and Manufacturing Company. It is expected that the machines will be placed in mines on a percentage basis, thus favoring the small operators.

Under the process, the dust is kept within the machines and carried to settling chambers. Experiments with local ores show the process effective with lead-silver, silver ores that carry zinc, the refractory metal being carried to one side. This is a feature of large value in selling concentrates to a smelter.

NEW WHEAT EXPORTS STARTED AT GALVESTON

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

GALVESTON (Tex.) July 26.—The opening of the new wheat export season has just taken place here with the loading of the Japanese steamship Ryufuka Maru with 270,000 bushels for Greece. This cargo moved a month earlier than the first full cargo shipment of the season last year. It is stated by steamship agents that prospects are bright for the new grain season at this port.

ADAMANA OIL IS CLEANING HOLE

New Manager on Ground in Arizona Field

Water Shutoff Expected Within Month

Bowie Syndicate Dickering for Dry Well

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

HOLBROOK (Ariz.) July 26.—Dr. William F. Green of Modesto, Cal., who recently assumed management of the Adamana Oil Company's operations here, says it is expected that cleaning the hole and cementing off the water will not take over a month, after which drilling will be continued.

No further oil leases are to be given on government lands near Holbrook, according to J. E. Warren, representing the United States Bureau of Mines, who was a visitor from Washington. Mr. Warren spent some time inspecting the Taylor-Fuller well.

A Bowie syndicate is negotiating for the purchase of a well unsuccessfully drilled to 2000 feet by the State in the hope of securing artesian water. It purposes to deepen the hole, which is in good shape, with the expectation of striking oil sands. A new well also is to be started, northeast of Bowie.

Early in August an oil test well is to be spudded in a new wildcat district, at the edge of the Chiricahua Mountains, about three miles from the Southern Pacific Railroad and between Chiricahua and Apache stations. C. C. Kimble, who has a ranch of 30,000 acres, is reported to have contracted with A. C. Derrick for 4000 feet of drilling. The owner, who is interested in producing wells in Oklahoma, is now in Oklahoma purchasing equipment.

The Sinclair-Bowen oil well on the Mexey lease, near Yuma, is down about 1550 feet in a soft brown shale that was entered at 1495 feet, after a siege of slow drilling in a hard formation. Oil seepage and gas are declared to have been evident in a stratum of sand passed through at about 1260 feet. Funds for deeper development are being furnished by ten local business men, and some capital also is coming from Los Angeles and San Diego.

Marland Wells in Mexico Area on Paying List

BY JACK STARR-HUNT

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN LUIS POTOSI, July 26.—For the first time since it started operations in hacienda Limon three years ago, the Marland Oil Company is obtaining commercial oil production. During May its withdrawals totaled 17,294 barrels, which is now in earthen storage. Prior to the recent completion of wells No. 24 and No. 25, the company had no production of commercial value and was getting only sufficient oil from wells, primarily No. 15 and No. 19, to fuel its drilling.

Realizing that the Mexican Petroleum Corporation (Pan American Eastern) was rushing work intending to offset wells No. 24 and No. 25, which are near the Limon property line, Marland constructed earthen storage tanks and started flowing all production directly from the wells into these tanks. During May, 11,186 barrels were obtained.

Wind and Rain Cause Heavy Property Loss

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

DAVENPORT (Iowa) July 26.—Damage done by the heavy wind and rain storms that swept over Eastern Iowa and Western Illinois Friday night will run into the hundreds of thousands of dollars, it was estimated today. Throughout Johnson, Scott and Muscatine counties, Iowa, the storms destroyed crops and leveled many farm buildings.

The storms swept across the Mississippi River into Mercer and Rock Island counties, Illinois, where additional havoc was wrought all through that section.

TAXES IN OKLAHOMA SET NEW HIGH MARK

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

OKLAHOMA CITY (Okla.) July 26.—Tax collections made through the office of State Auditor C. C. Childers during the fiscal year closed recently reached a record-breaking total of $13,068,734. Of that amount, $8,357,026 was derived from the 3 per cent gross production tax on oil and $4,270,912 from the tax on gasoline. From income taxes $294,274 was collected, from inheritance taxes $97,301, from gross receipts taxes on telegraph companies $25,810, and from tank-car taxes $22,979. In June of this year $428,950 was collected under the new 3 cents per gallon gasoline tax law. During the same month last year, with a 2½ cent tax assessed, $281,646 was collected.

RALEIGH (N. C.) July 26.—Nearly 70,000 of the North Carolina school children are transported 40,765 miles every school day by 2006 busses in ninety-five of the 100 counties of the State, according to estimates of the State Department of Education. The average daily mileage of the school trucks is twenty miles.

Getty Well in Kern Reported in Rich Sands

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, July 26.—Rich oil sands are being found at varying depths in the George F. Getty test well on the southeast quarter of Section 22, 28-27, in the Kern River field. The first oil showing was found at 2200 feet and subsequent cores have proved satisfactory for the bringing in of a commercial well. On the strength of the showing it is reported that the Pan-American Oil Company has moved two steel derricks to the Robinson lease near by in preparation for drilling its No. 2 and No. 3 wells.

The Standard is already drilling offsets to the Marland and the Pan-American company wells in that district.

Refractory Ore Now Profitable to Pioche Mine

H. R. Van Wagenen of Los Angeles, manager and consulting engineer for the Amalgamated Pioche Mines and Smelters Corporation of Pioche, Nev., states that lessors of the company are shipping approximately 1000 tons of ore weekly.

This is an argentiferous lead-zinc sulphide product, Mr. Van Wagenen says, of a grade that only in the past two years has become commercial, and this because of the wonderful advance made in the handling of complex ores of this character.

The ore is treated by the Combined Metals Company of Salt Lake City, to whom great credit is due, says Mr. Van Wagenen, for the solving of this perplexing metallurgical problem.

EXEMPT FROM CALIFORNIA PERSONAL PROPERTY TAXES

A Bondholders' Policy of Title Insurance, to be issued by the Title Insurance and Trust Company, Los Angeles, will guarantee the validity of this lien to the full principal amount of this issue.

PROPERTY AND BUILDINGS

The leasehold estate consists of a valuable 50-year ground lease with improvements on property located just south of Pico Street, with a frontage of 205 feet on Figueroa Street. This property extends through a depth of over 500 feet to a frontage of approximately 203 feet on Georgia Street, thus covering an area of over 100,000 square feet, in the rapidly expanding central business district of Los Angeles. The property is bisected by a 50-foot paved private street from Figueroa to Georgia Street, known as "Mitchell Place," thus affording over 1300 feet of street frontage for commercial uses.

Three buildings have been erected on the property within the past two years. The principal one is of loft type, Class "A" construction, four stories in height, with a mezzanine. It has a frontage of 90 feet on Figueroa Street and 275 feet on "Mitchell Place." Adjoining this to the west is a one-story Class "C" building extending 223 feet on "Mitchell Place" to a 90-foot frontage on Georgia Street. These two buildings have been leased for a period of ten years from January, 1924, to the Howard Automobile Company of Los Angeles at an annual rental of $61,100. The third building is a two-story Class "C" office and store building fronting 64 feet on Figueroa Street and 80 feet on "Mitchell Place." This building, though just completed, is returning an annual rental of $7500 at the present time and is estimated to return approximately $15,000 per annum when fully rented.

In addition, the Company contemplates the erection of additional buildings estimated to cost approximately $75,000 to cover the balance of the property.

VALUE OF PROPERTIES

The buildings now completed on this property were erected at a total cost of $446,497.24 (including the cost of "Mitchell Place"). The value of the ground lease was appraised in August, 1923, by the Los Angeles Realty Board at $246,750. Since this appraisal was made the property has, in our opinion, increased in value. The total value of the leasehold estate securing this bond issue is therefore:

Buildings and Improvements	$446,497.24
Ground Lease	246,750.00
Cash (to be escrowed for further improvements)	25,000.00
		$718,247.24

SUB-LEASES

Two of the buildings have been leased for a period of ten years from January, 1924, to the Howard Automobile Company of Los Angeles—Buick distributors—and one of the largest and strongest automobile agencies in the world, at an annual rental of $61,100, payable in equal monthly payments. This sub-lease is guaranteed by endorsement by Charles S. Howard of San Francisco, whose net worth is estimated at several million dollars. In addition to this endorsement Mr. Howard has $75,000 invested in the property, evidenced by a second mortgage junior in lien to this issue of bonds. All sub-leases will be assigned to the Trustee as additional security for the bondholders.

EARNINGS

At the present time gross rental returns from the property amount to $70,400 per annum as follows:

INCOME
Howard Automobile Company Lease	$61,100.00
Other Building Leases	7,500.00
Leases on Unimproved Property	1,800.00
TOTAL INCOME		$70,400.00
OPERATING EXPENSES
Ground Rental	$12,000.00
City and County Taxes (1924-25)	9,792.15
Insurance (Fire and Earthquake)	1,664.50
TOTAL OPERATING EXPENSES		$23,456.65
Balance Available for Bond Interest, Depreciation, Federal Taxes and Principal Retirement		$46,943.35

From the above you will note that present income available for the payment of bond interest is approximately 2 1-3 times maximum bond interest requirements, approximately 4½ times average bond interest requirements and approximately 1⅓ times average bond interest and principal requirements.

Under the provisions of the trust indenture, all rentals received from the Howard sub-lease are paid direct to the Trustee and disbursed by it to the payment of ground rent, taxes, insurance and bond interest and principal; any balance thereover in any one year to be used as the Company may direct. The returns from this lease alone will pay all fixed charges and retire approximately $170,000 of these bonds prior to the expiration of this sub-lease.

On the completion of additional buildings now contemplated, it is estimated that total annual rental returns from the property will be increased to $100,000.

TRUST INDENTURE

The deed of trust securing this issue will contain provisions to adequately protect bondholders. Among these there will be provisions for proper maintenance and repair of the mortgaged properties and for insurance of all buildings against fire and earthquake to their full insurable value. All insurance policies will be assigned to the Trustee for the protection of bondholders.

ROSECRANS OIL OUTPUT SLUMPS

Daily Average Slips Back During Week

New Completions Fail to Offset Drop

Production of Largest Set at 2500 Barrels

One exceptionally good well, and two or three others of lesser importance were not sufficient to save the Rosecrans field from sagging back a little in its daily average production last week. The field average was about 20,000 barrels.

The largest well completed for several weeks was the Barnsdale Oil Company's O'Dea No. 5, which officials of the company say made as high as 2500 barrels a day. The Associated Oil Company so far has had no great success in following up its Wanka No. 2, both the Wanka No. 1 and Higgins No. 2, drilled to the Wanka No. 2 zone, turning out to be small producers.

In the Athens end of the field two or three good gas wells were brought in, but comparatively little oil flowed into the tanks. The Henderson's Athens No. 1, and the Leland Mitchell well, both flowed upward of 10,000,000 cubic feet of gas a day, but made no oil for several days. The Fitch No. 1 succeeded in getting about 250 barrels of oil a day at 4440 feet.

New operations are comparatively scarce, and new wells are not coming in as frequently as the intensity of development both in the Maxwell and Athens areas would seem to warrant. This week should see at least one, and possibly two completions by the Sentinel Oil Company. The Union Oil Company has been in a position to complete a few of its Howard Park wells for some time. All these wells are in the Athens area, and the wide variety of troubles which afflict that field has operated to delay completions.

KANSAS FARMER HOARDING GRAIN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

HUTCHINSON (Kan.) July 25.—Kansas farmers are holding back their wheat for higher prices, and the fact they are able to do this is an illuminating index of agriculture's comeback. Wheat today is bringing the grower about twice the price it did two years ago. At the elevators here prices today were around $1.50 a bushel. But comparatively little is being marketed and it is estimated that perhaps 70 per cent of the grain hauled to elevators is being stored by the growers.

Last year and the year before most growers were so pressed by debts that they had to rush the grain to market to get the money as soon as they could. This season, however, the average raiser is in such comfortable shape that he can hold back. Farmers who sold wheat last summer at 90 cents and $1 a bushel and then last January saw wheat hit above $2 on the Chicago market, this time are able to take a little flyer with their own products. Throughout the wheat belt they seem to have a bug that prices are going higher and they are reading every line they find on world crop conditions.

BINS BEING FILLED

A large percentage of the growers have sold enough to get cash for immediate needs, the rest is going into bins and elevators or is being stacked. The stock question one gets from farmers at the filling stations, in the soft-drink parlors and on the streets, is "when will wheat go to $2?" They are all set this time to take a gambler's chance on their own goods. They may be right, but here and there a Jeremiah gloomily observes that back in 1920 lots of the boys stored their wheat when they could have sold it for $2.40 a bushel, on the theory it would go to $3, but the slump came and they sold for maybe $1.40. Last year's crop, which averaged 16.4 bushels to the acre and brought $164,000,000 to the growers, put them on their pins. This year the crop is averaging only 9.4 bushels to the acre, which is somewhat less than it did two years ago.

The price improvement is perhaps best shown by a two years' comparison. This season, at present prices, a crop of 74,000,000 bushels is worth $111,000,000. In 1923, a crop of 76,000,000 bushels brought only $66,000,000. A direct conection lies between modern prosperity in the Kansas wheat belt and the large number of floating laborers drifting around Canal street in Chicago hard pressed for jobs.

MACHINERY USED

In the last three years, it is estimated that no less than $10,000,000 has been spent in Western Kansas for combined harvester and thresher machines. Everywhere labor-saving devices are being extended. There is no labor shortage. Less hired labor is used at harvest time, which is one reason why many floaters who follow the wheat are left stranded at Canal and Madison streets. The fact that in the United States there were 109,000 fewer farm hands last New Year's than one year before is simply a phase of the adjustment that is continually going on, and it does not mean impaired production. Three men can run a "combine" as the harvester thresher is called. They start in a field cutting and come out with the grain all ready for hauling to the elevator.

The saving in labor is figured at about 15 cents a bushel. Besides there is less wastage of the grain and some farmers figure the combine saves them about two bushels an acre. It is figured that the saving in labor and grain wastage on a wheat farm of 400 acres will pay for the combine in one season. Tractors this year have increased in the central wheat belt, but have fallen in Eastern Kansas, while as to farm implements and machinery in general, the leading establishment here says its business in Southwest Kansas this season has been the greatest in twenty years.

GAS EXPORTS AT HIGH MARK

Nearly Thirty Million Gallons Worth Five Million Dollars Shipped Last Week

BY HOWARD C. KEGLEY

Some idea of the importance of petroleum refining in the industrial structure of Southern California may be gathered from the fact that 28,466,772 gallons of gasoline were shipped from Los Angeles to the retail trade in various parts of the world during the week which ended Saturday. Roundly figured on the basis of 20 cents a gallon the country over, the retail price of this gasoline would be $5,693,354, and this amount of business represents only seven days out of a refinery year in the Los Angeles basin.

Los Angeles Harbor broke two records for the year in petroleum exports last year. It sent out 2,601,019 barrels of petroleum products, 677,781 barrels of which were gasoline. This represented the heaviest gasoline business of the year, and is said to have been the top figure for combined petroleum shipments in any one week this year.

SOME GOES ABROAD

Of the 677,781 barrels of gasoline, only two tanker loads, totaling 119,920 barrels, went to Pacific Coast markets. London got 65,000 barrels, and the remainder—six big tanker loads, totaling 492,861 barrels—went to points between New Orleans and Fall River.

Unusually heavy shipments of gasoline are being made to Atlantic Coast marketing centers this summer for the reason that big marketing companies in the East can buy gasoline here and ship it east through the Panama Canal cheaper than they can buy Gulf or Mid-Continent crude oil at prevailing prices and refine their own gasoline.

The petroleum exports from Los Angeles Harbor last week, amounting to thirty-five tanker loads, were as follows:

OUTPUT ESTIMATES BROKEN

Inglewood Upsets Production Forecasts for Field by Hitting Peak of 111,000 Barrels Daily

All production estimates that have been made in connection with the development of the Inglewood field have been broken. About two months ago one of the best field men in Southern California, who holds good leases there, estimated that the field would hit a peak of 55,000 barrels—possibly 60,000 barrels. Other forecasts ranged from 40,000 to 70,000 barrels. Last Tuesday the field produced 111,000 barrels, and the average for the week was 104,000 barrels from 106 producing wells. Half a dozen gusher wells were completed during the week.

Whether or not this record is the peak remaining to be seen. Prophesying at Inglewood has been a poor occupation, but the figures show unmistakably that drilling operations have passed their peak, and new wells in the future must of necessity be fewer because there are fewer being drilled.

PERMITS DROP

For the first time since the real development of the field began, the Standard Oil Company took out no permits to drill new wells last week. This company, the largest in the field, with a daily production last week of about 41,500 barrels a day, now has only six wells drilling, and has practically all its lines protected. With this detail taken care of, and its leases protected from drainage, the Standard's future operations will be cut to a minimum.

The Petroleum Securities Company, second largest operator at Inglewood, ran its daily production up to about 35,000 barrels a day last week, but this company, too, is practically through so far as development of the shallow zone is concerned. On its Rubel and Cone leases, where practically all of its production has been found, the Petroleum Securities has only five wells now drilling, and only two locations undrilled. This leaves only the Dabney-Lloyd lease to drill up.

NEARLY THROUGH

The Associated Oil Company is also about through on its Vickers lease. Associated has three wells now drilling, and when these are completed it has only four other locations to develop. This company is getting between 15,000 and 20,000 barrels a day from the Vickers lease.

On the Rindge lease the Shell company is likewise on the last lap of development. The Shell was one of the last companies to enter the field and it got a piece of land part of which was in the heart of the field. The productive part of the lease was comparatively small, but Shell had room for eight or ten wells, several of which were as large as any in the field. Only one or two of these remain to be brought in, and that will wind up Shell operations.

STATUS UNCHANGED

The Pacific Oil Company on the Anita Baldwin lease has possibilities that are as yet ungauged. Two wells have been completed on the lease, and the Pacific has about six others drilling. Besides these wells the Pacific may have room for from six to fifteen other projects, depending on what the present development shows.

In the north part of the field the General Petroleum Corporation, drilling the Brown-Shasta Oil Company's 114-acre lease, has had no showing in five wells. Two of these are shut down, and the other three are still pegging along, looking for showings.

The Standard and Pacific are the only two operators in the field with any considerable acreage still remaining to be developed. This, of course, is assuming that nothing occurs to force the development of a lower zone, which most interested operators believe exists. If someone drills into a deeper sand, and starts producing, there will be a recurrence of the intensive drilling campaign which has marked the last six months at Inglewood.

BUILDING OF ORE PLANT SPEEDED UP

More Than Year Needed to Finish Inspiration Consolidated Structure

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MIAMI (Ariz.) July 26.—More than a year will be required for completion of the great leaching plant of the Inspiration Consolidated. Work now is being speeded by two shifts, with 100 men added to the force on pit excavation. Next will come the concrete lining of the thirteen leaching vats, each 70x175 feet, eighteen feet deep, each with capacity for 7500 tons of ore, which will be the average daily consumption of the plant.

Solutions will be handled in ten 450,000 gallon concrete tanks. Tailings will have to be hauled over two miles, taken from the pits by a fifteen-ton excavator. G. H. Booth is in charge of construction work.

This month is to see completion of important changes in the Miami company's mill, with raising of ore consumption from the present 7500 tons a day to 10,000. Six concentrating sections will be operated under a new and much improved crushing plant.

Three DeLaval centrifugal blowers have been added. The grade of the concentrates is expected to be raised to even 40 per cent, through an additional process that eliminates a large proportion of the worthless iron pyrite.

PROUD DISTINCTION

Oklahoma leads the nation in the number of boys and girls who are members of farm and home clubs in proportion to the State's population. Approximately 35,000 were enrolled in the club work last summer, and an increase of enrollment is expected this year. [Earth.

Bountiful Irrigation

Colorado farmers will be blassed with an abundance of irrigation water this summer, according to figures given out by J. M. Sherrier, government meteorologist. Mr. Sherrier estimates the water supply will be as much as 50 per cent above normal.

STRIKES OIL TOO THICK TO PUMP

Gilmore Company Mixing Lighter Grade As Cutting Agent

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FELLOWS, July 26.—The Gilmore Oil Company of Los Angeles, which is drilling its first well on Section No. 27, 31-22, is reported to have developed oil at 1510 feet, but that it is so heavy that it cannot be pumped successfully.

Lighter oil is being mixed in the hole to cut up the crude, so that it can be brought up, according to field reports. The crude from this sand is said to be much heavier than any which had previously been found in that district.

PLAN SIXTY-SIX NEW OIL WELLS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, July 26.—Sixty-six wells will be drilled in Kern county oil fields if oil is struck on eight oil land leases and purchases, the contracts for which have been filed with the recorder of this county.

The largest well-drilling contract calls for the drilling of thirty-two wells in the San Emidio district by the United Oil Company of Los Angeles which has leased from Robert L. and Drucilla Couley 320 acres on the south half of Section 14, 32-26, southeast from Lake Buena Vista.

Drilling must commence within five years and in the event that oil is discovered one-eighth royalty will be paid by the exploring company.

One year is given in which Fred S. Jasper must commence drilling on land leased from Park M. and Metta Reynolds, comprising the south half of the northwest quarter of Section 2, 28-26, south of Famosa. The bringing in of oil on the land will require the drilling of seven other wells. A cash bonus of $4000 is named in the agreement.

Accompanying the lease papers is a grant deed denoting the outright purchase from Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds of the south half of the northeast quarter of the same section, by the Jasper interests for a consideration of $6000.

Another lease in the same area demands the drilling of ten wells in case oil is discovered. Hoyt S. Gale, representing the Gulf Oil Corporation, acquired the leasehold from C. F. and Ruth E. Moore for a period of twenty years under the stipulation that drilling be commenced within five years. The land includes ninety-seven acres on the south half of the southwest quarter of Section 30, 27-26. One-eighth royalty is agreed upon.

W. M. and Carrie M. Eason have granted to the Standard Oil Company a lease on 320 acres of land comprising the southwest quarter of Section 28, and the northwest quarter of Section 30, 27-26. A rental of $1600 per year is mentioned and the royalty is fixed at one-eighth.

A second lease by Standard Oil Company has been obtained from Jacob and Jesselyn Thomas. It calls for the drilling of eight wells on the west half of the southwest quarter of Section 27, 27-26, southeast of Famosa, in the territory being explored by Marland Oil Company. Five years is given to commence drilling. The royalty is to be one-eighth.

Andrew A. and Harlet Crasble of Taft have leased to John L. Gill the east half of the southwest quarter of Section 6, 28-27, for a period of twenty years. A cash bonus of $20 per month is stipulated for the first twenty-four months and the failure to commence drilling within two years from the date of lease will raise the renal to $100 a month. One-eighth royalty is mentioned and eight wells are to be drilled.

The sale, for a consideration of $6000, of the north half of the southwest quarter of Section 17, 26-26, has been recorded, Boyce R. Fitzgerald purchasing the land from Clyde and Ethel R. Grimes. The land is located four miles north of Famosa.

Drowned Out

While his mother was entertaining visitors Johnny found his way into the bathroom and, to amuse himself, turned on the water.

Mrs. Brown, upon hearing the noise, went upstairs and when she appeared at the room in question found the bath overflowing.

"Johnny," she said, "didn't a little voice within you tell you that you were doing wrong?"

"Yes, mother," replied Johnny, "but the water made so much noise that I couldn't hear it."—[Unidentified

Unlighted Communities

There are upwards of one hundred thousand small communities, towns and villages in the United States without either electricity or gas. These people use the old smoky, air fouling kerosene lamp and have no properly equipped bathroom or hot and cold running water for culinary purposes. The streets are dak and dangeous. There are no motion pictures and the installation of the scores of electrical appliances for comfort and labor saving are forbidden, through lack of available electric current.—[Farm and Light Power.

WORK RESUMED ON DEKAY WELL

Ten Planned on Community Lease at Newport

Rosenburg Rountree No. 2 Gets Gas Showing

Santa Ana Gardens Said to be in Standard Hands

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEWPORT BEACH, July 26.—After being tied up for nearly sixty days for various reasons, work has been resumed by the DeKays on the Community lease near Thirty-sixth street in West Newport. A crew is now drilling under the direction of E. Wormington of Glendale. Cable tools are being used.

"It is our intention to put down ten wells," says Louis DeKay, "and we intend to complete these as rapidly as possible. While the cable method is somewhat slower than rotary, we believe it is surer and we figure on getting the heavy oil at from 1000 to 1100 feet. We do not plan to build a refinery because we hope to arrange to run a pipe line to the sidetrack of the Yerkes Company and ship from there."

The DeKay lease takes in about sixty lots, in addition to the Wold-Lane lease of thirty-five lots.

Rosenberg No. 2 on the Rountree lease at Costa Mesa is down 2100 feet. This is the well that showed heavy gas pressure at 1400 feet. The pressure has abated somewhat but gas is still in evidence. It is reported that the well will drill to a depth of 4500 feet.

Norris No. 1 on the bluff at the end of Nineteenth street which has been shut down for some time, is again drilling, according to field reports.

The Yerkes wells on the flats are pumping steadily and several of them, especially those near the old Santa Ana River bed, are pumping more asphaltum than those further inland, running from seventy to 100 barrels. The wells on the Sloan lease, near Fortieth street, are producing on the same basis indicating that the field's anticline slopes toward the Mesa rather than toward the ocean, as some geologists contended in the earlier stages of development.

Information attributed to W. M. Lenz of Los Angeles, who is interested in Santa Ana Gardens, is to the effect that 5000 acres have been leased to the Standard Oil Company. Mr. Lenz stated that all the surrounding acreage was leased on a three-year drilling basis.

The Standard recently drilled and abandoned a test hole at Paularino, where it found a lava formation at 3200 feet, which, it is said, precluded any possibility of oil production in that locality. About two years ago the Fairview Oil Company drilled two wells on the Adams and Goldshmidt properties, about three-quarters of a mile from the Standard's present location, and no lava was found in either of the Fairview wells, although there are said to have been oil showings in both wells.

RETURN FROM SOUTH AFRICA

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

JEROME (Ariz.) July 26.—George Kingdon, manager of the United Verde Extension Company, has returned from a trip to Africa with the company's president, James S. Douglas. They visited the Rand, where they saw gold mines worked down to 6500 feet of depth, and Kimberley, where the diamond mines were visited, and thence went northward to copper mines of the Upper Congo country.

The African copper deposits were declared by Mr. Kingdon the greatest he ever had seen, but he thought their situation, 2000 miles from civilization, a handicap that can hardly be overcome for many years. The ores practically all are malachite thus far, worked in open cuts, and are of remarkable richness. It is only speculation to talk of what will be opened up in depth.

Smelting processes are crude, but are being improved. Development thus far has been confined to about twenty miles along the outcrops. In addition to copper, the returned traveler tells of "vast deposits of tin, lead, cobalt, and even of radium."

"In front of one of the mine offices we saw a piece of radium bearing rock that weighed over five tons and that was said to contain almost incredible values. The possibilities of this field are simply beyond the power of language or figures to describe." The country is malarial, everyone in the party taking a daily ration of five grains of quinine.

OIL INCOME TO BE USED FOR TRIBE

Navajo Indians Opposed to Pro Rata Distribution of Money

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

OKLAHOMA CITY (Okla.) July 26.—Oil royalty money received by the Navajo Indian tribe from wells on its reservation in New Mexico will not be distributed pro rata among its members, as is done in the Osage Indian tribe in Oklahoma. At a recent meeting of Navajo representatives at the Shiprock Agency, Commissioner H. J. Hagerling, representing the Department of the Interior, asked for a vote of the Indians on suggestions for distribution of the tribal funds. Only a few asked for pro rata distribution.

A majority were in accord with a suggestion that the money be distributed pro rata among the several tribal jurisdictions, and it was agreed that it will be used for the general good of the tribe. In one section investments will be made in good breeds of cattle and sheep. In another farm implements and seeds will be purchased. Drainage systems and reservoirs will be constructed where needed probably in all the jurisdictions.

KERN COUNTY WELLS SHUT IN

Standard Oil Company Stops Production on Fee Properties

The Standard Oil Company of California is reported to have shut in the producing wells on all of its fee properties in Kern county, which are producing heavy oil.

It is asserted that the company may even shut in the wells on some of its leases in San Joaquin Valley. Six fee properties in Kern county, which it has temporarily shut in, represent a potential daily output of 5500 barrels.

At Coalinga the company has 6000 barrels of production shut in. The wells are being held back on account of flush production in the Los Angeles Basin, it is said. Not many employees have been laid off as a result of the policy, however.

BUSINESS TAKES ON ROSEATE HUE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, July 26.—With favorable trade developments outnumbering the retarding factors by a wide margin, the business outlook last week took on a rosier hue. Higher commodity prices, another series of satisfactory half-yearly earnings reports and slowly increasing manufacturing operations in many industries laid the groundwork for more cheerful sentiment.

Recurrence of stiffer money rates for a brief period provided tangible evidence of a wider demand for funds from the interior. A general strngthening of the money situation as demands increase for crop-moving purposes and commercial activities was predicted by Charles E. Mitchell, president of the National City Bank of New York, who said that higher rates should be welcomed as a sign of industrial expansion. Revival of business in the fall, he said, could be accomplished without any strain on the nation's credit resources.

STEEL PROSPEROUS

The second quarter earnings statement of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, comparing favorably with results for the first quarter and the corresponding period of last year, was accepted in the financial district as a reliable measure of conditions in the steel industry. On this basis, the United States Steel Corporation is expected to make public an equally good report this week. Several forecasts have estimated that earnings will exceed those of the first three months of the year, which totaled almost $40,000,000.

Other commodities which reached higher price levels included cotton, copper, rubber, lead, zinc, tin and hides. A general advance in tires took place in response to soaring prices of crude rubber. No further changes were reported in oil or gasoline quotations, although the output in stocks on both crude and refined products continued steadily to decline. Sugar was the principal weak spot in the commodities, fine granulated sugar selling at the lowest price for the year in the New York market.

ROAD EARNINGS FAVORABLE

The favorable operating position of most of the country's railroads was reflected in a series of favorable earnings statements for June and in the maintenance of freight traffic at a level substantially higher than for the corresponding period last year. The American Railway Association reported that the greatest number of freight cars on record was placed in service during the first six months of the year by the Class One railroads.

UNITED INVADES JASMINE FIELD

Acquires Holdings Southeast of Buena Vista Lake

Sixteen Wells to be Drilled Under Lease Contract

Steady Leasing Recorded in Kern River Front

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

DELANO, July 26.—The invasion of the Jasmine area by the United Oil Company is regarded as one of the big features of the week in oil circles. The company has heretofore confined its northern leasing operations to the west side of the San Joaquin Valley, but during the past few weeks it has acquired large holdings in the area southeast of Buena Vista Lake.

Under the terms of the lease, recorded yesterday from the Jasmine Orange and Land Company, sixteen wells are to be drilled and beginning of work is limited to one year. The company agrees to commence drilling operations within six months.

An oil royalty of one-sixth is to be paid, of which amount the Jasmine Land Company is to receive 12½ per cent and J. A. Hodgeman 4 1-6 per cent. Rental of $160 a month is to be paid for deferred drilling.

The lease comprises 160 acres in the southeast quarter of Section 33, 25-27. This is approximately two miles south of the test well being drilled by the C. C. M. O. Company on Section 20.

STEADY LEASING

Steady leasing activity in the area from Jasmine south into the Kern River front is shown by the daily record of leases. During the past fortnight that area, particularly the district east of Famosa and Kimberlina, has been the scene of great activity, most of the new leases placed on record covering an extension of the west front of the Kern River oil fields.

The magnitude of the operations, it is said, may not be revealed for several months, many of the agreements being in escrow. Two important transactions showing substantial bonus payments have been revealed.

The Wilshire Oil Company has obtained from Robert S. and Pauline M. Smith 100 acres for oil exploitation, comprising a portion of Section 32, 25-27. Should drilling be deferred rental of $300 a month will be paid after July 12, 1926.

OTHER LEASES

Another lease to the Wilshire Company was from W. S. Kendall of Sacramento, holder of the fee title to the south half of Section 16, 25-27, near Jasmine. Rental of $320 a month is to be paid if drilling is deferred after January 1, 1926.

The Portland Petroleum Corporation, an Oregon company, has obtained a lease assignment from A. Bruce Frame of Los Angeles, holder of a lease from Eva M. and H. B. Wells of Bakersfield, covering the south half of the southwest quarter of Section 21, 30-21. Twelve months is given in which to start drilling.

Dr. George Buchner of Bakersfield has sold to the East Puente Oil Company 160 acres obtained from August E. Villard, comprising the northeast quarter of Section 17, 26-28. The consideration in this deal was $12,000, an advance of $4000, according to the records involving the two transactions.

An agreement as to the sale of a portion of the George E. Squires holdings east of Kimberlina has been recorded by W. K. and Alta M. Lee. The tract comprises eighty-seven acres of the southeast quarter of Section 32, 27-26.

Adventures of a Tramp Dog

The Greenleaf Sentinel has an interesting story of a Shepherd dog—a tramp dog which came to the local railroad station and homesteaded there, apparently liking the surroundings. The dog meets the trains and greets the passengers and occasionally hops into the baggage car and rides a few stations beyond, once going as far as Downs. He gets a ride back if he can, but, if not, he tramps back. He visits the back door of the butcher shop for his meals, and is a general favorite.—[Capper's Weekly.

ANGELENOS FIND RICH MINE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

RANDSBURG, July 27.—Four months ago John Kelly and Miss Edith Coontz of Los Angeles, two of the largest stockholders in California Rand Silvers, Inc., owners of the famous Kelly mine, together with John M. Fox, Nevada mining engineer, acquired a group of prospects in the Slate Mountains, approximately nine miles from Trona.

Rich ore was soon struck at surface and the Engineers' Exploration Company, was formed to prosecute development. Today the property is shipping five carloads of ore per month, which are said to be netting from $1000 to $1800 per carload.

The property is reported to be the most remarkable silver-lead property ever developed in California and is showing ore comparing favorably with the bonanza material of the world-famous Kelly property. The 120-foot shaft is in high-grade and twelve men are engaged in the extraction of shipping material. In the new workings, ore sampling 110 ounces silver and 60 per cent lead is said to be showing.

The Belcher Extension Company, operating the Kane group of seven claims adjacent to the Engineers' Exploration, has started development of two strong ledges and is sacking the shipping ore. A three-foot vein is reported to sample 41 per cent lead and 31 ounces silver, with another deposit of galena and carbonate running 66 per cent lead and 16 ounces silver. The management states that a carload of ore will be ready for shipment to a Utah smelter by the time the new road to the main highway is finished.

The district is teeming with activity despite hot weather and scarcity of water. Prospectors are flocking in and engineers representing Los Angeles capitalists are busy examining properties. The Slate mountains contain a mineralized contact extending for fifty miles between granite and slate with prophyry dikes, and have produced large quantities of rich silver-lead ores. The mineral zone carries gold and copper. Operators in the field anticipate a great mining revival as a result of recent discoveries.

RARE MINERALS, METALLURGY, CHEMISTRY

Qualitative analyses will be given in this department of The Times to correspondents on ores and minerals free of charge. Make each sample of an ounce or so in weight. Be sure to write a letter stating what tests are desired and give the approximate locality from which samples were taken. Do not pulverize the specimens. Give your name and address on paper wrapped with samples.

Cinnabar Absent

RAY (Ariz.) July 7.—Question: I would like to have the samples sent you under separate cover classified and analyzed. All of them found close together about three feet under ground. Do you think it would pay to work this claim?

F.

Answer: It would probably pay you well to prospect the claim thoroughly. The indications are good, and you have sulphides at three-foot depth.

On sample No. 1 you ask: "Does this contain silver?" This specimen carries traces of silver glance and two microscopical colors of native silver; copper and zinc in low percentages with iron and manganese. The large specimen, sent also as No. 1, is on the order of the small sample but it is lower-grade ore; copper-lead and zinc in low percentages found.

On wrapper of No. 2 you have written: "Is this silver-lead; is the red cinnabar, and what is the black soft stuff?" The specimen contains some "greenstone, porphyritic rock;" it is not "steel galena" of the mining boys in the hills, and contains no cinnabar, copper, nor native gold. The soft blackish stuff is of manganese, and carries no copper value. A low percentage of zinc-lead is present also. "Does No. 3 contain gold?" Similar rock may show gold by fire assay, but no free gold is in the sample. The specimen seems to be an altered rock containing jasper, limonite and hematite. Lead-zinc sulphides more or less found; lead carbonate and lead oxide in traces only. The three smaller specimens run fairly well in lead carbonate, lead oxide and a reaction for zinc; iron oxides present.

Lode and Placer

IDYLLWILD, July 7.—Q.: (1) Can I hold a quartz ledge on a placer claim? (2) Can I hold a mountain of limestone as a placer claim? Important and oblige.

P.

A.: (1) Probably, yes. (2) Depends on the size of the mountain, but the limit is possibly twenty acres. "Safety first!" Consult a lawyer!

Silicate and Carbonate

SEARCHLIGHT (Nev.) July 8.—Q.: Please state if inclosed samples contain any aluminum, oxides, or sulphates of other matter? What should the specimens be quantitatively assayed for?

"AN OLD SUBSCRIBER."

A.: Sample No. 1 is a soft hydrous magnesium silicate containing more or less aluminum silicate. No. 2 runs high in silica; lime carbonate, strontium, and magnesium carbonate found. The specimens carry no free gold nor platinum. Cannot advise you further.

Free Gold Absent

WINSLOW (Ariz.) July 8.—Q.: I am sending you a sample from a twelve-foot ledge. Please advise indications.

W.

A.: The samples are of two varieties, viz. One is sandstone and the other shale-like matter. The reddish colors are those of iron and not cinnabar. Traces of pyrite were found in the pulp and "cat silver" mica (muscovite of microscopical sizes) is present. Lead, zinc and iron indicated.

Free Gold Absent

LOS ANGELES, July 9.—Q.: This ore was taken from the Shadow Mountains of the Silver Lake mining district, San Bernardino county, California. Kindly let me knows its values in gold, silver, and lead. The two samples are from separate veins.

S.

A.: Sample No. 1 is quartzitic rock; garnet present; zinc-lead traces. No. 2 is also quartzitic rock; in part garnetyte. Traces of lead molybdate with lead carbonate found; zinc present. For silver and other gold values consult assayers.

Lithium Absent

ONTARIA, July 10.—Q.: Samples from Telegraph Canyon, San Bernardino county, near Chino. Please test for gold, silver, carbon, and lithia.

MRS. A.

A.: The flat sample is on the order of Stalagmite matter from the floor of a cavern. It reacts for iron, lime, soda, and sodium sulphate, each in very low percentages; no reaction for lithia. The shale-like specimen runs low in lime carbonate and soda; iron traces, aluminum silicate present.

Free Gold Absent

LOS ANGELES, July 10.—Q.: I am sending you two samples of ore from Kagel Canyon. Of No. 1, I should like to know if gold is present or not. No. 2 please test for gold and silver; if possible I would be glad to have an analysis of it. I have a large deposit of No. 2

K.

A.: The greenish-black specimen is somewhat rounded and is hornblende rock containing more or less pyroxene. The reddish-yellow stained ferruginous quartz is a variety that should carry gold, but free gold is absent from the specimen. On other gold and silver values you will please consult assayers.

Minerals

CONGRESS (Ariz.) July 10.—Q.: Sample No. 1 from West of the Santa Maria River in a country essentially gold-bearing. I found within a short distance eight or nine stringers, all bearing this kind of ore, which is yellow or greenish when oxidized, and mostly black. Sometime silvery-white when a little deeper in the ground. It melts easily before the blowpipe; makes an orange-yellow coat, and the globule is brittle. It will not flatten at all. I suppose the mineral carries bismuth. I had it assayed for gold and silver with negative results; is there any other valuable mineral in it and what is it? No. 2 from the same district as No. 1; about twenty miles north-east, near Bagdad; I discovered this, and at first took it to be gray copper ore. The assayer's returns on this gave but little gold and silver; is it an ore of lead and copper only? Always thanking you.

X. Y. Z.

A.: The samples are chiefly milk white quartz, and of twelve thumb specimens. The microscope and wet analyses show that they are from different stringers; the chemical reactions on three specimens follow No. 1 quartz and molybdenite; zinc and antimony present. Two of the quartz samples contain molybdenite, and powellite (calcium molybdate) in microscopical forms of altered molybdenite crystals. Powellite is the choice of minerals for obtaining the best grade of molybdenum chemicals. Bismuth sulphide, with blende and arsenic were obtained from three other quartz specimens, and the remaining samples, among the twelve above referred to, show lead, zinc, arsenic, copper traces and microscopic allanite, all mixed together in partly altered forms. Sample No. 2 runs low in copper. Cerussite, galenite, blende, arsenic, and antimony more or less present. Native silver absent.

You will please accept the thanks of this department of The Times for other samples mailed with the minerals referred to in the above report.

Not Trap Rock

LOS ANGELES, July 12.—Q.: Inclosed find sample of a substance which seems to be rare. There is a deposit of it in the Cuates Mountain. Please classify it. Has it a commercial value, and does it carry any gold or silver values?

V.

A.: We're rather shy on that sample without resorting to quantitative analysis. It is bluish black in color with a seam of pearlite in the rock, and feldspar (Sanidin) is sparingly present. It contains no hydrocarbon, and is in part between lava and trachyte.

COMPANY BUYS IN STOCK ISSUE

Operators of Walker Mines Retire Preferred

Call in $100,000 Worth From Holders

Pacific Smelting and Metals in Straits

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

RENO (Nev.) July 26.—The Walker Mining Company, operating the Walker mines and flotation plant on the Plumas copper belt, near Portola, Cal., has announced retirement of the last $100,000 issue of its preferred stock. Retirement of the stock was completed July 8, last, at Salt Lake City, with the payment of $100,000 by the company to holders of the issue. The property is the second largest copper producer in California, its annual yield being exceeded only by the adjoining Engels Copper Company.

President Walker recently stated that upon retirement of the preferred stock, $30,000 would be applied monthly to the $1,000,000 owed to the International Smelting Company, and $30,000 allocated to a fund for dividend disbursements. The company is treating 800 tons of ore daily, producing 1,300,000 pounds of copper per month, and earning about $90,000 monthly. All earnings above $60,000 will be set aside each month to guarantee payment of the obligations to the International Smelting Company, it is asserted.

The Pacific Smelting and Metals Company, operating the Nightingale tungsten mine and plant west of Lovelock, has been placed in the hands of a receiver by request of L. A. Friedman, president of the corporation. Friedman said the receivership was resolved on for the protection of creditors. Large blocks of the stock are said to have been sold in Honolulu, Los Angeles and San Francisco. The management asserts that operations will be resumed shortly and that outstanding obligations of $22,000 will be paid in full.

The Belmont Development Company of Tonopah has taken options on the Nevada group of four claims and two fractions at Hamilton, and a group of claims located fourteen miles from the Vulture mine, fifteen miles from Wickenburg, Ariz.

Wheat Market Off With Some Bears Favored

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, July 26.—There are two sides to the wheat market and the bears have the best of it at present. Despite the advance of late, closing prices on Saturday, compared with a week ago show values in Chicago 5¼@8⅜ lower, July leading. Kansas City has been relatively strong than other markets and closed with losses of 4⅞@5⅜ cents. Minneapolis was off 6½@7⅜ cents, and Winnipeg, 7¼@7⅜ cents lower than a week ago.

Crop reports from the spring wheat country have largely lost their influence as a bullish factor, and the trade is facing hedging pressure and a larger movement of winter wheat with that of spring wheat only a few weeks off. The future of wheat prices is regarded as dependent upon the volume of speculative buying that can be brought into the market to advance values while without it, lower levels are to be expected.

The Canadian crop has lost its brilliant promise and 400,000,000 bushels now is considered a big yield with men in the trade looking for 350,000,000 to 375,000,000 bushels. Even these figures are around 100,000,000 bushels more than last year.

The United States wheat crop has been reduced by heat, drought, frost in the spring, and latterly by rust, so that a big crop in the Northwest, which was expected a month ago, is out of the question. Reliable estimates at present are for reductions of 10 to 45 per cent in the various locations.

N. C. Murray, the Clement Curtis crop expert, estimates the spring wheat crop at 255,000,000 bushels, or a loss of 21,000,000 bushels from the government estimate of July 1, compared with 283,000,000 bushels harvested last year. His total wheat-crop estimate is for 840,000,000 bushels against 686,000,000 bushels by the government returns of July 1, and 873,000,000 bushels as harvested last year. This places the United States on practically a domestic basis.

July wheat at Chicago closed Saturday at 151⅜, September 149⅝@149¾; December 151@151⅜, and May, 155⅜.

The corn crop is spotted but there is a large area, particularly that in Eastern Iowa, a good part of South Dakota, Minnesota, Missouri and the States east of the Mississippi River that have an excellent promise, with crop a week or ten days earlier than last year.

As a partial offset there has been injury from high temperatures and drought in parts of Western Iowa, Nebraska and a considerable part of Kansas and Oklahoma, and a practical loss in Texas, while in the South, conditions have gone back over large areas the last thirty days.

Favorable reports from the Middle West have created a bearish feeling in the trade and the new crop futures are said to be heavily oversold. Those who believe in lower prices are taking advantage of the strong spots to sell on while the bull interests are absorbing offerings on breaks.

Closing trades, as compared with a week ago, show losses of 1⅝@6¼ cents on the nearby deliveries and ¾-cent on December.

Hedging sales are becoming a factor in the oat trade, and the market is feeling the effects. Northwestern interests are said to be selling moderately and elevator people who operate largely in the Middle West are putting out a few hedges.

July closed Saturday at 43⅜ cents, off ⅜ cent. Other futures were off 1½ cents, with the close on September, 44⅛ cents; December, 46¾ cents, and May, 49⅜ cents.

Rye futures are 4¼@4⅝ cents lower for the week, with the close on July, 93⅜, September, 97¼, and December $1.00½.

Foreign rye crops are sufficiently large to make the outlook poor for good export business.

In the provision trade, eastern and packing interests were less aggressive on both sides of the market. Hog supplies were lighter and the demand for product only fair. Stocks of cured product are liberal and in excess of recent years.

Closing prices were at intermediate figures for the week, with lard off 2½@5 cents and short ribs 5@12½ cents, as compared with the previous week.

Franklin's Way of Making Lace

In Franklin's correspondence there are many amusing passages, for example this one from a letter he wrote while in Paris to his daughter. She had sent to him for some lace and feathers. He replied: "As you say you should 'have great pride' in wearing anything I send and showing it as your father's taste, I must avoid the opportunity of doing that with either lace or feathers. If you wear your cambric ruffles as I do, and take care not to mend the holes, they will come in time to be lace, and feathers, my dear, may be had in America from every cock's tail."—[Boston Transcript.

EXPERIENCED

A victim of chronic bronchitis called on a doctor to be examined. The doctor, after careful questioning, assured the patient that the ailment would respond readily to treatment. "I suppose you must have had a great deal of experience with this disease?" said the sufferer.

The doctor smiled wisely, and replied, "Why, my dear sir, I've had bronchitis myself for over

"Yes," retorted the driver, "but if you care to be left you'd better forget your right."—[Louisville Courier-Journal.

TOBACCO BODY TO OPEN DRIVE

Existing Contract Will Last Two More Seasons

Majority of Members Live in Kentucky

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LEXINGTON (Ky.) July 26.—Burley tobacco growers, who will soon start a new sign-up campaign for a probable poling period of five years, have two years more of business ahead of them in the first five-year pool of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Association. That the association expects to continue in business, with the majority of the tobacco growers signed up for a second period of five years is the opinion of every executive official of the association.

At the offices of the association it was said that the Burley pool started with 55,617 grower members in the winter of 1921. More than 20,000 new members were added, many of them through their voluntary action in joining the pool without solicitation. The following year 76,182 pledged to deliver their 1922 crop. By the fall of 1923 the total had grown to 96,000, but before the winter was over 6000 more growers had brought their tobacco to association delivery houses and become members of the organization. Continued growth brought the association membership up in 1924 and up to the present until the membership total is now 108,285.

The bulk of this membership is in Kentucky, as that State produces about three fourths of the Burley tobacco grown in the United States. Kentucky has 86,398 members, Indiana 5078, Ohio 7915, Tennessee 3292, West Virginia 2197, Virginia 618, Missouri 890, North Carolina 309, the remaining 1578 residing in other States not in the recognized Burley tobacco district and some probably not growing tobacco since their removal.

When the Burley association was organized it was on an agreement it should market the crops of 1922, 1923, 1924, 1925 and 1926 and if 75 per cent of the acreage for 1920 had been signed by November 15, 1921, then the association also should market the 1921 crop for its members. Under that agreement the Burley organization received and marketed the crop of 1921 and has been carrying out the contract with its members since, selling approximately 120,000,000 pounds the first year, 198,000,000 pounds of 1922 tobacco, receiving 245,000,000 pounds of 1923 tobacco and 172,000,000 of the 1924 crop, of which, according to a statement by James C. Stone president and general manager, which accompanied the second distribution on the 1923 crop, the association had then (June 12, 1925) on hand about 182,000,000 pounds.

MAYOR'S LETTER SAVES CULPRIT

Detroit Magistrate Harks to Leniency Plea From a Canadian Official

DETROIT, July 26.—Simon Manna, 25 years of age, of London, Ont., was saved from a prison term by a letter read to Magistrate W. E. Gundy, in Windsor Police Court from Mayor G. A. Wenige of London, who wrote of Manna's good reputation and who volunteered to take the young man back to London and be personally responsible for him.

Manna entered a plea of guilty, but requested leniency.

"I was prepared to send you to jail for two years and sentence you to floggings," said Mr. Gundy, "and you are indeed fortunate to have the Mayor of London intercede for you at this time. I will act on his suggestion and send you back there to him."

Manna was placed on suspended sentence for two years and ordered to pay $30 court costs.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Twenty years ago the principle of the phantom circuit came into extensive use on the lines of the Bell System. By this means two telephone circuits are utilized to create a third independent circuit.

Twenty years ago the Bell Telephone System, with much trepidation, tried out one of the new "horseless carriages." Now the motor fleet of the Bell system comprises more than 9000 cars and trucks and new tires have to be purchased on the average of one for every three minutes.

There are now 875,000 telephones in the State of California, an increase of 110,000 in the last year and a quarter. This means that there are twenty-two telephones in California for each 100 of the population.—[Telephone Press.

Golf Notes

"Why is golf like pie?"

"Because you think it's great till you get a bad slice, of course. But why is golf different from fishing?"

"Because it's no fun till you've lost your hook, as anybody ought to know. Now tell me why is a dub golfer like a worn-out automobile?"

"Because his drive is short, his approach noisy and when he stops you never know when he's going to begin putting. Ask me something hard."—[Exchange.

VITAL RECORD

DEATHS

With Funeral Announcements.

A WORD OF COMFORT

Insurance companies are making great strides these latter years in getting hosts of men to protect their dear ones from destitution when death shall remove the provider from the family circle. It is a blessed service these companies render.

But a man must plan to leave something besides money, if his family is to "carry on." He must leave, as his chief bequest, the example of the one with a high sense of honor, unwavering devotion to the right as he understands it, kindliness, charity, and faith in the God Who has sustained him through the years. Insure your influence.

"Ionaco" Treatments For Indigestion Easy to Take

Amazing success has accompanied a drugless, easy-to-take treatment for indigestion and constipation, making use of a remarkable device called Wilshire's "Ionaco."

No drugs, chemicals, laxatives, pills or liquids of any kind are used. There is absolutely nothing unpleasant or inconvenient about the treatments. Place the "Ionaco" right over your regular clothing. Sit comfortably in a chair. Read or engage in some other pastime during the treatment, lasting only ten minutes.

The "Ionaco" is personally backed by Gaylord Wilshire, well-known as the originator of the Wilshire district, and he is now devoting himself to bringing the "Ionaco" to as many sufferers as possible.

Los Angeles Society Matron Benefited

Mrs. E. L. Reed, 3802 W. Second street, Los Angeles, who had indigestion and arthritis at the same time, tells in the following letter how "Ionaco" relieved her of both:

"I had Arthritis appear four years ago in the shape of enlarged knuckles, and a very severe pain in my back. The "Ionaco" was called to my attention, and I took one treatment a week ago. The pain completely disappeared from my back and my hands are now perfectly flexible. A bad case of chronic indigestion also vanished."

PASTOR SCORED BY STATEMENT

Dr. Frank Dyer Accused of Disrupting Church

Call Issued for Eliminating "Disturbing Element"

Question Will be Discussed Tomorrow Night

A twelve-page statement dealing with charges against Dr. Frank Dyer, pastor of the Wilshire Boulevard Congregational Church, has been prepared by the faction in the church that has called for termination of his services and this morning will be received through the mail by members of the church.

Dr. Dyer is charged in the statement with, among other things, having "caused a disruption and unhappiness among us all." The statement is for the purpose, it asserts, of giving to members/the reasons for the action at a meeting last Monday night wherein, undisputed legality, sixty-seven voted to terminate the pastor's services. Inasmuch as this meeting's action is to be reviewed at a congregational meeting of the church tomorrow night, the statement was prepared and broadcast for today by fourteen of the leaders of the anti-Dyer movement.

Under the statement and over the signatures of the fourteen, some of them prominent in the city's life, appears the pointed paragraph:

"In our judgment, for peace and furtherance of harmony it was imperative that the disturbing element in our church be eliminated and we ask that if future action is necessary, to remove physically Dr. Dyer from the pulpit of the church, it will be done with the approval of all."

STATEMENT SIGNERS

The statement is signed by A. A. Payette, trustee; H. J. Schott, trustee; F. A. Rockhold, trustee; Charles Partridge, trustee; F. L. Purdy, deacon; George Gookins, deacon; J. C. F. Atsatt, formerly deacon; F. W. Maynard, and usher; J. A. Garrett, treasurer; Mrs. Cassie Smith, choir mother; Mrs. W. A. Moses, first president of Women's Society; C. Lewis, formerly financial secretary; B. H. Fuller, formerly Sunday-school superintendent; and Mrs. M. M. Beeman, donor of marble chapel.

The charges contained in the statement are virtually those made in the call for the meeting last Monday night and in course of the meeting itself, all of which were made public at the time.

The statement begins with a recitation of the action at Monday night's meeting, asserts the same was constitutional and legal under church procedure and contains minutes of the meeting.

The minutes assert that H. S. Laughlin, clerk of the church, refused to read the call for the meeting to the congregation; that Dr. Dyer refused to receive the call or to read it; that Dr. Dyer threatened Fuller with arrest if Fuller attempted to read the call; that Fuller read the call after the church session, amidst loud playing of the church organ to drown his voice, amidst attempts to disperse the congregation and that finally the lights were turned out.

RESIGNATION CITED

Fuller's "statement of facts and truth" read by him at the meeting Monday night contained in the statement. In this he asserted that Dr. Charles F. Aked, associate pastor of some note, resigned "as the result of repeated discourtesies on the part of Dr. Dyer" and cited that incident as "a glaring instance of the inability of Dr. Dyer to retain the confidence and support" of many. Trouble of long duration between Dr. Dyer and some of the opposition regarding the church's property is mentioned in the statement.

Dr. Dyer's asserted connection with the American Civil Liberties Union, "a branch of the I.W.W.," is discussed in the statement. Salary arrangements were misinterpreted to the congregation by the pastor, the statement asserts. The pastor is charged with much objectionable interference with officials in their duties and with many other doings against good church practice and even public morals. Among other references in the statement is the following cryptic reference without further explanation:

"Dr. Dyer said to the trustees of the church after the birth of the child that Dr. Aked stated to him that it would be suicidal to retain Miss ——— in the office of the church, and notwithstanding this fact, she has been retained up to the present time. We, as church people, know that this situation has had a very harmful effect on the young people of the church. An apparently scandalous condition continues in the church and is allowed to continue by Dr. Dyer to the detriment of the church and community."

AT REGULAR SERVICE

Among those with whom Dr. Dyer is said to have had difficulties are C. E. Spaulding, president of the Congregational Church Extension Society; Mrs. J. C. Ernst, member of music committee; F. L. Purdy, music committeeman and deacon; former Sunday School Superintendent Eckerson, Parish Minister (Mrs.) Wilson, "Miss Hatchley," Allison & Allison, building construction superintendents, and others whose names are among the signers of the statement.

Mrs. Ernst's home was the scene of the first meeting moving toward ousting Dr. Dyer, the statement discloses.

The church as a whole has not yet given any formal attention to the action of the anti-Dyer group. Despite the group's vote of 67 to 3 last Monday night to terminate his services, he preached in the church regularly yesterday. In the course of the forenoon session Dr. Dyer thanked the congregation for its calmness during the "disturbance" on the night of the reading of the

CITY HEALTH OFFICE MAY BE CHANGED

Moving of Department to Equitable Building Urged by Public Works Board

The city health department, now located in the Bullard Building, 156 North Spring street, will be moved to the Equitable Building at the northeast corner of First and Spring streets, if the recommendation of the Board of Public Works is approved today by the City Council's Finance Committee.

The moving of the health department offices is part of the general rearrangement of city offices, at an expense of $35,000, made necessary by the enlargement of the city government on account of the provisions of the new charter and to the razing of the Bullard Building to make way for the new City Hall.

The Equitable Building and the International Bank Building at Temple and Spring streets are now owned by the city and are on the site of the new City Hall. Both are located at the ends of the lot, and will not interfere with the building of the City Hall, which will be located in the center of the property, bounded by the new Spring street, Temple street, Main street and First street.

In the International Bank Building will be located, under the Board of Public Works plan, the juvenile division and city mothers' bureau of the police department, City Prosecutor, Police Court Defender, Police Commission, Board of Public Utilities and Transportation now at the City Hall, civil service department, park department, board of mechanical ngineers, police and fire pension board, and playground and social service departments.

Gas Public Utilities—Commissioner Haffer, chairman, and Commissioners Locke and Shaw.

Telephone Public Utilities—Commissioner Locke, chairman, and Commissioners Camp and Haffer.

Electric, Water and Other Utilities—Commissioner Camp, chairman, and Commissioners Shaw and Haffer.

Under the old charter the commission was known as the Board of Public Utilities and consisted of three members.

The commission now meets at 10:30 a.m. each Tuesday at the City Hall.

WAY CLEARED FOR IMPROVING STREET

As a result of the filing of the stipulation by R. P. Davidson waiving his right to appeal from the decision of the Superior Court upholding the legality of the Palms annexation proceedings, the City Council has adopted the final ordinance for the improvement of Venice Boulevard between Cochran avenue and Bagley avenue, for the improvement of La Brea avenue from Country Club Drive to Pico Boulevard, for the widening of Pico Boulevard from Crenshaw Boulevard to Livonia avenue, and for the paving and installation of a storm drain in West Adams street from Thirteenth avenue to the westerly city limits.

CHARITIES FUND GAINS IMPETUS

Contributions Pouring Into Santa Barbara

Quake-Hit Institutions in Need of Money

Grave Situation Confronted by Red Cross

BY OTIS M. WILES
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SANTA BARBARA, July 23.—Liberal contributions for the relief of Santa Barbara's crippled charities were pouring into Santa Barbara today in response to the appeal sent out to Californians by the California Development Association for an emergency fund of $1,100,000 to care for the unfortunate inmates of charitable institutions, to reconstruct ruined hospital buildings, or Red Cross work of mercy and to temporarily house dispossessed school children.

The city is in immediate need of the $1,100,000 fund. It is to be used in resuscitating the charitable agencies of Santa Barbara that were rendered almost useless by the ravages of the earthquake of three weeks ago. Community health and sanitary work must be restored. Temporary buildings must be erected for school children to enable them to resume their studies next fall. Homeless sufferers of the earthquake must be re-established in homes. Orphans must be assured that they will not be turned out upon the world. Medical care must be restored to those patients of charitable hospitals who were deprived of the chance to seek health when the disaster struck the city. And it is to fill these urgent needs that the fund is being raised by the California Development Association. And it is because of this dire need that every Californian is urged to contribute to the fund according to his or her ability to assist in the rehabilitation of Santa Barbara's prostrated charities.

RED CROSS NEEDS AID

Among the worthiest of the agencies that is to be aided by the emergency fund is the Red Cross. This organization has been laboring valiantly to do more than the share allotted to them in the humanitarian restoration work. Today, the Red Cross faces a grave situation. To it is assigned the duty of rehabilitating the destitute families that suffered through the earthquake.

To the Red Cross has fallen the problem of attending to the needs of the families included in the earthquake victims. Within three weeks 535 cases have been given to this organization. Each case demanded immediate assistance. The included, mostly, modest families whose homes have crumbled, whose jobs have been lost, leaving them homeless and without any means of support.

Eighty per cent of the cases allotted to the Red Cross are cases of families whose homes have been destroyed. They must be housed, they must be fed, their sick must be given medical attention. The majority of the remaining 20 per cent include families whose homes may have been partially spared from the wrath of the earthquake but their furnishings—furniture, dishes and whatnot—have been ruined. These must be replaced.

EMPLOYED GIRLS SUFFER

One of the worst problems confronting the Red Cross consists of that of dependents, girls principally, whose only means of livelihood were their positions, whose homes were located in sparsely furnished rooms in rooming-houses and cheap hotels. Scores of these girls lost all they possess in the disaster. They have no clothing and no place to sleep. They expect the Red Cross to attend to these needs. Sick persons are being boarded in private homes. Their board and room must be paid, and it is up to the Red Cross to pay these bills. Loans are demanded for the reconstruction of damaged homes—fallen chimneys, complete replastering jobs, etc. Who is there to pay for it? This also is one of the Red Cross problems.

Some homes are damaged to such an extent that temporary living quarters must be provided. Tents are issued to these victims. A count of such temporary houses revealed today that thirty-five families are living in tents furnished by the Red Cross. At one time this figure reached 140 tents. Also, with the tents, mattresses and cots must be supplied.

Where is the money to come from to pay for this enormous ministration of mercy?

CONTRIBUTE $10,000

Such is the greatest problem confronting the Red Cross. A fund of $10,000 has been contributed by the National Red Cross Association. That is all that the national organization can spare. The fate of Santa Barbara has not been the only disaster attended to in recent months by the Red Cross, remember. Contributions, in addition to the $10,000, total approximately $4000.

"The voluntary conributions have been next to nothing," one of the high officials of the Red Cross stated today. "We cannot carry on this work unless we get more money."

It is for such worthy purposes as this that the fund for $1,100,000 is being raised by the California Development Association. A generous portion of it is to be contributed to the rehabilitation of Santa Barbara's homeless families, among the heaviest sufferers of the earthquake.

They Brought Motorist to Justice

Reward Looks Good

Eugene Black and Mrs. Black of 130 East Victoria street, looking at reward check for $250 from Auto Club for apprehending "hit-and-run" motorist who caused death of boy.

REWARDS DRIVER'S CAPTORS

Auto Club Pays Couple $250 for Causing Arrest of Motorist Who Killed Boy

Because they caught and brought about the arrest of a "hit-and-run" driver who had failed to stop after running down a boy on a bicycle with his automobile, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Black, 130 East Victoria street, have received a reward of $250 from the Automobile Club of Southern California. The check for the sum was delivered to the couple Saturday by Ivan Kelso, general counsel of the motoring service organization.

When the driver, Edwin Wilcock, Jr., kept on going after knocking down and running over Burl Josserand, who later died from injuries received in the accident, Black and his wife gave chase in their machine. After following Wilcock from One Hundred and Third Place and South Main street, where the crash occurred, to One Hundred and Fourteenth street, they succeeded in stopping him.

While Black went back to a fire station at One Hundred and Ninth street for help, his wife alone guarded Wilcock. Wilcock was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Fred Estelle, who, with Fire Captain H. J. Nord, was brought back to the scene.

The prompt and persistent action of Mr. and Mrs. Black was believed to fit the terms of a resolution by the board of directors of the Automobile Club of Southern California, offering rewards in such accidents where the motor vehicle driver who runs down and injures or kills one or more persons fails to stop.

These offers of reward by the automobile club, one of $250 in the case where injuries result fatally and another of $50 where some one is injured by the driver, were recently renewed after having been effective during 1924.

COMMISSION TO PASS ON PLAYGROUND

Final Decision Will Be Reached Thursday on Plan for Beach Site

Final decision of what action is to be taken to acquire a municipal beach front near Point Firmin, will be taken by the City Playground and Recreation Commission at its meeting Thursday. At its last session the commission took the matter under advisement after making a survey of several proposed sites with members of the City Council and representative organizations in the San Pedro district.

The commission has had under consideration for some time a site extending from the government breakwater west for approximately a mile and has been offered a lease on this property by the Board of Harbor Commissioners. Several other locations have been suggested, including a site to the west of Point Firmin. The commission has set aside $250,000 for the improvement of the proposed city beach and it is understood that with its final decision Thursday definite steps will be taken to acquire the land immediately and improve it.

Equipment of the fourth city mountain camp, known as Oak Flats Camp on the Ridge Route, has been completed, the commission announced, and reservations for the first outing will be taken this week.

THRONG AT BOWL HEARS DEBS SPEAK

Three Thousand Acclaim Socialist Leader on Tour to Rebuild Party

An assembly of about 3000 people sweltered in Hollywood Bowl yesterday afternoon while Eugene V. Debs, many times Socialist candidate for President, delivered one of a series of addresses he is making while touring the country seeking to rebuild the Socialist party.

He was acclaimed by the crowd, which broke out of bounds and rushed down upon Mrs. J. J. Carter's geranium bed and grass plot, from which they were evicted. Mr. Debs explained his stand against war and offered in its place the International Socialist movement as "the only organized body intent on preventing war." He painted the lot of the laboring classes in drab colors and uttered many accusations against the capitalistic system.

Although 70 years of age, Mr. Debs appeared in excellent health and in good voice. He was introduced by Upton Sinclair. An appeal was made to the audience to subscribe for a weekly publication Debs will edit, to replace one suspended when Debs was sent to the Federal prison at Atlanta during the war.

He spoke at an organization meeting last night at the Jewish Socialist Center, 126 North St. Louis street.

SIX KILLED IN AUTO CRASHES

Six Expected to Succumb as Result of Mishaps

Nearly Score More Suffer Less Severe Injuries

Twelve Sent to Hospital by Accident at Monrovia

The traffic death toll, held at a comparatively low point all summer, yesterday took a sudden leap upward when six dead and six so seriously hurt they are expected to die, were added to the list. In addition to those killed and seriously hurt, nearly a score of persons suffered less severe injuries.

The dead are:

Mrs. Joseph Campbell, 22 years of age, 650 1-2 South Chicago street.

Howard Jarvis, 21, 928 West Sixty-fifth street.

Mrs. E. Sierra, San Fernando.

Walter McCartney, 56, 483 Wall street.

Mrs. Campbell was killed and a man, another woman and a child mortally hurt at Arcadia when two cars crashed at 3:15 p.m. sending twelve persons to the hospital at Monrovia.

CRITICAL CONDITION

Mrs. Campbell and her husband were riding in a car driven by E. E. Miller, 26 Alta street, Arcadia, and containing also his wife and their four children. In the car which crashed with theirs were R. C. Redding of Pasadena, Mrs. Redding, Mrs. A. B. Glover of San Gabriel, and her daughter, Eulalie, 9 years of age. Mrs. Glover suffered a double compound skull fracture and is reported in a very critical condition. Miller suffered a basal skull fracture and Yvonne Miller, 7, received fractures of both skull and hips.

Campbell suffered fractures of both knee caps. Mrs. Redding's nose was broken, and others in the two parties were painfully cut and bruised. According to Mrs. Miller, their car was practically across the intersection of Second street and Valnet avenue, Arcadia, when the car driven by Redding struck theirs in the rear, wrecking it and hurling them out. The Redding car then hit a tree. John Joyce, a Monrovia automobile dealer, who saw the accident, reported the Redding car was making forty to forty-five miles an hour, according to his estimate. He told the Arcadia police, they say, he narrowly missed being struck by the Redding car also.

McCartney was killed at Bishop Road and North Broadway when an automobile in which he was riding collided head on with a street car. The machine was driven by Henry B. Purvis, 41 years of age, 550 San Pedro street, who sustained minor bruises and cuts. McCartney was removed to the Receiving Hospital and later his body was utrned over to Ivy Overholtzer, undertaker.

In the machine with McCartney and Purvis were Mrs. Eunnis F. Allon, 550 San Pedro street, and Charles White, address unknown, both of whom were uninjured. Purvis is being held on suspicion of manslaughter on complaint of Detective Lieutenants Wilde McGowan and Hardy. Hardy was on the street car when the accident occurred.

CAR OVERTURNS

Jarvis met death on the road between San Bernardino and Victorville, when the steering wheel of his car came oft and the machine overturned, crushing him. In the car also were George Jones and Ross Jones, brothers, of 1544 West Sixty-fifth street, and George Adams, 1052 West Sixtieth street. They escaped with minor injuries. According to the survivors, Jarvis had a similar accident with the same car a week ago, but escaped unhurt. His mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Butler, reside in Los Angeles. Deputy Coroner Emmett Waters of San Bernardino county gave a certificate of accidental death in the case.

Mrs. Sierra suffered mortal injuries in a three-cornered collision at Alameda and Sixth street, Glendale, and died in a few minutes after arriving at the Burbank Hospital. Other cars involved in the crash were those of Mrs. Elsie Carr, 4312 Radium Drive, Los Angeles, and R. I. Colquhoun, 740 South Glendale avenue, Burbank; none of their occupants were hurt seriously, though Mrs. Colquhoun suffered a deep gash in her leg from broken glass.

Strahl was standing in the 7800 block on Santa Monica Boulevard, according to police report, signaling passing cars for a ride to the beach. He stepped suddenly from the curb, it was said, in front of the car of J. H. Christian, 407 Guaranty Building. Christian swerved to avoid him, but the youth was struck by a fender of Christian's car and hurled into the air. He came down head first and was run over by one front wheel. Christian went for a doctor, but when he came back found the police ambulance had already taken Strahl to Receiving Hospital. Christian reported the case to the Hollywood police and was not held.

DRIVER'S NECK BROKEN

Hartman's neck was broken when his car turned over on Mesa Drive, near Exposition Boulevard. E. J. Dwyer of 2506 Lucerne street and C. J. Goding of 1447 1-2 Calumet avenue saw the accident and took Hartman from the wreck of his car. They took him to Receiving Hospital, but surgeons there said he had died instantly. His body was sent to the W. C. Draper undertaking rooms. Miss Mae Hartman, sister of the youth, told police he had been at a party and was on his way home when the accident took place.

Mrs. Anita Hernandez, 28 years of age, of 1319 Warren street, suffered a broken spine when she was struck at Echandia street and Brooklyn avenue by the car of Denny Godin, 134 North Wellington avenue. She was taken to General Hospital and her condi-

TWO UNITED PRODUCERS APPOINTED

J. W. Considine, Jr., and Roland West to Handle New Features

John W. Considine, Jr., general manager of the Talmadge productions, and Roland West, executive and playwright, have been appointed associate producers of new United Artists feature photoplays, according to an announcement yesterday by Joseph M. Schenck, chairman of the Board of Directors of United Artists. Considine and West will function as executive officers of the newly created Art Finance Company, which will produce all new United Artist features.

John Considine Jr

This arrangement, it is said, marks a significant step in motion-picture history toward enlargement of the United Artists program. It deals specifically, however, with new productions and will not affect the operation of the established members of the United Artists.

Roland West

Effective immediately in their new positions, Considine and West will have full authority to select and purchase stories, develop them for film purposes and produce them under United Artists banner for Mr. Schenck. The Art Finance Company, the activities of which they will direct, is at present producing a Valentino picture. The sum of $3,000,000, Mr. Schenck said, would be available for this company to use in new pictures.

In addition to his new responsibilities, Mr. Schenck said, Considine will continue to act as general manager of the Talmadge productions. He starts immediately to supervise Constance Talmadge's next starring vehicle. West will supervise Norma Talmadge's forthcoming feature.

West is the author of "The Unknown Purple," one of the most successful of mystery melodramas, and recently produced "The Monster," starring Lon Chaney. He is noted as a writer and producer of one-act plays. Considine is one of the youngest executives in the industry, being less than 30 years of age. For some time he has been general manager of the Norma and Constance Talmadge productions for Mr. Schenck.

ATHLETICS PROSPERING TAX SHOWS

Southland Greatest of Playgrounds in Country, Club List Indicates

Figures indicative of the unusual interest in athletic sports manifested by Southern Californians, as released by Collector of Internal Revenue Rex B. Goodcell, show that there are sixty-nine country and golf clubs now in operation in the district, collections of tax from which amounted to $545,887 in 1925, as compared to $170,183 in 1920, an increase of $375,704, or 220 per cent. A 27 per cent gain over the fiscal year 1924 is shown.

Other amusements likewise have expanded, according to the report, which discloses that Federal tax receipts from billiard and bowling halls gained 23 per cent in 1925 over 1924, shooting galleries 46 per cent, riding academies 24 per cent, and rented automobiles 17 per cent, while collections of tax on yachts and other pleasure boats advanced 107 per cent.

"Revenue returns disclose that Southern California is the great playground of the nation," Collector Goodcell said. "An increase of 200 per cent in five years on country, golf and athletic club taxes bespeaks the increased interest."

STORE HERE TO OPEN UP AT FRESNO

Myer Siegel & Co. Takes Over Bankrupt Stock of Valley City Firm

A branch of the local Myer Siegel & Co. department stores will be opened in Fresno today when the Los Angeles concern takes over the bankrupt Wonder Cloak and Suit House of the valley city. This was announced yesterday by Myer Siegel, president of the concern, at a meeting of the creditors of the bankrupt Fresno firm.

The deal has been in the process of negotiation for several months. It is understood the new branch will be opened at considerable expense. Elaborate store fixtures in the building were purchased for $25,000 by the Fresno Building and Investment Company, agents for the Patterson estate, owners of the eight-story building in which the former Wonder store had been located. The local concern has obtained a long lease on the property.

Myer Siegel, Jr., will move his family to Fresno and manage the new branch.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

SILK stockings have been put on the pan again.

An indignant housewife writes to one of the Los Angeles papers about the heinous conduct of her neighbors.

The husband is trying to pay for a house on the installment plan; but the wife basely insists upon going to the movies, and the flapper daughter wants silk stockings.

VANITY OF VANITIES

I will now inform the breathless, waiting millions what I think about this momentous matter.

If necessary, I think the husband should make them go without meals for a couple of days a week, but the flapper ought to have her silk stockings.

To be dressed differently from other girls, at the sensitive age of Flapperdom, is an agony and mortification that might mark a girl's whole life.

GIRLS' CRUELTY

I saw just such an incident not long ago. It was some kind of a school party. One little girl had cheap, shoddy clothes. Two other little girls, in giggling whispers, made fun of her poor little dress. She heard them. I shall never forget the maimed expression that came into her face. It was terrible.

Incidentally, I hope and trust that when it comes to handling out the eventual punishment that is due those two vicious giggling little beasts the Vengeance of Providence is in good working order.

BUTTING IN

Men do this, too; but women are worse.

The sight of two men talking together and having a good time of it seems to be more than a certain type of woman can endure.

CHARMING TRUCKMEN

The particular incident that comes to mind was at a lunch counter by a roadside.

Two young truck drivers had stopped for a late breakfast. And as you are apt to find such things in these days, they were both college boys earning money on their vacations. They were charming; their conversation, to which I listened unblushingly, was charming—sometimes grave and sometimes gay.

At the other end of the counter sat a middle-aged woman with a freckled neck and bobbed hair. I sat there wondering just how long it would be before she butted in and spoiled the party. Well, it wasn't long.

One of the boys courteously acknowledged her sap-headed bromide remark; then they both rose and went back to their trucks.

LITERARY MORON

This is a sore subject with me.

Not long ago, just such a woman broke up a big scoop for me.

I was interviewing a picture star. We had fenced around and I could see she was slipping. She didn't want to tell; but just she wanted to.

The thing to do in such circumstances is to create a psychological pause. In the embarrassment of this pause I could feel her reaching wildly for a psychic life-line to cling to. Then I repeated the question.

The star leaned forward across the table; her eyes were glowing; her lips were just parted. I knew it was coming.

Just then a woman scenario writer bubbled in with the wondrous remark: "Excuse me for breaking in; but I just had to come over and tell you how sweet you look in white."

There are times when murder becomes merely a slight breach of etiquette.

TREAT ASSURED FAMILY OF KHJ

Enviable Record Established by Soap Company

Miss Dodge and Maquarre on Program

Violin Reading Presented by Jules Lepske

BY CLAIRE MELLONINO

For contributions to Radioland, one of the most enviable records is held by the Los Angeles Soap Company, home of White King and Mission Bell. For more than one year they have spared neither time nor expense to bring their concerts above the ordinary broadcast levels. Their open purse has brought to listeners, who might otherwise have been denied the privilege, the splendid Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra; the noted San Francisco Chamber Music Society and other programs designed to meet the requirements of the most sensitive listeners. Their offerings, aside from emotional pleasure have had tremendous educational values to the student of music. Another illustration of their generosity and spirit of co-operation was afforded during the Shrine Radio Marathon, when the urgent need of a patron for the morning periods, was immediately met by the Los Angeles Soap Company.

It was therefore to be expected that their visit to KHJ last night would be attended by the same glorious character of entertainment, which has marked their efforts in the past. The evening was divided to present two hours of comic opera and one hour of the classics. The first period included Frances Gabrielle, soprano, and the Miniature Philharmony Symphonic Orchestra under the direction of Andre Maquarre; while the latter portion consisted of Vera Barstow, violin; Marjorie Dodge, soprano; Catherine Jackson, harp, and Joseph Heindl, 'cello.

MAQUARRE ENERGETIC

Those who were fortunate enough to hear the Boston Symphony Orchestra in the days before the war when it was at the height of its glory, will recall the famous "Pop" concerts directed by dynamic and temperamental Andre Maquarre, who was also at that time the first flute of the orchestra and considered one of the greatest flutes of his generation. His conducting last night clearly indicated that the years have not depleted his energy nor made any raids upon his storehouse of musical tradition. On the conductors' stand last night he was still the same virile personality as of old.

Jules Lepske, the concert master of this organization, and one of our city's most widely known violinists, gave a reading of Friml's "Indian Love Call," with his customary warmth, dignined emotionalism and excellent musicianship. The youthful, vibrant voice of Frances Gabrielle, accompanied by the orchestra, exposed hidden beauties in the gems of comic operas.

MISS DODGE SCORES

Marjorie Dodge in the classic period of the evening again received the ovation which greeted her last appearance at KHJ. In this artist our city can boast one of the finest voices to be found among American vocalists. But unfortunately, how prone we are to classify an artist as local talent if their stay in our city exceeds a month. Draw on your sense of fair play. When a singer with the gifts of Marjorie Dodge appears at a radio station, do not take her for granted; but receive her art with the enthusiasm and commendation you would shower upon an artist with no greater ability who came from another city, or whom you heard in Carnegie Hall. If Los Angeles is to become the art center of this country, and for which we are all striving, it must first prove to the world that its own prophets can live with honor in its midst.

Vera Barstow is another example of a world-famous artist who has settled down to enrich our local musical colony; but we hope that whenever she plays as beautifully as she did last night, you will forget time and place and confine your thoughts to the great joy to be obtained from Miss Barstow's interpretations.

The combination of Catherine Jackson, harpist, and Joseph Heindl, 'cellist, provided the finishing touch to one of the most beautiful hours KHJ has ever spent on the air.

MONTE BLUE DONATES TROPHY TO SWIMMERS

The Monte Blue trophy will be a first prize that the Hollywood Athletic Club swimmers who compete in the Silver Gate swim at San Diego Sunday, August 2, hope to bring home with them to add to that fast growing collection of trophies that the club athletes have been winning lately. Clyde Swendsen, coach of the H.A.C., is taking a strong team south.

The Monte Blue trophy is a first prize in the men's class for the main event, which is the 600-yard swim from Point Loma to North Island. The San Diego Sun, under whose auspices the Silver Gate swim is held annually, is donating the other first prize.

The whole situation is to be laid before the regular full congregational meeting tomorrow night by the anti-Dyer group. In a reference to the meeting tomorrow night, Clerk Laughlin announced that there would come up certain proposed constitutional amendments concerning what constitutes a quorum at a church meeting, duties of officers, time between a meeting call and the meeting, and that other business before the meeting will have to do with election of church officers and pastoral relations.

Tired of Living, Says Man Who Leaped in Sea

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, July 26.—"I was tired of life" was the explanation William Hansen, 50 years of age, 829 Tenth street, gave at Seaside Hospital today for jumping into the ocean from the Belmont Pier at midnight last night. Officer Jenks, who saw him jump, got Fred Price, a life guard, from a near-by dance hall and they rowed out and rescued him. He was revived at Central Fire Station by a lung motor squad under Assistant Chief Minter, and taken to Seaside Hospital by Police Surgeon Rogers.

FIREMEN CANDIDATES' TESTS ANNOUNCED

The City Civil Service Commission has announced an examination for firemen to fill future vacancies in the Los Angeles fire department. The age limits have been fixed at 21 to 30 years, the maximum limit having been reduced from 35 to 30. Owing to Chief Scott's desire for young and strong men, the maximum weight has been increased fifteen pounds.

Applicants must be registered voters and have lived in Los Angeles for the past year. The residence rule is waived, however, for ex-service men.

Application for examination should be made at once in person at the office of the commission, 506 Bullard Block. The position pays a salary of $140 to $170 per month.

GIRL KNOCKED DOWN

Tomaza Majera, 9, of 855 Bodie street, suffered a skull fracture, concussion and shock when she ran in front of a car at Fourth and Pecan streets and was knocked down.

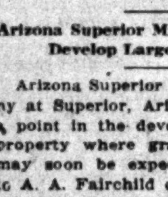
Nick Budmicich, 9, of 814 San Carlos street, South Gate Gardens, was struck at Broadway and Ord street by a car driven by M. C. Evans of Artesia, receiving a basal skull fracture. He also was taken to Receiving Hospital. Evans was not held.

WOMAN ACCUSED OF RECKLESS DRIVING

Miss Bertie Suter, 26 years of age, recently from Chicago, and living at 1479 West Adams street, was arrested yesterday at Ninth and Hill streets, charged with intoxication and reckless driving.

Patrolman Stone, who arrested the young woman, reported that she nearly ran him down as he was crossing the street and then avoided smashing into a taxicab only because the taxi driver made a quick turn and got out of the way. She was driving, he asserted, about forty miles an hour. She pulled into the curb after missing the taxi, the officer said, and when he opened the car door to talk to her a bottle fell out and broke on the sidewalk.

Man Missing Seven Years Sought Here



JOHN LEWIS MORSE

Seven years ago Lewis Morse of 735 East Forty-sixth street, Chicago, received a letter from his son John Lewis Morse, then 25 years of age. The letter was from this city and young Morse notified his father that he was working for a tire company here. The young man has never been heard from since.

Yesterday Walter J. Miller of 445 Winthrop Road, South Pasadena, acting for the father, requested city and county authorities to begin a search for the missing man who if alive is now 32 years of age.

From all that could be learned here young Morse quit his job a little less than seven years ago and without any explanation dropped from sight. None of his friends nor his employer has been able to assist the police in their search and no reason for his disappearance has been learned.

The elder Mr. Morse is in very poor health, according to Mr. Miller, and wishes his son to come home.

VIEWS OPTIMISTIC

Arizona Superior Mine Expected to Develop Large Tonnage

Arizona Superior Mining Company at Superior, Ariz., has reached a point in the development of its property where gratifying results may soon be expected, according to A. A. Fairchild of Phoenix, the president of the company, who was in Los Angeles last week.

In speaking of company operations, largely controlled and financed by Phoenix investors, Mr. Fairchild states the 1200-foot working tunnel has cut the main fissure vein at a vertical depth of 400 feet from the surface, where conditions were found to be very similar to those of the Magma Copper, a neighboring producer and dividend-payer, at a corresponding depth.

The objective point being reached by the tunnel, Mr. Fairchild says it is the intention to begin sinking at once to open up the ore bodies in the sulphide or primary formation below the tunnel or water level, there being every reason to believe this work will develop large tonnages of commercial ore and place the mine on production.

The Truth Will Out

It was the rule at the vicarage that every one should repeat a chosen text of scripture before breakfast every Sunday morning.

It came to the turn of a very timid little housemaid to repeat the chosen text, which was, "I am fearfully and wonderfully made."

In her nervousness the poor girl blurted out. "I am a fearful and wonderful maid."—[Exchange.

FOIL YEGGS' GOLD EXTRACTION

University of Southern California Employees Surprise Cracksmen at Work on Strongbox at College; Trio Bequeath Tools to Institution

The University of Southern California now has the equipment for an additional course of instruction. The equipment is all brand new and in first-class condition, only one item having been put to use and that not for long. The material is the gift of Messrs. John Doe, Richard Roe and James Poe, and police are seeking them to thank them for their gift and offer them the hospitality of the State in return.

In addition, Messrs. Doe, Roe and Poe, who are among Southern California's most frequently described citizens, left their coats and a small amount of money. The new equipment consists of an electric drill of the latest pattern, and an assortment of chisels, pinchbars, can openers, hammers and sledges—everything needed, in fact, to teach the trade of safe-blowing to any novice.

Last evening the same watchman made another collection of safe blowers' tools at 1101 North Main street. He did not call it a day, but went right on night watching.

E. W. Egnew, a watchman, and W. E. Reese, a janitor, were the recipients of the gift on behalf of U.S.C., somewhat involuntarily. Egnew and Reese happened to enter the U.S.C. Dental College building at Figueroa street and Exposition Boulevard together at 8 a.m. yesterday. As they passed into the office they saw three young men in their shirt sleeves, busily engaged in drilling the office safe, which contained a considerable amount of dental gold as well as some money.

The surprised yeggs seized pistols from the floor and commanded Egnew and Reese to throw up their hands. Then they backed them into a corner, held a hurried consultation, and then ran, taking only a small bottle which the police assume was nitroglycerine. They left everything else behind, including a suitcase in which to store the tools.

Four holes had already been drilled in the safe and it was about ready, Detective Lieutenants Hahn and Stoll estimated, for the application of the explosive. The janitor and watchman gave descriptions of the three to the officers, estimating that none was over 25 years of age. The fingerprint bureau is seeking prints on the tools that may aid in identifying their owners.

Egnew's second discovery was at the plant of the Los Angeles Junk Corporation. The rear window had been broken open and a layout of burglars' tools was found scattered about the safe which, however, had defied the yeggs' efforts. Police expressed the opinion they were not expert yeggs.

SPEED UP PICKFORD CASE

Four Defense Attorneys Agree to Combine Forces; Estimate Trial Will Take One-Third Time

Efforts to speed up the Mary Pickford kidnaping conspiracy trial in order to close the case this week will be made this morning when the hearing is resumed in Judge McLucas's court.

Defense co-operation toward this end was decided yesterday by the four defense attorneys following a lengthy conference in which they agreed to consolidate forces and present the same defense for each of the defendants simultaneously.

According to their agreement, Attorney S. S. Hahn will make all direct examinations for the defense, Public Defender Aggeler the cross-examinations, John A. Holland will prepare the rebuttal.

Under the terms of the law, each attorney representing an individual defendant is entitled to make direct examinations, cross-examinations, legal adjustments and rebuttal.

By disregarding these rights and uniting the defense forces, defense attorneys estimate they will complete their side of the case in one-third of the time they might use.

A legal battle over the substance and construction of what constitutes an overt act will be fought at the opening of court this morning.

Defense forces will make a bid for the acquittal of Charles E. Stevens, Claude Arthur Holcomb and Adrian Woods on interpretations of laws covering conspiracy. They will seek to show by Miss Pickford's testimony that she was not at the studio on the day Stevens and his codefendants were said to have been there and that they committed no overt act.

Dept. Dist.-Atty. McCartney will make the opening statement for the prosecution this morning and immediately afterward, John Harney, first witness for the State, will be placed on the stand. Through him the prosecution will attempt to show the beginning of the asserted kidnap plot.

ARMY LIBRARY SERVICE

The Army library service is operated under the general control of the Adjutant General and covers every post, camp and station in the United States, Canal Zone, Hawaiian and Philippine Islands and China. During the fiscal year 1924, there were 176 main libraries and forty branches, containing 500 to 40,000 volumes, in operation with a recorded circulation of 1,213,059. The traveling library system which was established in 1922 to supplement the post libraries and to provide new books for troops in the field has become one of the most important phases of the Army library service. The system comprises 128 libraries of thirty volumes each, which are circulated in each corps area and exchanged on a fixed schedule, after remaining from four to six weeks at one post.—[United States Army Almanac.

A gentle environment means nothing whatever in the life of a parrot, Garnet Holme, director of the pageant play of San Juan Capistrano, found to his sorrow yesterday when he attempted to star Lola, the mission pet, in the production.

Desiring to add to the picturesqueness of the spectacle, Holme had Lola taken from her cage and placed on an improvised perch on the stage.

EVOLUTION HIT AND DEFENDED

Mail Brings Arguments for and Against Theory

Fundamentalism Scored by Scientist as Menace

Pastor Declares Darwinism is "False Religion"

"If a popular vote were taken to-morrow, the Fundamentalists would sweep the country and put this nation back in the Dark Ages, robbed of the intellectual freedom which is its corner-stone," declared Charles F. Lummis, director of the Los Angeles branch of the Science League of America, in a letter to The Times yesterday. The same mail contained a communication from Rev. Stewart P. MacLennan, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Hollywood, declaring "evolution is in no sense a science, and false to all the facts thus far discovered."

"Bryanism may seem funny," Lummis's letter continues, "but it is far more of a menace to education today than it ever was to our political or financial sanity. College professors are being dismissed for teaching evolution; text-book publishers and boards of education are being intimidated into omitting books which teach the findings of science; the example of Tennessee is to be followed by legislatures in every State in the Union; the very school teachers of your own city dare not express belief in evolution for fear of losing their jobs.

'RETURN TO MEDIEVALISM'

"Today the fundamentalists do not realize that they threaten us with a return to medievalism, a union of church and State which is contrary not only to the American Constitution, but to the whole genius of human intelligence. Grotesque as this ignorance seems to educated people, it is epidemic Above all, it is organized and actively recruiting every hour in every State.

"Evolution is no attack on the Bible, nor on religion. It is a far more reverent attitude than that which insists that the only way to revere an all-wise God is to stay in ignorance yourself—and perhaps hang or imprison those who devote what brains God gave them to the growth of knowledge."

Dr. MacLennan's communication contains the resolution he presented to the State Board of Education at Sacramento recently, when leaders of the fundamentalist movement in California lost their fight to bar text-books on evolution from the public schools:

"After 3000 years of discussion evolution is confessedly without demonstration," the resolution states. "But it is essentially a religion. It essays to account for the universe, the earth and all life on it, including man—body, soul and spirit—and of course, is as certainly an atheistic religion as Christianity is a heistic one. Since the Bible and Christianity are not now permitted a distinct place and propagation by teachers in State schools, we record with you our deliberate judgment that the State Board of Education dare not permit the continuation of this opposing and atheistic faith.

"We request that the State board not only remove from its courses of study books that teach that evolution is a science, but also books that set it forth as a theory, since a theory that cannot be proven in the course of 3000 years should, in the interest of truth and higher education, be once and for all abandoned."

The resolution closes with a reference to evolution as a "false and atheistic religion now masquerading in the name of science."

LAST CRUISE TO ALASKA

The last Y.W.C.A. personally conducted trip of the summer seasons leaves Monday, August 3, for an Alaskan cruise. Whatever mistaken opinion the ... world may hold in the prem-... traffic officers have their feel-..., just like anyone else, accord-... to Bulius Lee Hudson.

Hudson directs traffic and, ex-officio, receives the abjurgations of the traveling public at the corner of Seventh and Olive streets. He has no complaint to make about the mean remarks made to him there by passing truck drivers and motorists, considering them simply as a matter of business.

But when he gets home he wants to leave shop talk behind him, which is just what he has not been able to do, according to his suit for divorce from Mrs. Betty Hudson, on file in the office of the County Clerk.

She called him nasty names, he declared in his complaint. He would come home from a hard day on the corner, exhausted of snappy retort, whereupon his wife, fresh from a day comparatively free of controversy, would assail him with accusation and invective, he said. She even accused him of casting eyes at other women.

So he went and told his story to Attorney John J. Craig, who sympathetically agreed with him that the things Mrs. Hudson was asserted to have said were such as no sensitive soul could fail to wither under, and immediately prepared his complaint for him.

DAVE POLLACK TO MEETT OSCAR TROVAR

What is expected to be the greatest ring battle Pasadena ever looked at is scheduled for next Thursday night, when Dave Pollack and Oscar Trovar hook up for ten rounds in the Armory main event. This is a rematch after a first meeting two weeks ago, when for six rounds these boys, who are 130-pounders, slammed each other all over the ring, neither able to put out the other. They are meeting now over the longer distance, on a winner-take-all basis and with a big side bet up. A capacity house is expected, with many reservations already in.

DESTROYED ILLUSIONS

A couple who have been married happily for seventy-five years give as the reason for their success, hard work. Thus are our illusions destroyed.

AMONG THE BUGS

Advices from Henry's headquarters set forth that more than 195,000 Fords of various models were sold during last month. Looks as if there were a Lizzie with every June bride.

IRON IN THE BLOOD

During August the city of Detroit will pull off a national tournament for the pitchers of horseshoes. Henry Ford ought to be on the reception committee. He has done more than any other man to make horseshoes a luxury.

TEMPTING A STAMPEDE

The New York millionaire who announced through the newspapers that he wished suggestions as to how best to dispose of his money will be lucky if an overwhelming flood of suggesters doesn't suffocate him before he even gets time to make a will.

ROLLING ON

The annual per capita consumption of tobacco in the United States has increased from one-eighth of a pound to more than six pounds in the last forty years. The Anti-Cigarette League, which has been busy about half that time, doesn't seem to have nearly so many monuments to its credit as the cigarettes have.

FOR THE GENERAL

They are saying that Russia still has large stores of caviar which the government wishes to send into the American market. If the folks in Dakota and Wyoming could work up some enthusiasm over caviar as a substitute for ham and eggs the Russians might yet be able to do a powerful lot of business in this country.

WHY BE ORIGINAL?

It must be that Barnum's famous statement has become part of the motto of Spain, for it seems that a number of San Diego people have just received another invitation to rescue the same old "Spanish prisoner" and share in his enormous wealth. Moral: Why be original so long as the same old bunk goes down?

THE LAWBREAKERS

It is estimated that fully 5,000,000 Americans are apprehended every year for the violation of some of the many traffic laws. That makes nearly 20 per cent of the country's population lawbreakers. The Volstead Act takes another 20 per cent. Is it any wonder that our people are beginning to hold the enactments of their legislators so lightly?

TOURING IN CALIFORNIA

Here is a land of uncrowded highways, which cover 1000 miles along the Pacific Coast. The roads are plainly marked and in excellent condition. The scenery is beautiful and the invigorating air puts new life into the vacation seeker.

The many historic sights hold a subtle charm for the visitor. The motorists who tour California this summer are sure of finding comfortable lodgings, good foods and a friendly welcome.

The great forests with their supply of big and small game are playgrounds for the hunter.

The vacationer who desires a complete change of scenery and amusements will find that a tour in California will bring the desired result: rest and a wonderful time.

LOST CITIES

There is always fascination attached to legends of lost and abandoned cities. The East has many such places, once teeming with life—now the abiding place of lions, monkeys, snakes and jackals. The holy city of the Buddhists, Baraboedoor, in Java, had been forgotten for 600 years when Sir Stamford Baffles rediscovered it and its wonderful temple, the eighth wonder of the world.

The jungle of Siam has hidden its ancient capital, Ayuthia, for four centuries. Its inhabitants fled before the conquering Burmese and never returned. It is now said to be the lurking place of thousands of serpents. Mystery surrounds the dead city of Tibet, which Capt. Rawling discovered. It is a vast collection of palaces, monasteries and dwelling houses, but the Tibetans professed ignorance of its existence and also of the reason for its abandonment.

Five centuries ago Angkor had a population of three-quarters of a million. Today it is the Dead City of Cambodia. The carved stone elephants, the immense causeways, the majestic temples still remain; but the jungle has invaded the streets and squares.

While these cities have been discovered in the East it is not necessary to leave our own United States to unearth old places. It is only recently that here in the western section of Arizona and California old habitations have been rediscovered.

NEW WORLD TO CONQUER

It was only a generation ago that a far-seeing statesman said "The future of America lies upon the sea." That statesman and his generation have passed and mechanical birds of the air are flying over their tombs. He looked outward, but not upward. He envisioned new trade routes on the placid breast of the Pacific; but he did not grasp the significance of the conquest of the air.

All the Southwest takes a pardonable pride in the great port behind the sea wall at San Pedro, now the second in importance in the nation, and the still greater harbor that will come when the giant breakwater is extended to embrace the roadway of Long Beach. But it remained for Senator Bingham of Connecticut to call attention to another port of Los Angeles that bids fair to assume equal importance to the commerce and industry of the nation and the world. He referred to the airport in Griffith Park.

Air navigation is making both rapid and substantial progress. With proper supervision it is already recognized as the safest method of rapid transportation. After inspecting the airport in Griffith Park Senator Bingham said: "Los Angeles has the greatest advantage of any city on the Pacific Coast to become the main western air terminal." He then stressed the fact that the air route from the East to Los Angeles by way of Dallas and Yuma is more feasible than any other for commercial purposes because the mountain passes are but 5000 feet high, while air routes to northern ports must negotiate passes at least double that height.

Speaking of the element of hazard in rapid transportation, Senator Bingham said: "The air mail is the safest form of transportation in the world. In two years' time there has been but one fatality in that service, and the pilot might have prevented that. Air-mail pilots have flown 2,000,000 miles to one serious crash; but commercial pilots, not under government supervision, have a crash for every 70,000 miles."

And when Senator Bingham speaks of air navigation and the possibility for future development he speaks with authority. He won his wings as lieutenant-colonel of the Army Air Service in France; and he is now a member of the Senate Military Affairs Committee. He is in Los Angeles on a trip of supervision of the government's military establishments and is paying particular attention to army, navy and commercial navigation.

Senator Bingham has sensed the tremendous importance of aviation to annihilate space and bring into closer relation the hitherto outlying frontiers of the republic. Due to the radio and commercial navigation of the air, there will be no more remote sections. To political unity will be added commercial and industrial unity.

Private corporations will establish commercial air routes, just as overland routes were established by the great railroad men of a former generation. These companies will be profitable to those who own and operate them; but they will be vastly more profitable to the communists which they serve and to the country as a whole.

The conquest alike of the great open spaces of the land and of the sea was perhaps the crowning feat of the giant intellects of the nineteenth century. From the rapid progress already made it is very possible that the twentieth century will be remembered in history for its conquest of the air. Vast fortunes were accumulated by the railroad builders. Still greater fortunes have been accumulated by those who brought fuel oil from its hiding place in the world and delivered it to commerce and industry. It is possible that greater fortunes still will accrue to those who develop commercial navigation of the air.

With the commercial application of the airplane a new world is opened to human conquest, as essential to the progress of humanity perhaps as that discovered by Columbus. Under present limitations it is the last. But who can say definitely that some intrepid future generation will not embark for the conquest of our satellite, the moon?

MENTAL DISARMAMENT

In his closing address Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of Stanford and chairman of the Pacific Relations Institute, said that the mass education movement in China held the attention of delegates to an extent which overshadowed immigration and other problems. In pointing out the possibility of nationalities meeting together to discuss international subjects without antagonizing each other he asserted that this convention had been one of mental disarmament.

The phrase is aptly coined and calls for particular attention during the preparation of negotiations which President Coolidge wishes to speed up on account of the troubles which have recently arisen in China.

When minds are disarmed of hatred and national prejudice the weapons which only serve to maintain such mental disqualifications will rest in the scabbard and on the gunrack. The plea which the Christian general, Feng Yu Hsiang, marshal of Chinese forces, sends to all Christians in all Christian nations to call a halt on foreign overbearing in China is a document which manifests what the meeting of Confucian philosophy and European moral theology may accomplish in even a martial mind. Written in plain, simple language of appealing sincerity, the philosopher calls to the moralist to make arms unnecessary through proper application of political theories of democratic equality.

Marshal Feng makes it very clear why the British and the Japanese objected so strenuously to a settlement of extraterritoriality in China, which is the only country left where that abandoned international doctrine is still enforced. Chen, China's representative at the Pacific Relations institute, alludes to the same idea in the question how self-determination is applied to the Chinese, for instance in Shanghai, where they form 90 per cent of the population and pay 75 per cent of the taxes and yet have no voice in the conduct of the city government and where their request for this representation was turned down by foreigners.

Mental disarmament has a striking subject to work on in that city. To remove foreign usurpation and arrogance and apply the Golden Rule in at least an apparent equality of rights will be a good foundation on which to build a precedent.

So long as this mental disarmament is neglected the Chinese relatives of the victims of British and Japanese aggression are likely to keep up their mass education in hatred for foreigners and foreigners will continue to call on marines and jacktars to come and protect them and, incidentally, get their countries mixed up in a new outbreak of a wholesale Boxer slaughter.

Boy Days

NO LAND REMOTE

That no land on the globe is now remote from civilization is proved by recent tests of what radio and airplane con do as connecting links with the vast spaces where formerly the map was blank. It is the belief of scientists that man will yet speak from the pole through amplifiers that will make his voice heard in inhabited areas. Had Amundsen taken along radio paraphernalia he could have communicated to the outer world from a point within a comparatively short distance from the pole, and it is predicted that within a year somebody actually will be speaking from the lone cairn set up by Peary at the earth's northernmost point.

Dr. Alexander Hamilton Rice, returning to New York from the mysterious region known as Amazonia, in darkest South America, said he was not at any time during his recent tour of exploration out of touch with civilization. From hitherto unknown wilds he talked to New York, London and New Zealand. His plane flew from an advance camp to the base of Boa Vista and back in a few hours, making a journey that would have taken a traveler by land and water many weeks to accomplish, and his photographer mapped great regions never before viewed by white men.

Dr. Rice had hoped to discover the sources of the Amazon, but failed, owing to an unfortunate occurrence—the capsizing of three boats carrying provisions for five months. He and his party were within seventy-five miles of their goal, as they estimated, though the distance may have been greater, for the great mountain range that intervened made their calculations difficult. He encountered the white Indians reported by previous explorers who had been turned back by these strange savages, but who this time fled into their fastnesses. One may guess how terrified they must have been by the sound of the airplane's motor and by the sight of the weird flying monster.

Our horizon is no longer limited. Science has enlarged it to a mighty scope during the recent years. Man may view wide expanses from hitherto unattainable altitudes. He may send his voice around the globe and flash pictures over the wires for thousands of miles. And pale, studious scientists, sitting in their laboratories, are envisioning still greater wonders. Truly it may be said that the man living in the first quarter of the twentieth century has seen more of scientific progress than has been made in any like period since the world began.

NEED MORE JAILS

The information is that all the Federal prisons are so jammed with prisoners that they frequently fall off the walls into freedom. Uncle Sam hasn't half enough cell room to hold the bad men he has pinched. The smaller county jails throughout the country are being drafted as Federal prisons whenever they have a vacancy, but the vast and overwhelming need of the nation is for bigger jails. Some years back it was cheerfully predicted that our prisons would soon be going out of business, but it was a false alarm. We must build a lot of new jails.

VOX POPULI, VOX DEI

It seems to me Upton Sinclair is hard to satisfy. He rebelled because publishers would not bring out his books and began publishing them himself. Now he confesses he is stranded and begs his readers to come to his rescue. Has he not himself demonstrated that publishers were right in rejecting his books, since they cannot be published at a profit? If the voice of the people is the voice of God, a decision has been given in the Upton Sinclair case; which is that he should quit writing.—[E. W. Howe's Monthly.

WATER

In all lands water holds a supreme place, but in no land is its importance greater than in our own California. Great minds have wrestled with this problem, water. It is the key to production. Light and energy are its foster children.

In the hills men seek and find it, this wonderful gift of the gods, water. Trees lift up their parched heads sighing for it; birds sing to woo it from the clouds; little hot bodies panting, wings wide spread, the tiny throat pulsating, singing for water to fall from the sky and cool the parched air. Water!

Across the desert the weary one comes, his tongue is hot and dry, his lips are cracked, "God!" he cries, "Water or I die." Slowly it touches his poor parched lips and a very ecstasy of joy is in his face. Water. Life, a God-given gift to man, with a beauty all its own, laughing, healing, sustaining, life bringer and light bringer; this is water.

Power, magnitude, wealth; all lie within its sparkling depths, this great and marvelous thing that men call water.

Flowers growing in the garden release their perfume at its call. Fish leap in running stream to show their joy, and in the heart of man there is a tenderness for water, for it heals him. Weary, spent and discouraged, he comes to its embrace and he is soothed and refreshed.

He seeks the sea, the glorious sea with its waters so like the restless mind of man; never ceasing, it beats upon the sands of the shore, as the mind of man beats upon the unknown sands of the future.

In the high places of the earth little laughing streams are born, a quiver of the earth's bosom, a rending of the brown earth's surface and, lo, a little stream comes forth, whence no man knows. There it is, water, and man rejoices. In it he sees his great partner, for without it he is helpless, defeated. No great progress comes without the co-operation of water.

Many enterprises fairly started die for lack of it. Nature, so generous to man, gives it freely, but Nature, ever jealous, cries, "Work for it, leash it to the chariot of the van of progress lest I take it and divert it to other sources. Arise, youth, and set out upon a quest, seek and ye shall find it, the magical wealth that lies at your door, greater than gold, richer than oil; Water."

AN EASTERN EXPOSURE

One of the mighty medicine men of the British Empire says that women are becoming ruddy and blooming with health because they are wearing short skirts and little clothing. His idea is that men should go and do likewise. If the men would all bob their pants at the knees they would soon be husky enough to tackle Dempsey. Possibly if they dispensed with trousers altogether they could fight a steam shovel.

If it gets broadcast that perfect health goes with nakedness some startling disclosures may be made. The theory that little raiment means more health is, however, old. The idea is that if the sunshine and fresh air can get to all parts of the body in their undiluted form they carry their full power and glory. The early cave men were massive and ruddy because they wore nothing but a couple of hangnails.

As people began to upholster their frames and crawl between perfumed sheets they became frail and delicate. By heaping on apparel they shrank in vitality. As long as they wore nothing but their nose rings they were vigorous and active. If the world would gain vim, valiance and vernality it should take off its garments. The folks who live in their bathing suits and B.V.D.'s are having the best of it as it is.

AN ANTI-COOLIDGE ARMY

If President Coolidge ever runs for office again his opponents can count on the solid vote of the army of unemployed chairwarmers who were pried loose from their snaps of Cal's economy program.—[Cincinnati Enquirer.

RIPPLING RHYMES

NEEDLES

The grand old town of Needles has sizzling summer days; the coppers and the beadles perspiring go their ways. The brazen sky evinces no promise of a change; and clerks and merchant princes are friend, as on a range. The mercury is rising while yet the morn is new, to altitudes surprising, say ninety-one or two. When dinner horns are screeching the fact that morning's o'er, the mercury is reaching a hundred and a score. The days are hot at Needles, and changelessly they come, alike as those old tweedles, the tweedles dee and dum. In other towns men languish and suffer in the heat, until they, in their anguish, peruse the weather sheet; they mark the Needles reading and cheerily they drool, "Why are our bosoms bleeding? This town is really cool! In Needles heat is pelting the voters to their knees, the sidewalks there are melting and charred are all the trees." Oh, Needles, grand old Needles, I would not in you dwell, though blithe promoter wheedles and argues passing well. For me the cooler places along the ocean shores, where men don't cook their faces if they go out of doors. Yet you've a noble mission—to make men satisfied with their abject condition when only partly fried. Their lives are dark and checkered, they think they're hot until they see the Needles record and then they have a chill. WALT MASON.

GREEN CORN

Oh, weep no more, fair lady,
 Nay, do not even sob,
For 'tis once more the season
 Of corn upon the cob,
And gloom must out the window
 And sadness out the door,
For where there's corn upon the cob
 There's joy for rich and poor.

The cob upon the farmsteads
 Is beautiful to see;
It beckons with allurement
 And whispers coaxingly.
The "smiling fields" one reads of
 Must cornfields be, it's clear,
Or, anyway, they're smilingest—
 They smile from ear to ear.

We've seen the corn by moonlight
 And yielded to its charm,
We've wandered in the gloaming
 Beside it, arm in arm;
Its whispers made us tender,
 Its beauty made us throb—
But, shucks! it wasn't anything
 To corn upon the cob.

Lives there a man or woman
 The green corn cannot thrill?
Ah, no, 'tis irresistible
 When cooked with proper skill.
So weep no more, fair lady,
 But thank the kindly fates
Which leave us yet this corn which cheers
 But not inebriates.

WHY WE KNOW

Giles was being questioned in the court by a lawyer who considered himself great on cross-examination.

"Do you on your oath swear that this is not your handwriting?" he asked sternly of the witness.

"I reckon not," answered Giles.

"Does it resemble your writing, then?"

"No, I don't think so."

"Well, do you swear that it does not resemble your handwriting?"

"I do, indeed."

"What?" thundered the bullying counsel. "You take your oath that that writing doesn't resemble yours in a single letter?"

"Yes," persisted Giles, somewhat nervously.

THIS, TOO, WILL PASS

BY GEORGE M. HUGHES

Have the church and religion fulfilled their mission, great and useful, in shaping the destiny of the world? Are they still able to sustain the glory that has filled the earth since the days of Christ?

These institutions are as necessary today as they were when they first lead men out of a debauched paganism or through the Dark Ages, a period filled with fear and despair. The problems now facing the world are magnificent in their foreshadowing of good or evil; a prophecy of good is seen in the desire for international peace, guided by the rules of reason, law and that quality of justice which resides in every human heart, vitalized and sustained by the lives of generations of good and noble men and women. An omen of ill is brooding in China and Russia, torn in the process of revolution, out of which may come unexpected things and things more dangerous in character and more lasting in results than those that followed the assassination of one man in 1914.

None can definitely forecast the future. No one, however wise, even hazarded the thought a few years back that Europe today would be the graveyard of millions of men who were alive and happy just eleven years ago. But the best minds everywhere have dedicated themselves to the work of preventing war among the nations, the greatest threat against the peace and happiness of man. And President Harding, good and wise, thought to forestall and make impossible other tragedies like that of the World War.

But the greatest power—the one upon which the President relied for unhesitating support—for the establishment of peace on earth and good will among men is organized religion. In its Christian form it has held the world in balance for more than a thousand years; and for centuries, when civilization was standing on the brink of chaos, it alone was strong enough to prevent absolute disaster and patiently wait for the rebirth of man and then lead him onward and upward until he should be able to reason out, in the light of history and experience, a future for himself.

Wars, revolutions and social upheavals have come and gone and left behind them as ruins the most ambitious works of man. But only his religion, as he conceived it in form and spirit, has remained upright and enduring throughout the ages. It has endured simply because it represented his ultimate aspiration. Protestant and Catholic, Jew and Gentile, Cross and Crescent have all united in preserving in some form its power and influence, and, consequentially, to these races and creeds is due the civilization of the twentieth century.

So preponderating has been the power of religion over the minds and imagination of men that millions of them have willingly sacrificed themselves for its preservation in one form or another, and the history of Europe and Asia is made up largely of the struggles of one theology against another. Races and nations, otherwise peaceful, have time after time taken up the sword and fought with the fury of wild animals for the right of worshiping God as they knew Him or as they believed in Him. They fought for something more sacred to them than life itself.

But has man changed in his conception of religion or has religion itself undergone a change of soul and purpose?

God reigns and the praying multitudes still look to Him and see Him in the bloom of the violet, the love of a mother and the immortality of man.

Momentary aberrations, among which the farce in Tennessee is one, have come and gone thousands of times in the history of religious faiths and the men behind them have been forgotten in a few days. And so will the men be forgotten who are now clamoring for notoriety or the material prestige that may come to them while fever and babble excite a few of the weak and thoughtless.

POLICING THE ARCTIC

Arctic police are to be sent this summer by Canada to island points even beyond the customary radius of the bold mushers and packers of the Hudson's Bay Company. They are described as "mounted," but the term is a mere survival of the usage of the southern provinces, for there is no place for a horse in Baffin Land or Boothia. Ships, planes and sleds will have to do the work, and—like the Hudson's Bay inspectors—the officers must often paddle their own kayaks and thread many a channel where a native guide and his official patron are on the same level of ignorance, and the map made at Ottawa is about as useful as Strabo or Pliny. It is not the fault of the geographers that the white space of the unknown is still the counterpane of most of the broken field from Beaufort Sea to Baffin Bay. The airplane, searching out the stepping-stones between the Old World and New, is giving a fresh significance to polar regions; they are now sought avidly for more than oil or metal. The islands are a bridge between the hemispheres, and the great circle sailing of the future will modify our present notion of the way to go round the world.—[New York Herald-Tribune.

COACH PROPERTY DEFINED

Now that the coach has become a large factor in motordom, the question is raised as to what is meant by the term. The Society of Automotive Engineers defines it: "An inclosed single-compartment body, similar in general appearance to the sedan, with two close-coupled cross seats for four passengers. There is a luggage compartment or space for a trunk at the back of the body. There is no glass in the rear quarters. The conventional type has two doors only, the forward seats being divided and the right-hand seat tipping forward to give access to the rear cross seat. Some models have two doors on the right-hand seat, there being two fixed cross seats."—[Exchange.

The Woman and Her Job

BY VALERIE WATROUS

[Questions concerning the problems of women will be answered in this column if addressed to Mrs. Watrous at The Times.]

LIKE ANOTHER CINDERELLA

Six thousand dollars for the serial rights of one story! How would you like to be the author? How would you feel if you'd fought and struggled for years, and that amazing piece of luck was yours?

But let's begin at the beginning. You know every story has a beginning, a middle and an end. Women who want to become successful writers, attendez vous!

Still there are fairy godmothers; the Cinderellas we have always with us. But their tastes have changed. They don't care so much about crystal slippers, but the princes are just as unsafe as ever.

Among the thousands of men who followed the Skagway Trail in ninety-eight was our little Cinderella's father. Few of the gold-seekers who went to Dawson took their families. Her daddy did. And Cinderella lived all her young years in that most thrilling of gold camps.

He didn't prosper there, I fancy, for after a while the family shifted from a log cabin on the Yukon to a little gasoline launch. Father traded corn meal, flour, sugar, bright shawls and calico for baskets, pelts, ivories, moccasins.

The launch chugged its smelly way into the trading posts, poking its nose into every little inlet that promised any kind of harvest.

Cinderella's round blue eyes took in everything she saw from Ketchikan up through Unimak Pass to St. Michael's and back again. A million pictures were photographed in her eager brain.

One day this little girl began to write. She was sure she could tell about some of the things she had seen. Then she studied stenography, and when she wasn't earning a living wrote and wrote. She went to live in San Francisco that she might be near libraries and schools. She never had been to school, but she began taking university extension courses. English, short stories, journalism, everything was grist to her mill.

But editors preserved their aloof attitude. They regretted this and that and tother; quite polite about it, they still were regretful.

Cinderella was sure if she could give all her time to it, she'd turn out a story that would be accepted. She borrowed heavily from father and mother, sat down and wrote and wrote. Her collection of rejection slips increased, as did her borrowings. The end came and she had to go back to work.

As the secretary for a novelist she still struggled. Another story was clamoring for birth. But she had to work to live, the story grew slowly.

One day the novelist gave her a book which a writer friend had just had published. It was about Alaska, the land she knew and loved. In her exuberance she wrote the author, telling him how much she liked his book, and that she was writing one herself.

Here's where old fairy godmother hobbled in. The author happened to be at his publisher's; the publisher happened to be in New York; the author happened to show him the letter from Cinderella. Came a letter from the publisher saying: "Send me the chapters of your book."

Can you imagine it? That little girl who had had years and years of rejections receiving a letter from a person much more important than a mere editor, actually asking for her work!

Presently came another letter, approving those chapters, but suggesting changes, and urging Cinderella to finish the work, and it would be published.

But Cinderella had to live; so she stuck to her job, but chapter after chapter went East, was analyzed, corrected and returned. The book was published, and the publisher urged her to write another right away quick. And she did.

When it was finished she had found a wonderful woman in Los Angeles who knew even more than the publisher about tying in the threads of a story, who understood how the seeds that are to bear harvest in the fifteenth chapter must be planted in the second or third. She was a very experienced woman, and little Cinderella profited by her help.

The publisher sold the story to a magazine. Cinderella used the $6000 to buy her mother a home. Then the book was published, and now the motion-picture rights are about to be sold by the publisher, and the author expects to get another $20,000. There—

Oh, I told you in the beginning it was a fairy story.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

Author of "Diet and Health" and "Diet for Children"

HIVES (URTICARIA)

Young Daughter goes to the cupboard,
A box of strawberries she spies.
She hulls and she eats,
In five minutes she weeps;
She is wild, she is—with the hives.

Perhaps you would rather have the hives than my poetic attempts?

The cause of ordinary hives (urticaria,) as in some forms of eczema and asthma, is some upset of the intestinal tract so that some element in the food (probably the protein) enters the circulation in an unfit stage to be used by the system. This causes an irritation of the blood vessels; there is a spasm of their walls and the fluid part of the blood, with some of the white corpuscles, escapes into the tissues. This produces the white swellings, or wheals, and the itching, which characterize the disorder.

Some English investigators claim that in hives there is a deficiency of lime salts in the blood. And they believe this causes the blood to go through the walls more readily. Different foods seem to be the offenders with different people. Canned meats, pork, shellfish, strawberries and coffee are most frequently ascribed as causes.

Other causes: There are other things that will apparently cause hives in susceptible people, besides a derangement of the intestinal tract; for instance, direct exposure to sunlight or other light, cold, mechanical irritations, heat, scratching, burns, decayed teeth and disturbing emotions. However, it is probable that these emotional causes act through the disturbance they exert upon digestion, and it is probable that in the other cases there is also some trouble with the normal absorption of foods. There are quite a few people who suffer from sunlight hives.

There is a form of urticaria known as papulosa, in which there is a little hard papule or lump left after the swelling goes down. This affects children, chiefly. There is another form known as giant urticaria, in which the swellings are very large. An interesting type is the epidemic, which is due to caterpillar poisoning. During the caterpillar stage of the brown-tailed moths, the tiny hairs of the caterpillar are blown through the air and imbed themselves in the skin. They produce intense itching. It takes five to seven days for these hairs to be absorbed. Autographism is a form of hives in which a swelling will immediately follow a sharp instrument drawn over the skin, and a word written over the skin will stand out clearly.

Treatment: The treatment for the ordinary hives consists of getting the intestinal mucous membrane in working order again. A dose of castor oil or a saline cathartic, followed by an exclusive milk diet or bread and milk, or, better, shredded wheat biscuits and milk, for three or four days, does the work in many cases. (Milk is high in lime.) Other cases are benefitted by an exclusive fruit diet. Gradually bring the diet to normal, adding the different foods one at a time, so you may find out which is the offending one.

External applications are used for the itching. They have no effect on the course of the trouble. A lotion made of one teaspoonful of carbolic acid, one teaspoonful of glycerine, one ounce of alcohol and enough water to make a mixture of eight ounces, is a good one. Any ordinary dusting powder, such as zinc oxide or boracic acid powder, may be used. Even ordinary laundry starch may relieve. If the itching is intense, a bath containing one to four ounces of borax or sodium bicarbonate (ordinary baking soda) may be helpful. The temperature sufficiently warm to sufferer should lie in the bath for ten to twenty minutes, keeping the prevent chilling.

Tomorrow: Epidemic Encephalitis. (Sleeping Sickness.)

My Dear Followers: When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must inclose 10 cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the stamped, self-addressed envelope if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

HAPPINESS PREVAILS IN HONOLULU

How to be happy, though civilized has become the most insistent problem of contemporary life. Honolulu is the happiest city that I have ever visited, because, by virtue of its geographical aloofness, it has managed to remember so many things that have been forgotten elsewhere in the hurly-burly of the modern world.

The most oriental of occidental cities, the most occidental of oriental; it is the one city in the world where east is west and west is east, and where the twain have met in harmony. The one thing which did surprise me greatly was to find that Honolulu, despite its multi-racial population, is one of the most civilized cities in the modern world, and that its civilization is thoroughly, indeed definitely, American.

It is only a quarter of a century since the Hawaiian Islands were annexed to the United States and the Stars and Stripes were first flown over the Iolani Palace, but, in the ancestral sense, Honolulu has been American for more than a hundred years; and since, in the midst of the Pacific, there is more leisure than we have upon the mainland for cultivating, undisturbed by interruption, the imaginative art of memory, Honolulu demonstrates more vividly a reminiscence of what America meant at the outset of the nineteenth century than any other community outside the confines of our thirteen original States.

It is, in fact, an old New England city in the midst of the Pacific, venerable in Americanism beyond any other of our cities seated west of the Appalachians. Honolulu was already a cultivated community when San Francisco was but a roaring mining camp and when Los Angeles was nothing but a patch of unirrigated desert. Indeed, when the forty-niners of San Francisco, suddenly enriched with gold, desired to bring their daughters up as ladies, they sent them out in sailing ships to Honolulu to be educated in the Kamehameha schools.—[Clayton Hamilton in The Century.

CHICKEN SALAD

Cover two teaspoonfuls of granulated gelatine with one and a half cupfuls of seasoned chicken stock, let stand fifteen minutes, place over a slow fire and stir until the gelatine is dissolved. Set the pan in cracked ice and when the jelly starts to thicken stir in one-third of a cupful of mayonnaise, one tablespoonful of chopped pimiento, one tablespoonful of chopped green pepper, three tablespoonfuls of peeled and chopped celery, and one and a half cupfuls of cold cooked chicken cut in small dice. Brush small mold with olive oil, fill with the mixture and set in the ice box for three hours. MELON COCKTAIL

Cut two cupfuls of balls with a potato ball cutter from the heart of a watermelon and mix with two cupfuls of balls cut from a honey-dew melon; place in the ice box to chill. Place in a saucepan one cupful of pineapple juice, three tablespoonfuls of orange juice, and one-third of a cupful of sugar; bring to a boil and boil five minutes, remove from the fire and chill. Fill stem glasses with the melon balls, pour over the syrup and decorate with a sprig of mint and maraschino cherry.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

To The Rescue!

A long-handled soda-water spoon is a joy in the kitchen to capture the elusive olive, maraschino cherries, etc.

Will Do The Trick

Gasoline will remove that nasty chewing gum from the frocks and suits of the small daughter or son.

Baby's Shoes

Before putting the new shoes on baby sandpaper the soles. The little fellow's feet are none too certain at best and slippery shoes will prove too much to manage without a fall.

Forgotten Packages

If you are absent-minded and realize it, write your name and address on the outside of the package as soon as it is purchased. You are much more apt to have it returned if forgotten at another counter.

OSWALD NOW SEEKS HABEAS CORPUS WRIT

A second attempt to reverse the ruling of Police Court which found him guilty of failure to pay wages to a theatrical company which staged "Mlle. Magnificent" at the Mason Operahouse more than a year ago, will be made by George H. Oswald today when his attorneys appear before the Second District Court of Appeals to ask for a writ of habeas corpus.

Following his conviction in Police Court, Oswald appealed the case to Superior Court where the lower court's ruling was upheld. Oswald now seeks his release on the grounds that the labor laws under which he was convicted are unconstitutional.

The "Mlle. Magnificent" company broke up after several performances and Oswald, who loaned the company $2000, was charged with failure to pay wages along with several other promoters. He resisted the charge on the grounds that his loan agreement included a provision which relieved him of any liability. He was convicted, however, on the theory that he had entered into a joint adventure by making the loan.

ONE GRIZZLY'S DAMAGE

Killed Thirty-six Cattle and 100 Sheep in a Year

Ordinarily bears are regarded as game animals by government hunters and are not taken except when individuals are known to be destructive to live stock. Many reports of depredations by bears in the State of Washington were received last year by the Biological Survey district headquarters from sheepmen who use the National Forest for grazing. Hunters were assigned to kill the bears which were suspected of doing the damage. They were either trapped at freshly killed carcasses or trailed with dogs from their kills. The stomach content of all bears taken by these hunters employed by the United States Department of Agriculture during the last year revealed either beef or mutton.

In July, last, a large grizzly bear was reported to be killing a number of cattle and sheep in the Chelan National Forest. A co-operative State hunter finally killed it, after trailing the animal for more than two weeks with a pack of trained hounds. The bear was known to have killed thirty-six head of cattle and 100 sheep in the year before it was captured, but it had ranged the district for more than four years, and in this period caused enormous losses. In all, thirty-seven bears were killed during the year in the State.—[New York Times.

HELD HIS BREATH

Women's wiles have been the cause of many a good man gone wrong if one can believe the movies and popular best sellers, but the conversation of a couple of university students proves that they sometimes really exist in our daily lives. She was a co-ed and he a medical student who had "fallen hard for her" and took opportunity by the forelock one evening to put to her the question that had been hovering on his lips. Very passionately he said. "Really I couldn't live without you, you are the breath of my life." Just as lightly and unconcernedly she replied: "Really? if you love me that much I wish you'd hold your breath for a while."—Fifteen minutes later he was still holding his breath.—[Columbus Dispatch.

"WHITE DESERT" FINE

PRISCILLA BONNER GREAT IN APPEALING ROLE

By Grace Kingsley

If one-half the world doesn't find out how the other half lives it isn't going to be the fault of the movie producers. The pill of knowledge is sugar-coated with story, of course, as it should be, from the artist's standpoint, but the fact remains that those highly legitimate fields of movie activity, foreign scenery, habits and customs, pioneering efforts, little known industrial activities of our own country, and other fresh and humanly vital backgrounds are becoming the scenes of many of our best pictures.

Now, Reginald Barker has given us a perfectly glorious picture in "The White Desert," down at Loew's. Reginald Barker always can make nature act for him! A story of mining life in the remote districts of Colorado during winter time, it has the widely illumining, sweeping power of an epic; while its famine phase, following the great snowslide, has the poignant pitifulness of a Bret Harte tale of the pioneers. You fairly hear the roar of the avalanche; your heart stands still as that snowslide, beginning in a tiny but insistent threat—a loosened drift, a few tumbling stones—gathers the power of doom as it descends on the little mining camp perched on the edge of a huge cliff. And then there is the snow plow! What a thing of seemingly sensate beauty is that creeping engine, seen only as a moving mass of snow, with the beauty spot, that big headlight, peering through the spraying snow! It takes an artist to idealize these common things of life, and, of course, Percy Hilburn, photographer, comes in for his share of the big praise.

You are going to remember these things a long while if you see the picture. But you are going to remember one of the actors still longer. Priscilla Bonner is that player. She will epitomize to you forever, I'm sure, with her transcendant acting, the wraith of the storm—the sufferings of the snowbound little group of starving miners, the terror and chaos of that awful moment when the avalanche struck the village. Priscilla Bonner plays the wife of a young miner. She could not leave the camp with the other women in the fall because she has just given birth to a baby and could not be moved. So she stays with just one other woman in camp through the terrible mountain winter. Miss Bonner has you by the throat, and weeping, in all her big emotional scenes.

The ironic scenes in the old dance hall, home of gayety, where starving men wait for death, are as finely dramatic as anything the screen has shown—even if, when we see the man hallucinated with the idea that his checkers have turned to food before him, we do think of that superb scene in the "Gold Rush," when Charlie changes into a rooster to the eyes of his famished friend! But very nearly topping anything the screen has shown for penetrating irony is that scene in which, over the radio in that dance hall, comes the smug assurance of a well-fed after-dinner lecturer that "we all eat too much!" That's when the men go mad and smash the machine.

Claire Windsor does very excellent acting as the vivacious, capricious young heroine. And weren't we delighted to see her get even with the pursuing villain by throwing boiling water in his face! That is something new under the kleigs, too. Pat O'Malley, Robert Frazer, Frank Currier, William Eugene, Snitz Edwards, Trixie Friganza, and the others were all admirable.

"EVOLUTION" PROVES PAINLESS PROPAGANDA

If you are tired of looking at stories on the screen, you may absorb some information about nature, quite painlessly administered, from the film "Evolution," over at the Rialto. No deeply scientific whys and wherefores harass your mind, but you will find a story of the earth's development, a story of the beginnings and expansion of plant and animal life on this globe, based on accepted scientific theory and discovery that can hardly fail to keep you entertained.

The idea of nebular hypothesis is fascinatingly revealed, the beginning of all animal life in the shallow pools, the stages of development into the huge monsters, the Allosaurus, the Stegosaurus, the Brontosaurus and others, with fights to the death between these and between members of the deep-sea dwellers providing bits of drama.

The stages of man's development, the showing of the Man of Java, the Piltdown Man, the Neanderthal Man, the Cromagnon Man, and others, are most interesting also.

Harry Langdon is to my mind one of the greatest comedians on the screen today. He has a comic quality different from that of any other film funny man, a personality that is most engaging, and a touch that, if subtle, is absolutely sure, with a quiet pantomime that never fails in effect. Yet adequate lighting is not given him, at least in "Plain Clothes," and I cannot think what Mack Sennett is doing not to give this clever star every opportunity.

Harry is a bashful young detective in this picture, and there is a roar in every scene, for instance in that delicious one in which he unwittingly becomes a member of a crook gang while investigating the theft of a necklace.

Another tremendously funny scene is that in which he furnishes his office with drawings on the wall and flimsy make-believe tables and chairs when he expects the visit of a wealthy client.

But it is breaking a butterfly on a wheel to try to put down in mere black and white all these elusive bits on nonsense. Go to see the comedy. I'm sure you will enjoy yourself hugely.

Are we coming to a point where we shall have real stereoscopic photoplay in the films? It looks like it, to judge from that Gypsy Film, a lovely travelogue in some foreign land, in which objects show their right relative distances from the observer.

GERTRUDE RECOVERING

Gertrude Olmstead is rapidly recovering at the Hollywood Hospital where she was recently taken when suddenly attacked with appendicitis. She will be able to resume work at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios where she is under contract, sometime in August.

MARRIAGE ADVICE AT CRITERION

If marriage fails is one of the mooted questions of the day. But, apparently, it may be solved simply and quite painlessly. For down at the Criterion this week is advanced the theory—throw down the cards and demand a redeal.

However, even the producer lacked the courage, or perhaps the space, to disclose results of the second attempt. With true story-book optimism, the film fades away at just the "happy ever after" instant.

The final scene of "If Marriage Fails" is undoubtedly the most interesting. Remarkable for restraint and finesse, in a picture not abounding in either quality, it stands out in retrospect. Clive Brook, as the millionaire who calmly informs his luxurious and pleasure-loving wife that "the end" has come, is excellent, convincing as is so often the sad case, in a role which lacks the rudiments of reality.

Jacqueline Logan, surely one of the most versatile actresses in the detail of nationality, is the wide-eyed, Italian crystal-gazer, who eventually captures Clive, after heroically and tearfully "giving him up" forever. Miss Logan is appealing and lovely, though she is prone to an overabundance of gestures.

To Belle Bennett falls another role of the type in which she so often appears. And, as always, she gives an intelligent and convincing interpretation. In fact, she is one of the most capable screen parasites. But it would be refreshing to see her just as a "nice" person—once in a while.

The remainder of the cast upholds the standard set by the principals. Jean Hersholt plays the infatuated doctor with rare dignity, while Mathilde Comont and Cissy Fitzgerald provide the comedy and Donald McDonald appears as the inevitable "other man."

"If Marriage Fails" entertains.

And there is a moral. It is the novel injunction, "Don't neglect your husband." And the logic of the argument cannot be disregarded for the gentleman in question fails to repine by the fireside while his wife is enjoying the gay life. Instead, he soon appears quite content in his friendship with the vivacious little Italian.

The Criterion also presents an unusual musical number, the "Melody Monarchs" in conjunction with the "Dancing Demons" and several singers. "Honeymoon Limited" and the customary newsreels and organ selections complete the bill.

LATIN PROGRAM

Reiner Concerts at Bowl; Alice Gentle, Soloist

Alice Gentle and a Latin program directed by Fritz Reiner held a large Saturday night crowd at the Bowl. It was a concert of operatic orchestral numbers, for the most part, with the overture from the little known "Mute of Portici," written by Auber, the French singing master of a generation or two ago, taking the lead. Continuing his well-established reputation for introducing the new, Mr. Reiner gave excerpts from De Falla's "Love the Magician," with pleasing effect. This descriptive music by the modern Spaniard told an intriguing story in tone and its rhythms were insistently Spanish. Ilya Bronson played the idyllic love theme with a lingering beauty.

The intricate rhythms of the popular "Sylvia" ballet suite were marvels of precision under Reiner's baton and the audience expressed its approval of his rendition of a favorite, vociferously. The entire concert was admirably planned for a popular Saturday night program and the numbers were gay enough and easily enough understood by the lay mind to gain instant approval. The fiery finale, which was the Hungarian "Rakoczy" march by that master of orchestration, Hector Berlioz, "exactly expressed" Conductor Reiner in a natural mood and the audience responded to this characteristically national bit of temperament.

Miss Gentle, who is one of the most popular singers annually appearing at the Bowl, sang arias from Massenet and Gounod operas. Miss Gentle has dramatic power and adequate tone volume and her stage presence wins immediately. There is never any question about her interpretations or her intonation and, indeed, the only question possible is in her quality of tone, which is hard on occasions. The audience demanded three encores and were rewarded the last time with the "Habanera." Claire Mellonino officiated at the piano both in the De Falla numbers with the orchestra, and in the singer's accompaniments.

FAY TINCHER RETURNS FOR "GUMP" COMEDIES

Fay Tincher has returned to Universal City to resume her role of Min in the series of "Andy Gump" comedies which Samuel Van Ronkel is producing for Universal release.

Miss Tincher, who has been in the part since the comedies were started, has been on a vaudeville tour. She was welcomed back to the "family" with open arms by Joe Murphy, who plays Andy, and little Jackie Morgan, who plays Chester.

Ivy Livingston, popular young screen actress, played Min in three comedies during Miss Tincher's absence.

MacGREGOR WILL STAR IN SERIES

A. MacArthur is to Produce Comedy Dramas With Olive Borden and Malcolm

A. MacArthur, one of the pioneers in the moving-picture business, whose connection with things cinematographical dates back to 1907, when, with the late J. P. Chalmers he founded the first trade paper in the moving-picture field, has given up his publicity bureau in Hollywood and is now on his way to New York. While there he will complete the final details of a long-term producing contract which he has entered into, whereby he will make a series of feature-length comedy dramas.

MALCOLM MacGREGOR

Malcolm MacGregor, who has gained a wide following within the last year, has been engaged to star in the series.

Olive Borden, a comparatively newcomer, whose natural charm and beauty has given great promise, has been cast in the leading feminine role.

Malcolm is now playing the part of the American soldier in "The Vanishing American," while Miss Borden is playing in the Tom Mix current production.

The entire series of pictures will be made here on the Coast, but studio space has not as yet been definitely engaged.

RADIO GIRL APPEARS ON HILLSTREET BILL

June Pursell, the little red-head who has cheered thousands over the ether with her crooning melodies, comes to the Hillstreet today, with Ron Wilson's Collegiate Orchestra. Miss Pursell has deserted the "air" for vaudeville and after rehearsing for a week or more presents one of the most fascinating musical offering yet seen locally. Ron Wilson is also a local boy, having taken part in radio programs here for the past year. Other features on the bill include Pearl Hickman's Kiddies, in a brand-new revue; Ernest Evans, with a galaxy of beautiful girls, and Tempest and Dickinson, in a little skit called "Rain-Beau." other offerings are the Clinton Sisters and Ted and Al Waldman. House Peters and Patsy Ruth Miller will be seen on the screen in "Head Winds." A newsreel, comedy and fables are also presented.

THREE FEATURED PLAYERS

E. K. Lincoln, Wanda Hawley and Mary Carr are being featured in the John Ince production, "The Perfect Crime," which Ince is directing at the California Studios. This is Lincoln's first starring vehicle since his return to the screen.

PLAYDOM

JUST ZANE GREY

"LIGHT OF WESTERN STARS" AT METROPOLITAN

By Edwin Schallert

Somebody who is concerned with figures and statistics ought to compile an estimate some time soon of just how many feet of celluloid reels have reached the screen as the direct or indirect result of the novels of Zane Grey. From experience, both sad and otherwise, I personally should say about a billion miles.

The apparently indefatigable Mr. Grey's latest contribution is "The Light of Western Stars," which is on view at Grauman's Metropolitan, and, except for the fact that it sags badly at times, it is a fairly acceptable "movie."

Natural backgrounds that hold the eye, a hero who is not too much the hero, and a villain who is a little better than might be supposed, are among the more interesting highlights.

The story of the picture will perhaps never puzzle anyone as to its outcome who sees the first reel. It is the old, old plot of the cattle rustlers who trouble the honest ranchers. There is the girl who comes west to be with her brother—just at the time he is involved in a shooting scrape—the hard-drinking revolver-juggling chap who reforms and protects her.

Despite that the old situations have only been shifted around a bit to give them a slightly different aspect, there is a share of neat novelty in the way that the character of the cattle rustler has been dealt with. The hero has his moments of humanness, too, when the role is brightened up with comedy.

Unfortunately, there are not enough of these lighter touches to the hero character running consistently through the film. In this respect an opportunity was lost, especially as the portrayal by Jack Holt is unusually clever whenever he has the chance to imbue his role with humor. Holt discloses some decidedly new and effective flashes of personality and acting whenever he has this opportunity.

Noah Beery keeps up perhaps the best pace throughout the picture, and though his death scene is a long-drawn-out affair, it is rather good as regards his own acting. There are times when his portrayal is too typically like certain others by him to be wholly striking.

Billie Dove merits commendation for holding interest in a very conventional heroine role. She is progressing as a type for these western melodramas.

The audience derived much pleasure from the minor parts played by Mark Hamilton—especially; Robert Perry, Gene Pallette and George Nichols.

Many of the scenes, considered individually, showed the directing ability of William K. Howard in a favorable light. The adaptation was made by George C. Hull and Lucien Hubbard.

A prologue of singing and dancing, with a western dance-hall setting proved entertaining, and Helen Yorke, coloratura soprano, was a decided attraction.

Grieve to Serve as Art Director for Lubitsch

Harold Grieve, head art and technical director for the Marshall Neilan Studios and also costume designer for Peggy Hopkins Joyce in "The Skyrocket" production, has been "farmed out" to Warner Brothers to act as supervising art director on Ernest Lubitsch's next production, "Lady Windermere's Fan," from the famous legitimate success by Oscar Wilde.

HAROLD GRIEVE

Mr. Grieve is known around film circles of Hollywood and Culver City as one of the youngest art and technical directors in the motion-picture business. He is a native of Los Angeles and studied art locally, then went abroad to study under Camilli Innocentie, who maintains one of the largest studios in Rome.

At 20, he had charge of the designing, dressing and decorating of all sets on the Rex Ingram production for Metro. Later, he joined Marshall Neilan's staff at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studios, then went abroad again for that company last year, in charge of the costuming of "Ben Hur," under Fred Niblo's direction.

Recently Mr. Grieve returned to the Neilan organization, where he has just completed his first modern picture, "The Skyrocket." On the conclusion of his engagement with Lubitsch, he will return to the Neilan fold, where he is under contract.

GLADYS BROCKWELL IN NEW SANFORD FILM

Gladys Brockwell's vacations between pictures are very short these days. Right after her return from New York, she played one of the featured roles in "Stella Maris," for Charles Brabin at Universal, then went immediately to another part in "The Skyrocket," with Marshall Neilan. Now she has been signed to start immediately on a Spanish story at present titled "El Pasada" ("The Past,") which is to be directed by Wilfred Lucas at F. B. O., for Sanford Productions.

GLADYS BROCKWELL

Miss Brockwell's role in this picture is that of an aristocratic Spanish woman, a part which is at wide variance with her role in "Chickie," the First National special recently seen here.

Wearing a heavy coat of tan and an air of fatigue, George Bancroft, one of the principals in the James Cruze production, "The Pony Express," returned recently from location in Wyoming, where scenes for the western classic were filmed. The company spent several weeks working and sleeping in the open.

'EVE'S LOVER' PROVES NOVEL OFFERING

Lytell Gives Fine Interpretation In Support o Irene Rich at Forum

While the title of "Eve's Lover," at the Forum this week, may intrigue the fancy, the picture itself will undoubtedly delight and amuse all who prefer a fleck of novelty and freshness to garnish their entertainment.

Perhaps the chief merit of this picture lies in the impeccable characterization Bert Lytell gives to the titular role. In fact, the whole structure would have been materially weakened, if not deplorably marred, in the hands of an actor less polished than Lytell. His work breathes the very essence of spontaneity, making, as he does, an impoverished count into a suave, lovable, boyish, wholehearted, utterly charming rascal. Lytell has a dozen artifices at his fingertips which will surprise the average fan, for who has ever envisioned the bluff and hearty Irish Bert as a French count? Yet he does it all with the grace of a Menjou, adding to this his flashing smile.

The scene in which he eats the bran and milk, from the dainty hands of an heiress, is a scream, and will easily rank with the best bits of comedy business of the season.

Irene Rich as Eve Burnsdale, the unromantic business woman, is quite convincing. As usual she manages to impart just the right shading of womanly grace and charm to her characterization. The only flaw, which a little more judicious cutting of film would easily remedy, is the length of footage devoted to her anguish when she learns of her husband's deception. This is dragged out until it becomes irritating and certainly doesn't add to Miss Rich's emotional reputation.

Next credit is due to Roy Del Ruth, the director, for he has built the whole fabric, seasoned it with well-turned gags and hasn't spoiled them by overplaying. And with one exception the tempo is exceedingly snappy. His casting of smaller roles is also irreproachable. Willard Louis gives a well-balanced and not too broadly caricatured business man, while Clara Bow is excellent as the rowdy little French miss who goes after what she wants in no uncertain manner.

The story is relatively unimportant, for it is Del Ruth's gags which make it really interesting. However, it is based on a courtship and eventual marriage between Lytell as the count and Miss Rich as the business woman, wherein the count's original ardor is inspired by Louis, the steel magnate, who wishes to gain control of Miss Rich's business. This being a well-bred scenario, the love affair becomes a real one, and after several hectic incidents ends in the usual manner.

"We Moderns," the First National starring attraction for Colleen Moore, composed by Israel Zangwill, is a story dealing with a English flapper. This is the first time an English flapper has been introduced to the screen.

'White Fang' is Attraction at the Boulevard

Catching the great spirit, the drama, the daring, the cold of the frozen North, and the marvelous dog psychology of the late Jack London with a fidelity that is remarkable as it is rare, "White Fang," starring Strongheart, may be easily termed a perfect adaptation. This feature photoplay opened yesterday at the West Boulevard Theater, Washington and Vermont, for a four-day run.

Mr. Golden, managing director of the Boulevard is again offering patrons the usual high-class group of stage numbers. They include Rube Wolff's Knickerbocker Syncopators in a delightful melange of music, dance and patter, assisted by Fanchon and Marco's artists, the Los Angeles High School Roman Tep, juvenile vocalists, three acts of vaudeville presenting Busch and Joy, Austin and Arnold and Grant Gardner. A comedy cartoon, news-weekly and other hits round out the program.

Italian Screen Player Studies American Films

Guido Trento, the widely known Italian screen actor, recently arrived here, is one of the most devout followers of the silver-sheet in Los Angeles. At present he is studying the difference between Italian and American movies.

"There is a great difference in the films of the two countries," says the famous Guido, "not only in technic, but in stories. Here an actor seldom meets death in a characterization; in an Italian drama there are usually six or seven deaths. Here, if the audience has tears, it takes them home or laughs them off—it never sheds them. In Italy we do not try to send them home in a buoyant mood. A foreign actor coming to the American screen must at once acquire a lighter touch, a more subtle artistry."

Mr. Trento brings to Hollywood a long and successful screen career. He was recently chosen to star in "Nero" and "The Shepherd King," big productions made in Europe by the William Fox company, expressly for American release. Several attractive offers have already been made to Mr. Trento by local producers.

Al Santell has completed the photographic work on the picturization of Edna Ferber's 'Classified," and will leave shortly for New York to direct a Robert Kane production, "Seven Wives of Bluebeard," for First National.

PASTOR CITES DANGERS OF ASKING AID FROM CAESAR

Healthy Religion Needs No Civil Laws to Support It, Asserts Rev. C. S. Prout

Pleading for the continuance of religious liberty in the United States and declaring that even a majority of citizens has no moral right to encroach upon the rights of individuals "by seeking the aid of Caesar," Rev. C. S. Prout, pastor of the Seventh Day Adventist Church, 141 West Fourteenth Place, in his sermon from The Times broadcasting station yesterday pointed to the danger of religious organizations seeking to influence legislation. Mr. Prout spoke in part as follows:

"Let every thoughtful American bless God that He lives in this age of the world and in this country which guarantees its subjects liberty and the pursuit of happiness. The fundamentals of true Americanism are aptly expressed in the Declaration of Independence.

"As one ponders over the history of the United States for the last 200 years, he cannot help but wonder how it all happened and why. America was born at a time when intolerance in religious matters of the Old World was no longer bearable, and men who were endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights, as liberty and the pursuit of happiness, found in this new world a place of freedom where they could establish a government, not monarchial but republican, a government for the people and by the people.

"The Gospel of Jesus Christ is built upon the foundation principles of separation of church and State. The Saviour expressed the eternal principle when he said, 'Render therefore unto Ceasar the things which are Ceasar's, and unto God the things that are God's.' This statement was made upon an occasion when the Jewish church folk sought to tempt Christ into treason against the government of Rome. Those Jewish leaders were clamoring for political power in order to accomplish their ungodly designs. This they succeeded in doing a little later when they demanded of Pilate the blood of Jesus Christ and the freedom of Barrabas. This same doleful story has been repeated scores of times throughout history, when church people have united, clamoring for the legislative body to enact religious laws. One only needs to follow carefully the pages of recorded events to realize this fact.

DON'T NEED LAWS

"I am inclined to believe with Franklin that when Christianity is preached and lived in the fullness of its power its transforming influence will be felt uplifting all, and there will be no need of legislation in order to make people attend church. What we need today, as never before in America, are mighty men of God, who know what it means to preach a crucified and risen Saviour.

"I firmly believe that the future of our government hangs upon a recognition and maintenance of individual rights. The rights, as expressed in the fundamental law of our land, constitute the bulwarks of the nation. To forsake them would be to forsake the very soul life of the nation.

"However, startling as it may seem, we hear coming from various quarters throughout this fair land such statements as these from religious organizations: 'We will obtain an amendment to the Constitution of the United States which will declare the nation's allegiance to Jesus Christ, and its acceptance of the moral laws of the Christian religion, and so indicate that this is a Christian nation, and place all the Christian laws, institutions and usages of our government on an undeniable legal basis in the fundamental law of the land.' Another one: 'The church is going into politics and is going there to stay. Furthermore, the church is to become a powerful political factor, and will act as a unit on all great moral questions.'

FEARS LIBERTY FOES

"Friends of Radioland, all who understand the simple principles of religious liberty as taught in the Bible, and by the founders of this government, will look with grave concern upon such remarks, and realize that what ex-President Harding said is true, that there are factions at work in this land to destroy liberty.

"Then away with this idea of the church clamoring for religious legislation in various courts! May God long bless our courts in dealing with civil matters, but respecting a day for worship, although no court in the land has a Constitutional right to declare which day of the week it shall be. A man's rest has to do wholly with his relation to God, and no majority should encrouch upon these rights by seeking the aid of caesar."

SCORES BOTH LEADERS IN "MONKEY" DEBATE

Dr. Rev. Richard H. Gushee preached at the St. Matthias Episcopal Church yesterday on "Evolution." He said in part:

"I believe in the separation of church and State. I do not believe that the fundamentalist has any right to force his theory of creation on the children of the public schools; but the evolutionist zealot has as little right to undermine the faith of young people by inculcating a materialistic monism which, as Haeckel puts it in his 'History of Creation,' 'positively rejects every belief in the miraculous and every conception in whatever form it appears of supernatural processes.' There is a difference between the physical evolutionist and the philosophic evolutionist, and philosophic evolution has no place in the public schools. But it is a known fact that the instruction in the higher institutions of learning, especially in women's colleges, have been prostituted to an undermining of the Christian faith. But further than that, no teacher in a public school has the right to teach physical evolutionary transformism that 'existing species are the products of the metamorphosis of other forms of living beings,' as a fact, not acquainting his pupils with the absolute fact that all scientists do not accede to this hypothesis."

SAYS GOD SPEAKS TO HEART OF MAN

Dr. H. C. Culbertson, pastor of the Mesa Congregational Church, preached yesterday on "What is Our Authority?" He spoke in part as follows:

"What is our authority—an infallible church, an infallible Bible, conscience, or the Holy Spirit of God in our hearts? Many look to an infallible church, feeling that truth in religion should be determined by experts, just as we trust scientific specialists to teach us about the movements of the earth, atoms, germs and laws of Nature which we cannot ascertain for ourselves. An infallible church, however, may become a tyranny, and in religion thinking must be free. Revolting against an infallible church, Protestants took the Bible as an infallible guide. But the Bible is not a system of theology. It is a collection of books in different literary forms, chosen by church councils out of a number of similar books, and churches and leaders still differ as to which books should be included in the list. Interpreters of the Bible differ widely. The Bible is wonderful and precious, both because it inspires our souls and also because it shows the normal trend and development of religious thought throughout the centuries, but we must face the fact of these wide differences of opinion when we are looking for final authority. Shall we then turn to the individual conscience? Conscience is not, as many suppose, the voice of God in the heart, but rather the inner ear with which we listen for that voice, the inner eye with which we see spiritual truth. And here again are hopeless differences. Religious people differ conscientiously on subjects ranging from dancing to wearing neckties. If then neither church nor Bible nor conscience is final authority, may we find it in the Spirit of God abiding in our hearts? God speaks to us. But how do we know when indeed God is speaking and not some false voice or mistaken impulse? Every student of religious psychology knows how various and absurd are the supposed revelations which men claim to have received. There are two tests by which we may determine whether an inspiration comes indeed from the very Spirit of God. Jesus speaks of the abiding of God in our hearts as 'the Spirit of Truth.' This name, the Spirit of Truth, surely implies a humble open-mindedness on our part, what might be called a sincerely scientific attitude of unprejudiced seeking. Second, the Spirit of God, says Jesus, will bring to our remembrance His teachings, and we know that whatever is in accord with His teachings is of the Spirit of God. By these two tests we know when God is speaking in our souls, and as we commune with Him and He speaks with us we shall grow in knowledge and wisdom, and our religion will not be a thing of dead traditions but of living power."

"MODERN JUDAS" IS SCORED BY PASTOR

Dr. Bruce Brown of the South Park Christian Church preached yesterday on "Enemies of Religion." He said in part:

"One of the most pathetic events in the life of Jesus is that of His trusted disciples left to watch on the night of His betrayal, who slept during the agony when the fate of the world was being decided. All the forces of evil are marshalling today for the crucifixion of the divine ideals of religion. Some, like Judas, who have walked with the Master, have betrayed Him for pelf and popularity. Others, who have been left at the gate to watch, are asleep, while the mob, led by prejudice and ignorance, would trample under its feet the most sacred hopes and cherished institutions. The church itself is threatened by a combination of all powers whose desires are opposed by its teachings. Let the church be crucified and the head gates of hope will be closed. For a time other institutions, that have derived their life and power, like reservoirs, will continue to function but it will only be a question of time when they will be drained dry. The church is the fountain of inspiration for every reform, the citadel of protection for every virtue. The city is filled with men who would move away if every church were closed but who have nothing but criticism for it now."

DECLARES EVOLUTION HARMFUL TO RELIGION

"The Fallacy of the Statement that Evolution Helps Christianty" is the subject of a sermon preached yesterday by Rev. Hal Reed at the Florence Heights Methodist Church. Mr. Reed said in part:

"You hear persons here and there who say that evolution helps Christianity, but I deny it. I believe that not only is it true that evolution does not help Christianity, but that it hinders Christianity. The science of the Bible far surpasses the science of the times when the Bible was written and more than that, it will be found in the future that the Bible is far ahead of the science of today. Many great scientific truths were in the Bible hundreds of years ago, and yet they appeared to science comparatively recently. I believe that science will within a few years vindicate the position of the Bible in relation to evolution, as many leading scientists are now doing, for true science and the Bible never conflict."

PLEADS FOR GREATER TOLERANCE FROM MEN

Rev. W. C. Isett, pastor of Amanda Chapel, preached yesterday on "What Is Back of Evolution?" He said in part:

"I hesitate to choose such a subject for my sermon, but the purpose of Amanda Chapel is to create a spirit of toleration and charity among men, and the subject of evolution is arousing much bitterness. We are not chiefly concerned with those who are extremists on either side. But there are sincere men and women on both sides. As I gather from the careful consideration of utterances and writings on both sides of the question I find the following facts:

First, there is no real denial of God. There may be agnosticism—feeling that there is not sufficient evidence to know what God is like—but there seems to be no agnosticism as to His existence. Can man by searching find out God? I think not. All we find is evidence of His power and presence. So that we have an acknowledgment of God. Second, there is a sincere desire to exalt the majesty of the works of God. We are lost in admiration at the process of development. Nature becomes a marvel of beauty, of symmetry, of order and of power. In that there is no disagreement. Third, the development of man is beyond the understanding of human intellect. The intricate machine of this body is such that medical men of the centuries have not found out its secrets. After a lifetime spent in studying the laws of our own bodies we at last give up in ignorance. Therefore, back of evolution, back of the place where science starts with knowledge, is a vast field uncharted. It staggers the intellect. Our wisdom, our knowing, is very limited. The real field of discussion upon vital facts is not on this side of the creation of life. Evolution starts with life, and if it would confine its investigation to the facts of life there would be little controversy. Religion acknowledges there may and must be development of life. First the blade, then the ear, then the full corn in the ear, is a quotation from the Bible. For centuries religion has been preaching rebirth as a necessity of spiritual life. There is no conflict there. Religion is not ignorant of the protoplasmic life, nor of the difference between a whiteweed and a Japanese chrysanthemum. The claim of religion is that when God created man He created a distinct specie of being, and that this specie has a resemblance to God, even if there is as much difference as between the whiteweed and the chrysanthemum. While evolution must start with life, religion goes back to its creation. It has a much wider field than science. It deals with both facts and faith, while science is duty-bound to prove all things by facts. Its field is limited by fact, or that which can be perceived by the senses of human nature, but it is lost when it enters the field of intuition in the animal, or faith in man. This is the place of confusion. In the months of discussion which will follow the Scopes trial, in the revision of our educational system, let us keep our minds clear as to the boundaries."

AMATEUR PHOTOGRAPHERS' WEEKLY PRIZE CONTEST

$2 each for all other photographs accepted for publication.

The first contest began Sunday and ends next Saturday evening. All pictures received during this week will be judged as entries in the first contest. All received after next Saturday and before the following Sunday will be entered in the second contest, and so on.

The first list of prize-winners will be announced August 9 and subsequent lists every Sunday thereafter.

Everybody is eligible except professional photographers and employees of The Times or their relatives. There are no geographical limitations on contestants except that, other things being equal, a Southern California photograph will be given the preference.

Address all pictures to Photo Contest Editor, The Times, Los Angeles, Cal.

The Times cannot undertake to return any pictures submitted.

Photographs submitted in this contest should be printed on No. 1 or single-weight paper, 5x7 or 8x10 in size. Write name and address and title of picture—if it has one—with a soft lead pencil on reverse of print. Don't lean on your pencil or the impression will show through. Tell where the picture was taken.

The Times reserves the right to call for and use the negative of any photograph accepted for publication. The negative will be returned to the owner after use.

The best results in rotogravure work are secured through the use of sharp photographs, with a good range of tone. Soft focus photographs are not generally desirable. An exception is where the picture is diffused to center attention on the part to be emphasized. Black copy is not acceptable. Most photographers find that the best results are obtained by the use of ferrotyped or glossy paper.

Every photograph submitted should tell a story which is so obvious or so provocative of thought that a caption or identifying line is not really necessary. Photography is an art; use it as an art.

SOUTH-SEA ROMANCE RIPENS

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Maybe Cupid's comfortable lack of clothing accounts for the fact that he seems to be taking no vacation during the dog days. Anyhow he seems as active as ever, especially in the film colony.

William J. Kelly

The latest victims of his bow-and-arrow technique are William J. Kelly, known to his intimates as Billy Kelly, stage and screen favorite, and Doris Breamer, who is a sister of the former screen star, Sylvia Breamer, who lately retired from professional life to marry. Kelly and Miss Breamer announce that they will be wed in October.

The romance of the two reads like one of these movie pulse-teasers. When Billy Kelly was leaving New York for a tour of Australia five years ago, after a farewell dinner given him by members of the Lambs' Club, following his long appearance on Broadway, D. F. McSweeney called out to him as a farewell message, "Be sure and meet Sylvia Breamer's sweet sister, Doris!"

Naturally Kelly, busy with his new Australian activities, forgot all about the message.

Oddly enough, Doris Breamer, on Kelly's opening night in Sydney, was sitting with her mother in the second row of the Criterion Theater. When the first act was over, she turned to her mother and said, "I would like to know that man," speaking of Kelly.

Still more oddly, they actually did meet, without any idea it was going to happen, at a Sydney party, the very next week. They were drawn to each other at once, met often, with Kelly becoming very attentive, and when Miss Breamer left with her mother for a tour of England and America, the two corresponded. She came back just as Kelly was leaving for New Zealand. They kept on writing to each other, and by this time there was something akin to an engagement between them.

A few weeks ago Miss Breamer wrote that she and her mother were coming to Hollywood to visit Miss Breamer's sister. They arrived—and it was on the very first evening Miss Breamer and Kelly met again that the actor slipped a diamond engagement ring on his fiancee's finger.

This will be the first marital venture for both Kelly and his fiancee.

Kelly was the original "Ben Hur" on the road. He played this part several hundred times. Afterward he became a Broadway matinee idol playing in Clyde Fitch's "The Truth" with Clara Bloodgood; he created one of the important roles in J. Hartley Manners's "The House Next Door;" was featured the next season with Wilton Lackaye in "The Battle," and later created the role of Georges Arnaud in David Belasco's "The Lily." Other leads were played by him in New York in 'Every Wife," "The Melody of Youth," "Terry," "Upstairs and Down" and "Seven Days' Leave." He was featured with Mary Nash in Willard Mack's war play, "The Big Chance." Since coming to Hollywood Kelly has appeared with Pola Negri in "Lily of the Dust" and several other films.

LAST WEEK FOR REINER AT BOWL

Arranges Sparkling Numbers for Final Concerts

Van Hoogstraten Will Take Conductor's Stand

Popular Selections Listed for Next Friday

As a concluding gesture to Los Angeles, Fritz Reiner, conductor of the Hollywood Bowl, who conducts his last concert next Saturday, has arranged sparkling programs for his last four concerts. His directorship has attracted the largest crowds ever to attend the Bowl concerts, according to officials.

Last Saturday another capacity Bowl audience heard Alice Gentle, dramatic soprano, in her annual concert.

Following his final performance, Reiner will leave for New York to fill his engagement as guest conductor of the Philharmonic Orchestra at the Yankee Stadium. William Van Hoogstraten, home conductor there, in the meantime, will be on his way to Los Angeles to lead the Bowl Orchestra the fifth week. Van Hoogstraten, the young Dutch conductor, will be heard in concert Thursday, Friday and Saturday after Ethel Leginska, celebrated pianiste, who arrived last Friday, opens the week Tuesday, August 4.

An all-Wagner concert has been arranged for Tuesday. Lighter numbers vary the usually heavy classical selections of the German composer. Marguerite Melville Liszniewska, noted pianiste, who arrived from San Francisco Saturday, will be guest artist Thursday, playing Saint-Saens's "G Minor concerto." On the same program the ballet "Petrouschka" of Igor Strawinsky will be repeated and Tschaikowsky's popular "Overture 1812" given.

A program featuring popular selections has been arranged for Friday. Brahm's "Three Hungarian Dances," "The Sorcerer's Apprentice" by the French humorist Paul Ducas, and the widely-known "Blue Danube" waltz of Johann Strauss fill out the program. Three selections Saturday wind up Reiner's tenure. He opens with the "New World" symphony by Dvorak, followed by Strawinsky's "Fire Bird" suite and Wagner's overture from "Tannhauser."

DAVID KLING HUNTING FOR LOST HEIRS

Local Attorney Reported Seeking Three Cousins In Minnesota

David G. Kling, local attorney, who is in Minneapolis attending to legal business for a client, was reported yesterday by eastern press dispatches to be searching for four heirs which he intends to include in a new draft of his will now being prepared.

At his residence, 1588 West Twenty-third street, last night, his aged mother said she knows Kling is in Minneapolis but has heard nothing of a search for lost relatives.

Kling's estate is said to be worth $140,000 and it is reported there is an amount greater than the present value of his property he has not yet discovered that was left without any trace by his father in a safety deposit box here.

Leaving but a few visible effects, Guest A. Kling, the father, died here in 1921 while trying to tell his relatives where he had hidden a sum of money, his widow said last night.

She is disinclined to believe that the sum was more than a few hundred dollars, and said that her husband was a comparatively poor man during the later years of his life, although he was very wealthy when a young man in Norway many years ago.

The people for whom Mr. Kling is said to be searching in Minneapolis are three women whose maiden names are Anna Carlson, 36 years of age; Ruth Carlson, about 24, and Julia Hutton, 37. There is also a brother of the Carlson girls whose first name is unknown. The three Carlson children are asserted to be those of a sister of Mr. Kling's father.

Mrs. Kling said that her husband had many relatives in Minneapolis, but that their names were unknown to her.

MILLIONS UNDER MANDATE SYSTEM

If the League of Nations is to become a really effective agency of world peace, it cannot ignore the tremendously complex relationship existing between the ten colonial powers and the millions of colored men under their control. Indeed, this problem has already been thrust upon the League in the case of some 6,500,000 Arabic and Kurdish peoples taken away from Turkey and of about 11,000,000 natives of Africa and inhabitants of islands in the Pacific taken away from Germany as a result of the last war. The League has not been intrusted with the actual government of these peoples, a task which an international body could scarcely assume. From the administrative standpoint they are divided into thirteen different groups called "mandates," each under the "tutelage" of a single power. France has received a mandate over three such groups—two in Africa and one in Syria. The British Empire proper has received a mandate over five groups—three in Africa, one in Palestine and one, Nauru Island, in the Pacific. In addition, the Union of South Africa has a mandate over Southwest Africa, New Zealand over Samoa, and Australia over former German New Guinea and the neighboring islands. Japan has a mandate over the former German islands in the Northern Pacific, while Belgium has "tutelage" over part of former German East Africa.

The powers, it is prescribed, govern these peoples "on behalf" of the League as a sacred trust of civilization." — [Raymond Leslie Buell, department of government, Harvard University in June Current History Magazine.

MASSAGE TOO STRENUOUS

Masseur Accused of Beating Up Rich Family in Row Over Boy's Asserted Friendship for His Wife

After an afternoon and evening spent in fisticuffs, first with members of a wealthy Burbank family and then with his own, Walter Brine, a masseur at the Bimini Baths, was locked up last night in the Burbank jail on a charge of disturbing the peace. The complainant was C. F. Riggins, owner of a large estate in Magnolia Park, Burbank. In his first outburst Brine is said to have battled with Riggins, his wife, Mrs. Etta Riggins, and their son, Frank Riggins, 20 years of age.

Released on $100 bail, Brine, according to the police, went to his own home at 935 Kenwood avenue, Burbank, smashed up the furniture and wrestled his own family around.

RESENTED FRIENDSHIP

The embattled masseur told the police, they say, he assailed the Riggins family in their own home in an effort to break up the friendship between his wife and young Riggins. He declared this friendship had begun last Thanksgiving and had continued with the full knowledge of Riggins's parents.

On one occasion, he asserted, Frank Riggins broke a door in his home in an effort to enter while Brine was on night duty at the Bimini Baths. The senior Riggins said Brine's charges were absurd.

Brine laid his plans carefully yesterday for an attack on the Riggins stronghold, according to the police, by taking his wife and family and one of the Riggins girls to the Bimini Baths for a swim. While they were in the pool he drove back to Burbank and set upon the three, son, father and mother being about equally battered in the struggle. Brine also showed signs of many blows when he was arrested on a warrant sworn out by Riggins, the police said.

"I warned both the father and the son that the son must keep away from my home," Brine told the police. "I warned them time and again. I went out there today to show them I meant business."

RELATION INNOCENT

Despite the difference in worldly possessions, there was close friendship between the Brine and Riggins families, the police said they learned. C. F. Riggins told the police, they said, that his son had taken Mrs. Brine about when her husband was on duty, with his full knowledge and consent, and that their relationship was entirely innocent.

Brine was examined by a physician when he was taken to the police station the second time and was pronounced very much excited but apparently otherwise normal. His bail was canceled and he was placed in a cell for the night. He will have a hearing today before Police Judge Watson at Burbank.

CITY INDORSES FILM FETE

Mayor Issues Proclamation Urging Participation in Greater Movie Season Activities

Urging all commercial bodies and citizens to support greater movie season, Mayor George E. Cryer has issued a proclamation indorsing the movement and the greater movie season parade to be held next Friday.

Mayor Cryer's statement reads: "I wish to call the attention of our people to a movement that has been inaugurated and which is known as Greater Movie Season.

ALL PARTICIPATE

"This is a concentrated effort to bring before the public the importance and the possibility of the motion-picture industry. In it the producers, distributors, exhibitors and stars will actively participate.

"With the thought of stimulating the public at this time to the importance and value of the screen and its product, and the prominent place the industry holds in the financial and commercial welfare of this community, I hereby designate the month of August, 1925, as Greater Movie Season.

"May I urge the commercial bodies, and the citizens generally, to unite in a period of increased endeavor and interest in the upbuilding of the industry."

CHOICEST PICTURES

By special arrangement with the studios, Los Angeles theaters will have their pick of $200,000,000 worth of photoplays just finished at the studios, pictures which will not be seen elsewhere in America for many months to come.

MEADOWS CASE UP TODAY

Asserted Pseudo-Attorney and Two Others Must Take Sentences or File Appeals

Found guilty last Friday of conspiring to violate the Federal laws by forging, dealing in and possessing Liberty Bonds said to have been stolen in December, 1920, from the State Bank of Richlands, Neb., Rush Meadows, Fred T. Keller and Charles Sweeney must appear before Federal Judge Sheppard at 10 o'clock this morning either prepared to be sentenced or file papers for an appeal of their case.

Meadows, through his attorneys, Paul Schenck and Russell Graham, last week asserted that he will carry his case to the Circuit Court of Appeals. Keller and Sweeney were silent as they threaded their way through the crowded corridors to the jail cell that they have occupied since their arrest on May 1, last.

Meadows, former U.S.C. football player and asserted pseudo-attorney, also is scheduled to be tried this morning on a charge of violating the Harrison Narcotic Act by illegally purchasing $11,000 worth of French cocaine. The drugs were found in the home of Keller, who said the narcotics and $15,000 worth of bonds had been given to him by Meadows while he was employed by him as a chauffeur.

David Learner, self-admitted dispenser of intoxicating liquor, also is scheduled to be tried this morning before Judge Sheppard. He is charged with conspiring to violate the Federal law by possessing, dealing in and forging bonds. He turned evidence against his three codefendants and explained the presence of $800 worth of the bonds in his home as having been given to him as security for payment of fifty cases of liquor, purchased by Meadows.

The World's Railroads

Totaling approximately 750,000 miles, according to figures prepared by the National City Bank of New York, the world's railroads, if placed in a single line, would reach to the moon and back and encircle the globe nearly eleven times. This amount represents an increase of 250,000 miles since 1900. Nearly all of the mileage has been built in the last seventy-four years for, in 1850, the world boasted only 25,000 miles of lines, less than is owned now by a single great system in the United States. About 35 per cent of the railroads are under government ownership, it is estimated. Conditions of government control and operation vary in different countries, and in the United States, Great Britain and Spain practically all the lines are under private ownership.—[Popular Mechanics.

Dangerous Experiment

Mr. and Mrs. Author were going out for the evening. They had engaged a new nurse and she was left in charge of the children for the first time.

"Dear," remarked Mrs. Author, as she came downstairs, "I looked into the nursery and noticed nurse was reading. Who gave her the book?"

"I did," replied her husband.

"What book is it?"

"My last," he answered.

"Darling," exclaimed his wife. "And you know how important it is that she should not go to sleep!"

The auto may have some advantages over the horse, but at least they didn't have to draw diagrams on the streets to show old dobbin how to get around corners.—[Cincinnati Enquirer.

MIDDLE AGE NO SUBJECT FOR PITY

I was trying to be tactful—as one does when speaking of age to a middle-aged woman—but she looked at me with amusement.

"My dear," she said, "both you and I know I shall never see forty again, and I am not in the least afraid of saying it, so you need not be."

It was a new point of view to me, so I asked her to explain.

"Oh, there are plenty of us if you know where to find us," she said. "We have our own good times, and the joys of middle age are some that youth can never share."

She pointed out that the middle-aged woman has generally passed those disturbing partings of the ways: "Shall I marry?" "Shall I make a career and develop my own individuality?" which are so hampering to youth. She sees the years ahead in some sort of ordered sequence, and in a great measure at her own command, for she knows what she wants now, and can make for it.

The woman who does not mind looking middle-aged has another pleasure denied to youth; she and her opinions are accepted seriously by her friends and relations, and men folks are ready to seek her out in their troubles and joys, for she can discuss, with a woman's quick wit and a sincere interest the subjects that they would never dream of exposing to Miss Twenty's hasty judgment.

The middle-aged woman is the only really emancipated one, for she can travel alone, live alone and work alone, without the complications that beset youth, however defiant or determined it may be.

She can afford to go her own way without fear, and is like one who has battled all day with the forces of nature and now returns home to find warm, quiet leisure to pursue her real inclinations.

Middle-aged women have many compensations if they know where to look for them, and few of them would go back to those early twenties if they could, with their disturbing emotions and uncertain future. Youth's joys can be as overrated as middle age is overpitied.—[M. P. in Continental Edition of the London Mail.

PLAY REHEARSALS

Minor Points to Be Settled Assume a Mighty Importance

Rehearsals are trying periods. Every body seems to be wearing his nerves outside his skin. The question whether the actor should take three steps to the right, and pause his left hand on the back of a chair, center, before proposing to the heroine; or whether he should do it from the hearthrug, with his left elbow on the mantlepiece, may threaten the friendship of a lifetime.

The author wants him to do it from the hearthrug—is convinced that from there and there only can he convey to the heroine the depth and sincerity of his passion. The producer is positive that a true gentleman would walk around the top of the table and do it from behind a chair. The actor comes to the rescue. He "feels" he can do it only from the left-hand bottom corner of the table.

"Oh, well, if you feel as strongly about it as all that, my dear boy," says the producer, "that ends it. It's you who've got to play the part."

"Do you know," says the author, "I think he's right. It does seem to come better from there."

The rehearsal proceeds. Five minutes later the argument whether a father would naturally curse his child before or after she has taken off her hat provides a new crisis.—[Jerome K. Jerome in Harper's Magazine.

MUSK OXEN IN NORWAY

Ten musk oxen, brought from Greenland recently on a sailing vessel, are spending the summer on Kjiholmen Island, off the west coast of Norway. It is hoped they will become used to the climate of Northern Europe. The flesh of these animals makes excellent eating as Arctic explorers can testify, and there is always a demand for them in zoological gardens. The most anxious time for those interested in the experiment will be during the summer. The natural habitat of the musk ox is among the bleak regions of Arctic America, and it is possible that they will not survive a more southern summer. There is also danger that they will bring about their own deaths through eating too greedily of the richer grass of Kjiholmen. — [Indianapolis News.

THE TRAVELERS

Four-year-old Bobby and 8-year-old Janet were amusing themselves with a game of "travels" in the garden.

Suddenly Janet cried: "Oh, dear! I must go back. I've forgotten my face powder."

"I must go back!" Bobby immediately repeated. "I've forgotten my powder, too."

RUSE REVEALED BY BOBBED HAIR

New Jersey Girl Masquerades as Boy

Disguise is Perfect Thrill for Two Hours

Then Policeman Takes Her to Headquarters

UNION CITY (N. J.) July 26.—Dorothy Miller, 15 years of age, school girl, of 36 Lukhart Place, Fairview, wanted to be a boy. She succeeded in playing the role for a time, but her light brown hair that crept from beneath a new straw hat gave her away to Special Officer Budin, of the North Bergen police after she had been in the local amusement park but an hour.

Mrs. Miller had called Dorothy shortly after 9 o'clock and handing her a check for $47 told her to go to the bank and cash it. Dorothy went to her room and in a few minutes had slipped into her father's trousers, a tan shirt and boy's shoes, placing her dress over them. She slipped out, went to the bank and cashed the check. Taking a side street the girl followed it to the woods and discarded her outer dress. She appeared on the street as a full-fledged boy. She paid a dollar for a straw hat and continued on her way.

The first two hours of her disguise was a perfect thrill. She wandered along, stopping at the stores, bought an ice cream soda and invested a quarter in chocolates. Men and women alike stared at her and she almost strutted when noticing a group of young men approach. She wished that she had a cigarette to carry out her little plot still better.

The amusement park proved to be her final stopping place. She walked about inside the park, enjoyed a glass of orangeade and sauntered toward the "Crazy House." She could go through the place without fear tearing of her dress this time. Several of the cashiers saw her and wondered if "he" were really a boy.

Special Officer Budin decided the question.

"Hello, there; what are you doing here?" he asked.

"Are you a boy," asked Budin, edging closer and noting the light brown bobbed hair protruding from beneath the rim of the straw hat.

"Sure, I'm a boy," replied Dorothy, almost indignantly.

"You'll have to prove it at the station house," said the officer, as he moved toward the now frightened Dorothy. "Come along."

Dorothy confessed. "Yes, I'm a girl," she said. She did not cry. She willingly accompanied the officer to North Bergen police headquarters. Her father was notified and took Dorothy home, promising a taste of home discipline.

When searched Dorothy gave up $43.70 that remained of the $47 check. Miller explained that his daughter had pestered him to allow her to go to work. She has been known as an excellent student.

SLAPPING ISSUE BEFORE COURT

WEEHAWKEN (N. J.) July 26. Did Bobby Kennan, 5 years of age, of 129 Oak street, Weehawken, get his bloody nose by being smartly slapped, or did he fall down? That was the momentous question that brought several well-known local women, two of them with lawyers, to the Police Court before Magistrate William Maher.

Bobby's mother, Mrs. Mary I. Kennan, charged that Mrs. Lillian Hellinghaus, 30 years of age, of 103 Oak street, slapped her pride and joy on the street June 29, last, so that the youngster's nose bled copiously. The defendant asserted she did not strike the lad, saying all she did was to "scold him with her finger."

There were no adult witnesses for the complainant, but Bobby's two playmates, Ross Manley, 5 years of age, and Thomas Hetherly, 3, testified in his behalf. Being so young, however, the boys made unsatisfactory witness, for they partly contradicted themselves when questions were put to them on cross-examination by Counselor William S. Stuhr, who represented the defendant. They said "yes" no matter what question was put to them.

Mrs. Hellinghaus testified in her own defense, as did two of her friends, Mrs. Julia Elsinger, and Mrs. Virginia Purtill. Being inexperienced in courtroom procedure Mrs. Purtill became huffed and made crisp answers when she thought irrelevant questions were put to her by counsel for the complainant, Harry Stiles of Hoboken.

An absolute denial was made by Mrs. Hellinghaus in regard to the charges against her. She declared she had been sitting on her porch that afternoon when she heard her own "Junior" scream. He had been struck on the hand by Bobby across the street. She went leisurely across the street, she declared, with the intention of "sending Bobby back where he belonged."

When she got over there, she continued, she noticed that Bobby was bleeding from the nose. She scolded him "with her finger" and he sneaked past her and ran home. She did not know how he came by the bloody nose, but she was positive she did not hit him.

Mrs. Elsinger testified Mrs. Hellinghaus did not strike the lad. Mrs. Purtill testified that Mrs. Kennan said Bobby had fallen and thus received the bloody nose.

The legal talent summed up at considerable length. Magistrate Maher dismissed the case, saying the evidence was insufficient to hold the defendant.

NEGRESS TO GIVE FLIGHT EXHIBITION

Bessie Coleman Arranging for Apperance Next Month in San Antonio

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) July 26. Heralded as the only negro woman flyer in the world, Bessie Coleman, aviatrix, arrived here to arrange for an aerial exhibition August 9, next.

The negress holds an airplane pilot's license issued by the International Aeronautical Federation, with headquarters in Paris, France. The license was also issued by the French chapter of the federation, as she received her flying instruction in that country.

The aviatrix is a native of Texas, having been born in Atlanta, in East Texas. She became interested in aviation during the war while in Canada. In 1921 she went to France and took training at a French flying school.

She is credited with being the first American to fly over Potsdam. This was in 1921 while doing exhibition flying for a commercial concern.

Like all flyers who have been in the game any length of time, she has had her portion of accidents. Her plane crashed at Santa Monica, Cal., in 1923.

FOUNTAIN POOL BARRED TO BOYS

NEW YORK, July 26.—New York's City Hall fountain pool, where the sculptured form of civic virtue presides, must not be used as a public bath for boys except on "swelteringly hot" days. An unofficial order to that effect was issued by Mayor Hylan. Even on days considered sufficiently hot to permit the lifting of the ban, bathing must not begin until 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The police who patrol the park will be the judges of what might be termed "swelteringly hot."

The pool was turned into a public bath one day last month and receiving the winking sanction of the Mayor through a coincidence out of which lower East Side boys have daily made capital when the Mayor stopped a policeman who was chasing a number of bathers from the pool. Within twenty-four hours word spread from Burling Slip to the Manhattan Bridge that Mayor Hylan permitted bathing in the City Hall fountain. As a matter of fact, the Mayor had merely condoned it for a day.

The bathing in the park fountain became more popular as the fame of the classic marble pool spread over to the lower West Side. The corridors of City Hall and the steps became dressing places for the swimmers. At
